PRESIDENT'S WELCOME MESSAGE

Welcome to beautiful Huntingdon College! Here, you are part of a 150-year tradition of higher learning. Huntingdon College is a community of faith and wisdom preparing skilled leaders to serve a new world.

A private liberal arts college related to the United Methodist Church, Huntingdon is respected as one of the best national liberal arts colleges in the country. Bright and dedicated faculty, engaging classroom and field experiences, an active student life program, and countless opportunities to be involved outside the classroom will open your mind to a world of promise for your future. At Huntingdon, you will be known. As you embark upon the best and most important years of your life, please know that the Huntingdon community is here to support your success and growth—spiritually, academically, socially, and professionally—every day, in every way. You will be a different person when you graduate: one who owns your own beliefs, one who is confident in your own abilities, and one who is prepared for success in the “real world.”

See you around campus!
With warm regards,

INTRODUCING HUNTINGDON COLLEGE

PURPOSE

Huntingdon College is a private, liberal arts college related to The United Methodist Church. Its purpose is to inspire and foster independent, critical, and creative thinkers who value knowledge for its own sake and as a means to actively contribute to society. Continuing its tradition of personal attention within a diverse learning community, Huntingdon College prepares students for meaningful interaction in a complex and competitive world through self-reliance, excellence, and wisdom.

INSTITUTIONAL VALUES

Huntingdon College is an academic community that values the worth and dignity of each person and is deeply committed to reaching its purpose by furthering the following values and ideals:

FREEDOM AND FLEXIBILITY OF THOUGHT:

The capacity to demonstrate critical thinking skills by generating new insights, examining assumptions, and challenging assertions on a wide range of topics.

COMMUNITY:

The appreciation for the importance of the individual to the academic community and for the value of forming enduring friendships based on admiration and respect through personal interactions among students and teachers, both in and out of class.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH:

The ability to articulate an understanding of the spiritual and ethical foundations which students will use to conduct their lives, and the cultural and religious principles to which they adhere.

SERVICE:

The acknowledgment of the interdependence of the educated individual and society and the ability to recognize opportunities to integrate ideas and connect thought to action in service.

KNOWLEDGE OF A MAJOR FIELD OF STUDY:

The attainment of knowledge in a discipline or interdisciplinary program that will prepare students for success in graduate school, professional programs, employment in their field or related fields of study, and continued professional development.

ANALYTICAL SKILLS:

The ability to use basic research methods, synthesize information across disciplines, and apply analytical skills in areas of intellectual inquiry to scientific, mathematical, social, aesthetic, literary, historical, philosophical, physical, and other ways of knowing.

COMMUNICATION:

The attainment of exceptional oral and written communication skills, exhibiting a basic proficiency in a second language, and being adept at using information technology.

CHURCH RELATIONS:

The continuation of a of commitment established in 1854 to church-related education where Huntingdon College and The United Methodist Church value an inclusive and celebrative atmosphere that nurtures and supports the faith journeys of students, faculty, and staff; and prepares students, regardless of social standing, ethnic identity, or gender, for lives of intellectual vigor, moral integrity, and spiritual fulfillment, not just as personal benefit, but for leadership in the 21st century.

AESTHETIC EXPRESSION:

The ability to stimulate the imagination and appreciate the arts through expressions of artistic creativity or by participation in artistic events.

DIVERSE CULTURAL UNDERSTANDING:

The capacity to understand the cultural heritage of western civilization, examine cultural assumptions, and cultivate an expanded awareness of cultures through study and travel.

LIFE-LONG LOVE OF LEARNING:

The joy of continued intellectual, social, artistic, and spiritual growth throughout life.

Huntingdon College is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097, 404-679-4501), to award the Bachelor of Arts Degree and the Associate of Arts Degree. It also holds membership in the Association of Schools and Colleges of the United Methodist Church, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the National Association of Schools of Music, the Cooperative Center for Study Abroad, the Council of Independent Colleges Tuition Exchange, the Alabama Consortium for the Development of Higher Education, the Tuition Exchange Incorporated, the Marine Environmental Sciences Consortium, the Montgomery Higher Education Consortium, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), and has provisional membership in the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division III. Huntingdon is also on the approved lists of the University Senate of the United Methodist Church, the American Association of University Women and the Alabama State Board of Education.

HUNTINGDON YESTERDAY AND TODAY

“Enter to Grow in Wisdom. Go Forth to Apply Wisdom in Service.”

The inscription engraved in stone over the entrance to majestic Flowers Hall is a tangible reminder of the mission of Huntingdon College. Since its founding in 1854, thousands of young men and women have come to its hallowed halls in search of wisdom. Upon graduation, Huntingdon alumni have taken their places in the service of others, as teachers, ministers, physicians, scientists, and business and civic leaders.

Huntingdon College began operations on February 2, 1854 when its charter was signed by Alabama Governor John Winston. Chartered as the Tuskegee Female College, this was the first of four names under which the college has operated. The cornerstone for the new college building in Tuskegee was laid on April 9, 1855, and on February 11, 1856, the doors of the new school were officially opened, under the leadership of Dr. Andrew A. Lipscomb, the first of only 14 presidents in its history. There were four students in the first graduating class of 1856. By September, 1859, the average enrollment was up to 216, and 29 young women were in the graduating class that year.

The College has been sponsored since its inception by the Methodist Church, and in 1872, came under the auspices of the Alabama Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and was renamed the Alabama Conference Female College.

As early as 1906, it became evident that because of the changes brought about by the Civil War and by population shifts away from Tuskegee, the growth of the college would be enhanced by relocation to an urban environment. Dr. John Massey, who assumed the presidency of the College in 1876, began the planning and efforts which eventually led to the College being moved to its present location in Montgomery. J.G. Thomas, a landowner in the Cloverdale section of town, then agreed to sell a 50-acre parcel of land to three friends of the College. The land which, when surveyed, turned out to be 58 acres, was bought at $100 an acre and in turn donated to the college. The newly relocated college opened as the Woman’s College of Alabama in the fall of 1910 after a number of setbacks, the most memorable of which was a fire that destroyed the records of the College’s first half-century.

Many changes have taken place since the College moved to Montgomery. For example, John Jefferson Flowers Memorial Hall, the most recognizable landmark of the school was once the only building on campus. There are now more than twenty buildings, including residence halls, a dining hall, two gymnasias and a student center. The College admitted the first male student in 1934 and became coeducational in 1946. Full-time male resident students were admitted in 1954. Under the leadership of Dr. Walter Agnew, the school was renamed Huntingdon College in 1935, in honor of Selina, Countess of Huntingdon, an early supporter of Methodism.

MONTGOMERY

Montgomery is a city that combines Old South charm and New South dazzle. Students are minutes away from a variety of cultural and educational attractions, including the Alabama Shakespeare Festival; several concert series; a civic ballet; a fine arts museum; the state archives and legislature; international business centers and offices; major laboratories; and countless historical landmarks.

As the capital of the Confederacy and the birthplace of the Civil Rights Movement, Montgomery has definitely secured its place in American history. In 1861, the eyes of the nation turned to Montgomery as Jefferson Davis was sworn in as president of the Confederate States of America. Nearly a century later, Rosa Parks refused to give up her seat on a city bus and ushered in a new era of social change across the nation. In 1965, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., ended the Selma-to-Montgomery Civil Rights March on the steps of the capitol, a block away from the church where he began his career as a minister. In addition to a permanent starring role in history as the birthplace of the Confederate States and the Civil Rights Movement, Montgomery has made some center stage appearances in other major productions. The country’s first electric streetcar system began operating in Montgomery in 1886. And in 1910, the Wright Brothers brought their daring aviation deeds to Alabama’s capital city, establishing the nation’s first school for powered flight.

In addition to this historical and cultural diversity, Alabama's capital city is a unique combination of natural and man-made assets. Nature has given the city gently rolling hills and a thick and inviting stand of century-old trees which arch the streets. Nearby, Lakes Martin and Jordan, as well as many wooded areas and rivers, provide a variety of recreational opportunities. Located within easy driving distance of Birmingham (90 miles), Atlanta (170 miles), the Gulf of Mexico (160 miles), and New Orleans (300 miles), Montgomery enjoys a pleasant climate featuring warm summers and mild winters.

THE MAIN CAMPUS

Huntingdon's main campus is a fifty-eight acre naturally picturesque park and is adjacent to one of Montgomery's most beautiful neighborhoods, Old Cloverdale. Eighteen buildings of primarily Gothic design extend along a semicircular ridge overlooking the Green, a lush wooded area and natural amphitheater. The harmony and beauty of the landscape in relation to the Gothic buildings owe much to the original campus design of 1908 by the Olmsted brothers. Members of the Olmsted family were the landscape architects for the Biltmore Estate in Asheville, North Carolina and the Great Mall in Washington, D.C., and served as landscape consultants for such colleges and universities as Harvard, Yale, Johns Hopkins, Smith, and Wellesley.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

John Jefferson Flowers Memorial Hall (1909) is the central figure of a handsome group of collegiate Gothic buildings. Built of rough-faced brick made especially for the purpose and trimmed in limestone with heavy "reveals" and classic carvings, Flowers Hall compares favorably with the Victorian Gothic architecture at Oxford and Cambridge universities. The first floor features an entrance hall with a vaulted ceiling and leads to a traditional chapel reminiscent of the chapel at St. John's College, Cambridge. The Ligon Chapel seats over five hundred and is notable for its wainscoted brick walls and for its impressive vaulted ceiling terminating sixty-five feet above the floor. A 114-rank pipe organ designed by Huntingdon professor Harald Rohlig, has recently been refurbished and reinstalled. On either side of the Ligon Chapel are open-air cloisters with beautiful limestone tracery windows and tiled floors. Though Mr. Flowers did not live to see this extraordinary building which bears his name, his widow and children saw to its completion at an original cost of $125,000. Today Flowers Hall continues to serve as the centerpiece of the College and Huntingdon's symbol of tradition and quality.

Julia A. Pratt Hall (1912) bears the name of one whose loyal friendship and generosity the College enjoyed from its beginning, Ms. Julia A. Pratt, of Prattville, Alabama. This building of brick and stone followed the same general lines of the collegiate Gothic so admired in the Flowers Memorial Hall. The Hall was originally constructed as a residence for the President and his family, faculty and students.

Massey Memorial Hall (1916) was the third of this group to be located on the campus and in style and architecture corresponds to the Julia A. Pratt Hall. This building was worthily named for Dr. John Massey, whose life and labors contributed so largely to the successful relocating of Huntingdon College in Montgomery.

Student Development Center (1922), commonly referred to as "the Hut," was constructed as the YWCA Building, a social center for the College, and built through the generous contributions of the students and equaled dollar for dollar by the College treasury.

Miriam Jackson Home (1924) was the gift of Dr. and Mrs. Fred M. Jackson of Birmingham, Alabama. Originally used as the infirmary, it was constructed of variegated oriental brick with stone trimming.

Weenona Hanson Hall (1924) bears the name of Mrs. Victor H. Hanson and was made possible by the generous gift of Mr. Hanson together with a subscription fund which was provided by the citizens of Montgomery.

The Art Gallery (1927) was constructed as the “Toy Theater” providing all the amenities of a modern theater of that period. In 1972, when it no longer met the needs of the Theater Department, it was renovated to meet the long felt need for an area to exhibit student art works, as well as visiting art shows.

Bellingrath Hall (1928) was built as the science hall and named in appreciation for a generous gift from Mrs. W. A. Bellingrath of Montgomery.

Houghton Memorial Library (1929) was made possible by a gift from the heirs of Mr. Mitchell B. Houghton, who was a member of the Board of Trustees from its first organization until his death on November 4, 1925. This handsome facility is conducive to both study and recreational reading. The Gothic architecture is enhanced on the interior by intricate woodwork, arched doorways, original wood furnishings, and the College’s permanent art collection. Through the generosity of the Dixon family, the construction of the Charles and Thelma Dixon Wing of the Houghton Memorial Library was completed in the spring of 1989. The Dixon Wing, which features an atrium with skylight, provides additional study areas, greatly expanded stack space for a growing book collection, a designated area for archives and special collections of the College and of the Alabama-West Florida Conference of The United Methodist Church.

John E. Trimble Memorial Building (1936) was made possible by a gift from the estate of Mr. Trimble, a native of Alabama and a longtime resident of Montgomery.

Ligon Memorial Hall (1947) is named in honor of the late Robert Fulwood Ligon and his son. It continues to serve as a residence hall. Room options are double occupancy or single room upon availability. Each room is equipped with private phone lines with voice mail and access to the Internet and e-mail. Also provided are a refrigerator and connections for cable television in each room.

The President’s Home (1949) serves not only as the residence of the President, but also as a beautiful setting for receptions and informal gatherings during the course of a college year. The President’s home was given to the College by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Delchamps, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Delchamps and Miss Annie Delchamps of Mobile. It was dedicated in 1950 to “The glory of God and the service of this institution.”

The Delchamps Student Center (1958) provides a multipurpose facility. The building holds a 1500 seat gymnasium for basketball and volleyball, a fitness training facility with fixed and free weight machines, locker rooms, and dance studios. The facility also contains the Huntingdon Athletic Hall of Fame, the College Bookstore, the Snack Bar, and the Post Office.

The Julia Walker Russell Dining Hall (1963) is the first building on campus to be named for an alumna of the College. It houses three very attractive dining rooms. The largest, which was remodeled in 1999, has seating for up to 500. The Mary Elizabeth Stallworth Dining Room and the President’s Dining Room accommodate smaller groups and organizations.

Hubert F. Searcy Hall (1970) is named in honor of the late Hubert F. Searcy, former Huntingdon College president, in recognition of thirty years of dedicated service. Remodeled in 1999, it continues to serve as a residence hall and is also available for use by individuals attending workshops, conferences, camps, and other activities on campus. Each room is equipped with a private phone line with voice mail and access to the Internet and e-mail. Also provided are a refrigerator and connections for cable television in each room.

Bowman Ecological Study Center (1981) is a protected area including a cabin, pond and grassy area where students may collect and study samples of plants, trees, and aquatic life. The Center, as well as an endowment for the continual maintenance of the facility, was a gift from Dorothy Bowman of Prattville.

Sybil Smith Hall (1985) is a modern, fully equipped music facility built in the Neo-Gothic style. It houses the Lucile Crowell Delchamps Recital Hall, the Julia Lightfoot Sellers Reception Hall, the faculty of the Music Program, lecture rooms, practice and rehearsal rooms, faculty studios, 24 pianos (18 grand and 6 studio pianos) and 4 organs, a modern electronic music laboratory, and one of the most extensive recording libraries in the South with more than 10,000 records, CDs, and tapes.

The James W. Wilson Center (1987), the gift of trustee James W. Wilson, Jr., was erected in honor of his father, James W. Wilson. This splendid facility houses the Computer Center, the Durr Amphitheater named in memory of James J. Durr, and the Bothfeld Lounge named in honor of Robert Bothfeld, Jr. The lecture rooms, student work stations, and study areas are comfortable and quiet. These rooms were especially designed for the academic areas housed in the building.

The Willard D. Top Stage (1993) is located on the Green and provides a stage setting for the natural amphitheater. During the 1995 Commencement Ceremony, the college community named the stage in honor of Dean Willard D. Top, Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean of the College from 1971-1995. It is used, weather permitting, for Commencement exercises each May, Homecoming in April, theater productions, and other outdoor activities.

Neal Posey Field (1994) was made possible through the generosity of members of the Huntingdon Athletic Hall of Fame, George S. Gibbs and the late Mary M. Gibbs, class of 1985. The baseball facility includes a raised spectator area, bleachers, and a field house constructed in a collegiate Gothic design and consisting of concession stands, rest rooms, and an integrated press box. The facility was named in honor of Neal N. Posey, who came to Huntingdon in 1957 to establish an intercollegiate athletic program and was head basketball coach until 1979 and Athletic Director until 1985.

The Carolyn and Wynton Blount Hall (1995), made possible in part by a gift of trustee Carolyn S. Blount and the late Wynton M. Blount, is a state-of-the-art facility that has living space for 284 male and female students. Each room is equipped with private phone lines, including voice mail, access to the Internet and e-mail. Also provided are connections for cable television in each room. The suite style housing offers a large living room, two double bedrooms, and two bathrooms. Cluster style housing offers a living room, three double bedrooms, and two and one-half bathrooms. Hotel style housing offers a double bedroom and a private bath. All housing options offer amenities including an energy efficient combination microwave/refrigerator/freezer, a kitchen sink and individual climate control.

THE CLOVERDALE CAMPUS

The Cloverdale Campus, acquired in 2002, is a twelve acre facility located across Fairview Avenue from the main campus. Formally opening on September 18, 1922, it was originally built as the Cloverdale School. Although initially housing all 12 grades, the facility was used by the Montgomery County School System as the Cloverdale Junior High School through June of 2002. The facilities include three academic buildings, a gymnasium, a football field and a field house.

ENTERING HUNTINGDON COLLEGE

ADMISSION

Huntingdon College welcomes applications from students who set high goals for themselves and who embrace the challenge to learn and the challenge to serve others. The admission process is individually oriented and based on each applicant's interests, goals, academic capabilities and college expectations.

Admission staff members are available to talk with students and families about the admission process and requirements, financial aid and scholarships, and arranging a campus visit. The Office of Admission will also provide a viewbook and other pertinent information as well as the appropriate application packet upon request.

Prospective students are strongly encouraged to visit the campus and to interview with an admission counselor. Campus visits and interviews may be scheduled Monday through Friday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM, and most Saturdays during the academic year, 9:00 AM to 12:00 noon. To arrange an appointment, call the Office of Admission at 800-763-0313 or 334-833-4497, e-mail the office at admiss@huntingdon.edu, or visit the College's site on the Worldwide Web at <http://www.huntingdon.edu>.

ADMISSION AS A NEW FRESHMAN

The College operates on a rolling admission basis for the fall and spring semesters. Prospective students are encouraged to apply as early as possible after completion of the junior year of high school.

BASIS OF SELECTION

Huntingdon College is a selective college. Admission decisions are based on a variety of factors, including a strong secondary school preparation demonstrated by course selection and grades, college entrance examination scores, individual achievements and interests, and other indications of ability to benefit from the college experience.

ACADEMIC PREPARATION

An official transcript of a prospective student's work should reflect a balanced academic program of at least fifteen units distributed as follows: English—4 units; Mathematics—3 units (including two units above Algebra I); Science—2 units; Social Studies or History—2 units; Foreign Language—2 units; Humanities—2 units.

A student should have a minimum of a 2.25 grade point average based on a 4.00 grading scale and rank in the top 50% of his/her graduating class. A student's grade point average will be recalculated and will be based solely on academic course work.

Applicants who have the General Educational Developmental (GED) diploma should have a minimum standard score of 35 on each subtest and an average standard score of at least 50 on all GED subtests. The Faculty Committee on Academic Standing will review the scores. An interview and/or other academic aptitude assessments, as well as letters of recommendation, may be required by the Committee.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

All freshman applicants should complete the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT I) or American College Test (ACT). The ideal candidate should have a combined SAT I score of at least 930 with a minimum SAT verbal score of 490, or an ACT composite score of at least 20 with a minimum English subscore of 20. A student should include the Huntingdon College code when requesting test results to be sent to the College. The College code number for SAT I is 1303; the ACT code number is 000180.

The College may administer a residual ACT on campus, but the test scores are only valid for use by Huntingdon College. Residual test scores are not accepted by NAIA or NCAA as certification of eligibility for student athletes.

FRESHMAN APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Upon completion of the application sequence described below, a student's credentials will be evaluated, and a decision will be communicated to the applicant as quickly as possible. A student should submit the following items:

1. A completed application form with a nonrefundable application fee of $25.00, or an on-line application with a non-refundable fee of $15;
2. Two official transcripts, one transcript to be sent at the time of application which should include the student's senior year class schedule and a second transcript sent upon completion of the student's senior year certifying graduation. Applicants who have the General Educational Developmental diploma (GED) must submit an official score report in addition to the high school transcript;
3. Official standardized test scores, either SAT I or ACT, sent directly from the agency. The student's credentials may be reviewed if scores are presented on the high school transcript, but an official score report should be requested and sent to the College;
4. A resumé of the student's activities, positions of leadership and service projects is optional, but encouraged.
5. A campus visit and interview are strongly recommended.

ENROLLMENT VERIFICATION PROCEDURES—FRESHMAN

An accepted freshman must acknowledge his/her decision to enroll at Huntingdon by submitting a deposit in the amount of $250 if the student will be a campus resident, or $200 if the student will commute from home. Huntingdon College observes the National Candidates Reply Date Agreement by not requiring verification of enrollment or acceptance of financial aid prior to the date established by the National Association for College Admission Counseling. Deposits are due May 1st for fall term and December 1st for spring term, or thirty days from the date of acceptance if accepted after April 1st or November 1st, respectively. Deposits are refundable if requested in writing before May 1st. Freshmen applicants are encouraged to notify the Office of Admission as soon as a firm decision has been reached. Additional financial aid, housing information, and course registration information will follow as soon as the decision to enroll is made.

All students are required to have health insurance (see the Student Handbook for details). Prior to registration new students must submit the completed Health Form to the Office of Admission, including the record of immunization. Immunizations must be up to date as outlined on the Health Form. A physical examination is not required.

Financial Aid and Scholarship procedures should also be completed in a timely manner. Please refer to the Financial Aid section in this catalog for specific information on the process.

Huntingdon is a residential campus. Policies and procedures relating to living on campus and options to live off campus can be found in the Student Life section of this catalog under Residence Hall Policies and Procedures and in the Student Handbook. It is very important that the completed Housing Forms and the deposit be sent as soon as a decision is made to enroll. Room assignments are made according to the date the form and deposit are received.

During the New Student Orientation session, each student will meet with an academic advisor to discuss the curriculum and to select classes for the fall or spring semester. While on campus, the student may contact the Office of Business and Finance to finalize financial arrangements. Arrangements must be finalized prior to the first day of classes.

All new students participate in the New Student Orientation and Retreat activities. New Student Orientation is held the week before classes begin and continues throughout the semester. Information on Orientation will be sent from the Office of Admission as plans are finalized.

ADMISSION AS A TRANSFER STUDENT

Huntingdon welcomes applications from qualified students who wish to transfer from other accredited colleges and universities. Transfer applicants are reviewed and admission decisions are reached as applications become complete.

BASIS OF SELECTION

A transfer student who has successfully completed at least 24 semester hours of academic courses at an accredited college or university with a minimum of a 2.25 or higher GPA is eligible for regular admission to Huntingdon. Applicants who do not meet this definition must meet the same admission criteria as all other freshman.

A transfer student must be in good academic standing at all previously attended institutions. Transfer applicants under academic or disciplinary suspension or dismissal from a previous institution cannot be admitted to Huntingdon until such sanctions are lifted.

TRANSFER APPLICATION PROCEDURES

To apply for admission as a transfer student, a student should submit the following:

1. A completed application with a nonrefundable application fee of $25; or an on-line application with a non-refundable fee of $15;
2. An official transcript from each of the colleges attended. If currently enrolled, a second transcript will be required indicating completion of the term and eligibility to return to the institution.

ENROLLMENT VERIFICATION PROCEDURES—TRANSFERS

An accepted transfer student must acknowledge the decision to enroll by submitting a tuition deposit of $250 if the student will be a campus resident, or $200 if the student will be a commuter. Policies and procedures relating to living on campus and options to live off campus can be found in the Student Life section in this catalog under Residential Life. Transfer students should keep in mind that room assignments are based on the date of receipt of a completed Residence Hall Reservation, Room and Board Contract form and the required deposit.

Transfer students are required to submit to the Office of Admission a completed Health Form, including a record of immunization and proof of health insurance, prior to registration.

Registration for transfer students is held the week before classes begin. During registration, each transfer student will meet with an academic advisor and discuss the remaining College core requirements, the curriculum, and course selections for the semester.

Before classes begin, transfer students must finalize their financial arrangements with the Office of Business and Finance in regard to tuition, room and board, and other fees.

ADMISSION OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Huntingdon College is pleased to receive and review applications for admission from international students. Since correspondence for international admission can be extensive and time consuming, it is strongly recommended that students apply by May 15th for the fall semester, and by October 15th for the spring semester.

BASIS OF SELECTION

Huntingdon is authorized under the United States Immigration and Nationality Act to enroll nonimmigrant alien students. These students are required to follow the prescribed admissions procedures below and to take either the Test of English as a Foreign Language examination (TOEFL), the SAT I, or the ACT, and to provide an official statement of financial resources sufficient to support educational costs.

ACADEMIC PREPARATION

An international freshman applicant must have above average grades (equivalent to a minimum of 2.40 grade point average based on a 4.00 grading scale) in a balanced academic curriculum from the secondary school. An international transfer student must be in good academic standing and eligible to return to the post-secondary institution last attended.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Huntingdon does not offer English as a Second Language (ESL) courses and therefore requires evidence of English proficiency for consideration of admission. If the native language is not English, proficiency should be substantiated by a minimum score of at least 500 on the written Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or 173 on the computer-based TOEFL; an SAT I combined score of 930 with a minimum SAT verbal score of 490; or an ACT composite score of at least 20, with a minimum English subscore of 20.

FINANCIAL VERIFICATION

All international students must have sufficient funds to cover tuition, fees, textbooks, living expenses, transportation expenses, and other incidental expenses while attending college in the United States. An applicant should be realistic in determining the extent of his/her personal financial resources relative to the total cost. Documentary evidence of means of financial support must be provided before admission decisions can be made.

Federal and State financial aid is not available to international students. Institutional financial aid may be available to highly qualified students. Information concerning financial aid and scholarships can be found in the section titled Financing a Huntingdon Education.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Upon completion of the application sequence described below, a student's credentials will be evaluated, and a decision will be communicated to the student as quickly as possible. An international student should submit the following items:

1. A completed Application for International Students form. All sections, including financial information, must be completed, certified, and signed;
2. A nonrefundable application fee of $25 (U.S. Currency);
3. Official academic transcripts from all secondary schools (high schools) and, if applicable, post-secondary schools (colleges or universities) attended. Transcript(s) in languages other than English must include official, certified English translations, authentic verifying statements, and signatures. Note: Huntingdon makes every effort to evaluate the transcripts of international students. However, in some cases, it may be necessary to obtain a certified evaluation of the transcript(s). If such an evaluation is required as part of the admission process, transfer of credit evaluation, or athletic eligibility certification process, the student must bear the cost of this professional evaluation. Information regarding approved evaluation agencies may be obtained by contacting the Office of Admission.
4. Entrance examination scores (i.e. TOEFL, SAT I, ACT) must be sent directly from the testing centers to the Office of Admission.

ENROLLMENT VERIFICATION PROCEDURES—INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

An accepted international student must acknowledge his or her decision to enroll at Huntingdon College by submitting the following items:

- A completed Health Form, including a record of immunization and proof of health insurance, must be sent to the Office of Admission. If a physician's statement is sent in addition to the Health Form, it must be sent directly from the physician to the Office of Admission. Information concerning student health insurance, which is available through Huntingdon College, may be found in the Student Life section of this catalog.

- A deposit is required equal to one semester's tuition, fees, room and board, books and miscellaneous fees and expenses, less any financial aid which would be applied to the first semester of attendance.

Upon receipt of the above items a Certificate of Eligibility—Non-Immigrant F-1 Student Status (Form I-20A) will be provided to the admitted student.

Huntingdon is a residential campus. Policies and procedures relating to living on campus and options to live off campus can be found in the Student Life section of this catalog under Residential Life. International students should keep in mind that residence hall rooms are assigned based on date of receipt of the completed Housing Forms and all deposits.

ADDITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

It is the student's responsibility to comply carefully with all nonimmigrant alien requirements as stated in the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service Laws and Regulations.

Upon receipt of the Form I-20A, the international student should apply for a student visa (F-1). Documented evidence of financial support must be attached to the Certificate of Eligibility when applying for the student visa at the United States Embassy or Consular Office. Passport processing can be quite lengthy. It is important to apply for the passport well in advance of the departure date.

A travel information form will be enclosed with the I-20A. The completed form should be returned to the Office of Admission when travel arrangements have been finalized.

ADMISSION TO THE HORIZONS PROGRAM

Huntingdon Horizons is a program designed for returning learners, aged 23 and older, who seek admission to the full-time day program at Huntingdon College. Horizons admission procedures differ slightly from those of traditionally aged students in order to appropriately assess each student's personal and professional accomplishments and goals, motivation to return to college and academic potential. For further information about the Horizons Program, contact the Office of Admission at 334-833-4497 or 800-763-0313.

BASIS OF SELECTION

Generally, evidence of student commitment to academic success and belief in liberal arts education, intellectual curiosity and ability, and open-mindedness are necessary for admittance into the Horizons Program. Grade Point Average (GPA) standards for regular admission of traditional students will be maintained, but Horizons students will not be required to submit college entrance examination (ACT or SAT I) scores. Adults pursuing degree or certificate programs must be accepted as regular students.

As freshman one may be unconditionally admitted to the Horizons Program if he or she is a high school graduate with an academic grade point average of at least 2.25 on a 4.0 scale. Students awarded diplomas through the GED examination should have a minimum score of 35 on each of the subtests and an average standard score of at least 50 on all GED subtests.

A transfer applicant may be admitted if he or she has earned a minimum of a 2.25 or higher on all work attempted at the post-secondary level. The majority of the course work must be in college-level academic subjects. Transfer applicants cannot be admitted if they are under suspension or dismissal from another institution.

Freshman and transfer applicants not meeting these requirements will be reviewed by the Faculty Committee on Academic Standing.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

To apply for admission to the Horizons Program a student should submit the following:

1. A completed Horizons application with a nonrefundable application fee of $25; or an on-line application with a non-refundable fee of $15;
2. An essay or personal statement;
3. Two letters of recommendation;
4. A personal interview with the Director of Admission or the Dean of the College;
5. All official transcripts (high school, GED, and all colleges).

ENROLLMENT

Each Horizons student will meet periodically with the Horizons advisor as well as with the academic advisor of the major selected. Both advisors will aid the student in achieving academic, professional, and personal goals.

Registration occurs during the week before classes begin. Students may continue to enroll in courses during the first week of classes, but a student may not register and enter classes for credit after the end of the first week of the semester.

Before classes begin the student must finalize his or her financial arrangements with the Office of Business and Finance in regard to tuition and other fees.

ACADEMIC CREDIT POLICIES

ADVANCED PLACEMENT (AP)

Huntingdon College participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. Students who have taken college-level courses and who would like to apply for academic credit at Huntingdon should take the appropriate AP Examination and have the test results sent to the Registrar's Office. The College reviews and evaluates AP courses on an individual basis in the context of a student's proposed area of study. Credit is awarded at the discretion of the College, and students should not assume that credit will be awarded automatically. Three to eight (3 - 8) semester hours of credit are granted for each AP Examination passed with a score of three or higher in courses comparable to Huntingdon College courses. The number of hours granted is determined by each departmental area. Contact the Registrar's Office for specific AP credit granted by each department. A $25 per credit hour recording fee is assessed.

COLLEGE LEVEL EXAMINATION PROGRAM (CLEP)

Huntingdon College awards up to thirty semester hours of credit for satisfactory performance (50th percentile or higher) on the tests of the College Level Examination Program provided that the examination area is comparable to a course offered for credit at Huntingdon College. Although students who wish to receive credit granted on this basis are encouraged to take Subject Examinations, the thirty hours permitted may be in Subject Examinations, General Examinations, or both. However, no credit will be granted on the basis of General Examinations taken after the student has entered college. Students wishing to receive credit based on CLEP scores should request the College Entrance Examination Board to send an official score report directly to the Registrar's Office. Contact the Registrar's Office for specific AP credit granted by each department. A $25 per credit hour recording fee is assessed for all accepted CLEP scores.

INTERNATIONAL BACCALAUREATE (IB) PROGRAM

Huntingdon College recognizes the successful achievement of students participating in the curriculum of the International Baccalaureate Program. Students are encouraged to submit their IB examination scores for review. Credit is only awarded for the IB Higher Level Examinations (not the IB Subsidiary Examinations) provided that the examination area is comparable to a course offered for credit at Huntingdon College. Credit is awarded at the discretion of the College, and students should not assume that credit will be awarded automatically. An IB transcript should be sent to the Registrar's Office for evaluation. A $25 per credit hour recording fee is assessed to all accepted IB scores.

TRANSFER OF CREDIT FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

Transfer credit is granted for any course taken at an accredited college or university in which the student has earned a grade of “C” or better, or in the case of a course taken on a “Pass/Fail” basis, a grade of “P” (the “P” must equate to a “C” or better), provided that the course is comparable to a course offered for academic credit at Huntingdon College. A course is deemed comparable to a course offered for academic credit at Huntingdon College if the course is similar to a course offered for academic credit, or it is of such a nature that it would carry academic credit if it were offered by the College. Thus, it is not necessary that a course exactly match, or be similar to, a course offered at the College to be accepted for transfer credit. Elective transfer credit is granted for courses if the course is of such a nature that it would carry academic credit if it were offered by the College. Courses granted elective transfer credit will count toward the total number of academic credits required for the baccalaureate degree, but are normally not applicable toward core curriculum, major or minor requirements.

Transfer credit will not be granted for courses which belong in one or more of the following categories: (a) courses in professional, vocational or sectarian religious study, or (b) courses below the level of introductory courses at the College. The College does not grant credit for attendance in service schools or training programs in the Armed Forces unless it can be demonstrated that such attendance is the equivalent of a course or courses offered at Huntingdon College. Academic courses taken while on military service at accredited colleges, universities or language institutes may be transferred in the normal manner. No credit will be granted for general military training, or for work done while a student is not in good standing.

Evaluations of credits earned from other institutions are made after a student has been selected for admission and has indicated an intention to enroll. No student may assume that credit will be given for work at other institutions until a written statement of credit accepted is given. Each transfer credit reduces the College requirement by one credit. Grades and credits from other institutions are not included in the student’s grade point average at Huntingdon. The only grade average recorded on the student’s permanent record is that which he or she earns at Huntingdon College.

A maximum of 64 semester hours earned at a junior college may be credited toward the 124 degree requirement.

Courses used to meet teacher certification requirements must have been completed at a regionally accredited institution.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR SPECIAL PROGRAMS

EARLY ADMISSION OF FRESHMAN

Students of exceptional ability may apply for and be granted admission to Huntingdon following completion of the junior year of secondary school. Applicants for early admission must follow the normal procedure for admission as a freshman. A personal interview is required of all early admission applicants, as well as consent and recommendation of the high school principal. Students who have not achieved a high school diploma or equivalency may not receive federal financial aid.

DUAL ENROLLMENT FOR HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS AND SENIORS

Huntingdon College offers a program of dual enrollment through which students of superior ability may combine high school study with college courses. Enrollment is limited to one course per term. Students interested in admission should contact the Office of Admission. It is recommended that students be enrolled in the college preparatory work in high school. ACT or SAT I scores, and consent and recommendation of the high school principal are required. Official enrollment status must be approved by the Alabama State Department of Education.

SPECIAL STATUS

Huntingdon College will admit students who do not wish to be degree seeking but wish to enroll for one or more courses. A special status student may enroll in a maximum of two courses per semester. Special status students planning to enroll in a course with prerequisites must submit to the Registrar's Office an official college transcript indicating the student has satisfied the course(s) necessary to fulfill the prerequisites.

Upon completion of the required admission procedures and acceptance, a special status student may change to degree seeking status. Courses completed as a special student may be used to complete degree requirements at Huntingdon College. Financial Aid is not available to students classified as special status. For further information or special status applications, contact of the Office of Admission.

TRANSIENT STATUS

Transient status is available to students regularly enrolled and in good standing at another college or university who desire to attend Huntingdon College. A transient student must submit a letter of good standing or a transient form indicating good standing and pre-approved courses from their home institution. This information must be presented to the Huntingdon College Registrar's Office at the time of enrollment.

READMISSION TO HUNTINGDON COLLEGE

Former students of Huntingdon College who wish to return to Huntingdon must submit a readmission application to the Office of Admission. If the student has attended another institution during the absence from Huntingdon, he/she must have an official transcript and Financial Aid Transcript (whether aid was received or not) sent from each institution. An interview with the Dean of the College or the Dean of Students may be required as part of the readmission process. Students who are readmitted by the Dean of the College or the Faculty Committee on Academic Standing must receive clearance from the Office of Business and Finance and the Office of Financial Aid before they may register and attend classes. Please refer to the section titled Academic Policies and Procedures—Catalog of Choice for possible changes in degree requirements.

FINANCING A HUNTINGDON EDUCATION

EXPENSES

A quality college education is one of the most important investments a student can make. Recognizing that a college education is one of the largest single expenses a family may incur, Huntingdon College offers a Levelized Tuition Plan to aid in family financial planning. Through the Levelized Tuition Plan, the annual cost of tuition and basic fees is established when the student first enrolls and will remain the same over a consecutive four-year period. The goal of Levelized Tuition is to allow students and families to budget for the four years of study without the worry of future tuition increases.

Students should be aware that although annual tuition and basic fee costs will remain constant for the four-year period, if the family's financial situation changes, the financial aid package may change as well. The cost of tuition and basic fees does not include room, board, books, music course fees, replacement or processing fees. Levelized Tuition is applicable to new full-time freshman and transfer students in the traditional day program.

Through our Financial Aid program, Huntingdon College provides a variety of options to assist students and families to meet their financial obligations to the College.

This section outlines the expenses incurred by students entering the College during the 2003-04 academic year.

NEW STUDENT DEPOSITS AND SPECIAL FEES

Following acceptance to Huntingdon College, each student should submit a deposit in the amount of $250 if the student will be a campus resident, or $200 if the student will commute from home. This is due May 1st for the fall term enrollment, or December 1st for the spring term enrollment, or 30 days after the date of acceptance if the acceptance was issued after April 1st or November 1st, respectively. Deposits are refundable if requested in writing before the May 1st and December 1st deadlines, respectively.

Application Fee	$25
Deposit for Residents	$250
Deposit for Commuters	$200

TUITION & FEES: 2003-2004

The following charges are made each semester unless otherwise noted.

TUITION

12 or more hours including January Term	$7,280
Fewer than 12 hours (per hour)	$605
Audit (per hour)	$250

Tuition supports a variety of student activities and services, including a World Class Travel Experience in the junior or senior year, the Huntingdon Plan Computer Program with technical support, Student Government Association (SGA) fees and sponsored events, publications and lectures. Tuition also provides support for the Counseling Office, the Career Resources Office, the Delchamps Student Center facilities, and for internship coordination.

Students who transfer from Huntingdon College or who graduate before completing four full years will be assessed a nominal fee should they wish to purchase their computers, or if they participate in a Travel Experience.

The Huntingdon Plan is a comprehensive program encompassing such areas as curriculum, multi-cultural travel experience, and the provision of lap-top computers for entering students. Freshman and Sophomore transfers will be able to fully participate in the Huntingdon Plan. Junior and Senior transfers must choose to participate in either the computer or the travel portion of the Huntingdon Plan.

ROOM AND BOARD

In recognition of the various needs of the individual student, Huntingdon College offers a variety of room options:

Blount Hall—Six Person Cluster	$2,970
Blount Hall—Four Person Suite	$3,845
Blount Hall—Hotel Style Room	$3,185
Blount Hall—Single (Based on availability in Clusters only)	$4,385

TELECOMMUNICATION SERVICES

Telecommunications voice and data services are provided to all residence hall students. Each residence hall bedroom has modular telephone jacks connected to the campus telephone network. The campus telephone network allows access to local phone service and voice mail system.

Long distance charges are billed directly to students by Huntingdon College. Telecommunications bills are issued monthly to campus box addresses. Telephone bill payments are due on the 25th of each month. Long distance calling privileges are dependent upon responsible utilization of the phone system which includes paying any amount due beyond basic service.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Huntingdon College requires that all traditional full-time day students enroll in the Student Health Insurance Plan or demonstrate that they have comparable coverage in another plan. A new Selection/Waiver Form must be submitted each academic year.

If the Selection/Waiver Form is not completed, signed and returned by the first day of class for the corresponding semester (August 25, 2003 for the Fall Semester and January 20, 2004 for the Spring Semester) the student will automatically be enrolled in and billed for the Huntingdon College Student Health Insurance Plan. The College requires all students classified as international to purchase a student health plan specifically designed for the international student. Foreign insurance policies are not accepted.

Annual Premium	$460
International Student Annual Premium	$670

Note: Student athletes are fully responsible for obtaining health insurance prior to participation in any sport-related activity. The above mentioned health insurance policy is not acceptable coverage of injuries incurred while participating in intercollegiate athletics. For specific details contact the College’s Director of Athletics.

BOOKS AND RELATED SUPPLIES

The cost of books, notebooks, and similar supplies amounts to approximately $600 in the first year. The cost of subsequent years is more variable and is based on the course selections of the student. A student with a financial aid credit with the College will be permitted to charge books by submitting a request to the cashier’s office.

FINANCIAL TERMS

BILLING PROCEDURES

Prior to the beginning of each semester, all preregistered students and deposited freshman will receive a statement of estimated charges and aid. These statements are based on preregistration information only and are subject to change. Actual charges and aid are posted after the third week of classes. Statements reflecting actual activity will normally be mailed on or before the 15th of each month.

PAYMENT POLICY

Tuition and fees are payable before or at the time of registration. Preregistered students should pay according to the estimated statement received. Registration is not complete until tuition, fees and other applicable fines have been paid or until satisfactory arrangements through approved scholarships, financial aid, or the Business Office have been made. All students must sign a promissory note for the academic year.

There are two payment options:

1. Pay the estimated semester balance in full by the stated deadline on the College’s calendar;
2. Enroll in the Deferred Payment Plan[†].

Students are not permitted to attend classes until their financial affairs are satisfactorily arranged. If a student’s account becomes delinquent, the student will not be permitted to continue classwork, and may be dropped from school altogether.

In the event a student account is not paid in full or deferred payments are not up-to-date, the student will not be allowed to preregister for the next semester. If an account is not paid in full by the end of the term, the student will not be permitted to attend classes in the next semester until satisfactory financial arrangements have been made.

[†]For students and parents desiring to pay educational expenses in monthly installments, a low-cost deferred payment program is available through Huntingdon College.

The Huntingdon College Deferred Payment Plan is administered through the Student Account Manager. There is an administrative fee of $120 per academic year which is payable along with the first installment before or at the time of registration. For further information you may contact the Student Account Manager.

STATEMENT OF LIABILITY

Should a student leave Huntingdon College owing on his/her account, he/she will be liable for all attorney's fees and other reasonable collection costs and charges necessary for collection. Students will not be permitted to receive reports or transcripts of their work until all College bills are paid, including library fines, traffic fines, insurance policy assessments, and disciplinary fines.

REFUND POLICY AND INFORMATION

If a student voluntarily withdraws from Huntingdon College during the first nine weeks of a semester, the following schedule will be used to determine the amount of the refund to the Federal Title IV Student programs.

The policy will also be used to determine the charges that Huntingdon College is allowed to retain (institutional scholarships, endowments, etc. will be prorated to be consistent with the percentage of charges that the school is allowed to retain).

REFUND POLICY (ALL STUDENTS)

Tuition, Fees, Room, and Board	Title IV Refund	College Charges
During the first week-ninth week	100% minus the percentage of the semester completed (calculated by calendar days)	Percentage of the semester completed (calculated by calendar days)
After the ninth week	0%	100%

REFUND PROCEDURES

The student initiates the withdrawal in the Registrar's Office. The student is then instructed to get authorized signatures (on the withdrawal form) from all pertinent staff persons in order to resolve any matters needing attention (prior to the official withdrawal). The Registrar's Office reviews the completed form and submits information to the appropriate offices regarding the official withdrawal date. The official withdrawal date is determined to be the date that the student completes the withdrawal process by official notification (in person or in writing) to the Registrar's Office. The Director of Student Financial Aid reviews the data and applies the refund policy to the student. The amount of any refund due to the student and Title IV programs will be resolved within 30 days of the student's official withdrawal date.

REFUND COMMENTS

1. An example of this refund policy is available to students upon request.
2. No refund of charges will be made on a student's account after the expiration of the refund policy, except in the case of illness certified by a physician or a student entering military service.
3. Refunds are to be credited to Title IV accounts in the following order: Federal Stafford Loan (Unsubsidized, then Subsidized), Federal Perkins, Federal Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (FPLUS), Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), other Title IV assistance programs, other federal, state, or institutional programs and lastly, the student.
4. Federal grant overpayments (if applicable) will be communicated to the student for immediate repayment. If satisfactory arrangements are not made by the student to clear the overpayment, then the overpayment will be communicated directly to National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS).

COURSE LOAD ADJUSTMENTS - REFUNDS AND CHARGES

Adjustments will be made to accounts during the first three weeks of classes. If the total number of hours is decreased to fewer than 12 hours after the third week of classes, there is no credit to the account for decreasing the total number of credit hours.

A student is responsible for any charge applicable to the load for which he/she is registered at the end of the third week of classes.

STUDENT BANK

The Cashier's Office maintains a student bank which offers services for the deposit of students' personal funds. Withdrawals may be made in person only. Students may also cash checks up to $75 if their accounts are in good standing. Payments on accounts may also be made by check. Additional information may be found in the Student Life section entitled Check Cashing Policy. For further information, please contact the Cashier's Office.

FINANCIAL AID

Financial aid is available to Huntingdon College students who need financial assistance in order to attend Huntingdon. Financial aid programs are prepared, using the package concept, which may include aid from the Huntingdon College Scholarship and Grant Programs, Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Perkins Loan, Stafford Loan, PLUS Loan, and the Work-Study Program. A student is eligible to apply for financial aid after filing an application for admission as a full-time or part-time student, but no financial aid program will be awarded until the student has been accepted. Students admitted as special or transient students are not eligible for financial assistance.

All students, dependent as well as independent, who seek financial assistance in order to attend Huntingdon College, must annually file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to be considered for all types of federal, state, and institutional aid. From this, a Student Aid Report (SAR) will be produced by the Federal Student Aid Programs Office and sent to the student. No final financial aid program will be awarded until a SAR or an electronic Institutional Student Information Record (ISIR) is received by the Student Financial Aid Office.

Each application for financial aid will be carefully evaluated when all required data has been submitted, and the student will be notified in writing of the financial aid program prepared. The student has at least 30 days to accept or reject the financial assistance offered.

APPLICATION FOR FINANCIAL AID

Students needing financial aid in order to attend Huntingdon College must annually file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This form is available in the Office of Student Financial Aid.

A priority deadline of April 15th has been established for the fall semester enrollment and November 1st for the spring semester enrollment in order to be considered for all sources of federal and institutional aid. After April 15th, awards will be made on a first come, first served basis. In order to meet the priority deadline, the FAFSA should be filed by March 1st.

New students who must have financial aid in order to attend Huntingdon College should complete the following three steps:

1. File an application for admission and financial aid with the proper credentials and submit the required supporting documentation. No financial aid program may be completed until a student has been accepted for admission.
2. Submit the FAFSA. Be sure to indicate code #001019 so that an ISIR is sent directly to Huntingdon.
3. Complete the necessary applications for Perkins Loan, Stafford Loan, Work-Study, etc. (if applicable).

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

HUNTINGDON COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP AND GRANT PROGRAMS

Huntingdon College scholarships are normally awarded on an annual basis, with one-half of the annual amount of the scholarship being credited to the student's account during the first semester and the other half during the second semester. Each semester, the federal Title IV and institutional aid is set after the institution's official third week enrollment report is released. Huntingdon College Scholarships and Grants are available to full-time students only.

It is important to know that Huntingdon College scholarship and grant recipients may be eligible to receive other forms of institutional, federal, and state aid. However, a FAFSA financial aid form must be completed so that the Office of Student Financial Aid can determine eligibility. Also, please note that generally only one institutional "merit" scholarship can be awarded to each student.

INSTITUTIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Minimum qualifications for the following scholarships and grants can be obtained by contacting the Office of Admission. Recipients may be required to live on campus, maintain specific grade point average requirements, and participate in school activities.

ACADEMIC HONOR AWARDS

Walter D. Bellingrath Scholarship: This is a full-tuition merit based scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study contingent upon designated institutional requirements being met. On-campus residency is required.

James W. Wilson Scholarship: This is a $6000 merit based scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study.

Catherine N. and James McAndrew Jones Scholarship: This is a half-tuition merit based scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study.

M.C. Stallworth, Sr. Scholarship: This is a half-tuition merit based scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study.

AWARDS OF CIRCUMSTANCE

Massey Scholarship: This is a $4,000 merit based scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study.

Presidential Scholarship: This is a $3,000 merit based scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study.

Valedictorian Scholarship: This is a $1,000 scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study, that will be awarded to the valedictorian of each secondary school. Students must qualify for at least a Presidential Scholarship in order to receive this award. In addition, this scholarship cannot be awarded to students receiving more than the equivalent of a Wilson Scholarship. This scholarship will be awarded upon written verification of the designation from the student's secondary school principal or guidance counselor.

Salutatorian Scholarship: This is a $750 scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study, that will be awarded to the salutatorian of each secondary school. Students must qualify for at least a Presidential Scholarship in order to receive this award. In addition, this scholarship cannot be awarded to students receiving more than the equivalent of a Wilson Scholarship. This scholarship will be awarded upon written verification of the designation from the student's secondary school principal or guidance counselor.

Huntingdon Heritage Scholarship: This is a $2,500 scholarship per year awarded to students referred to Huntingdon by an alumna/us of the college. Minimum qualifications for this scholarship are a 20 ACT/930 SAT-1 and a 2.25 GPA.

John Wesley Scholarship: This is a $500 scholarship, renewable for three additional years of study, awarded to students in addition to an Academic Scholarship or Achievement Recognition Grant. The student must be United Methodist and referred to Huntingdon by a member of the clergy of the United Methodist Church. In addition, this scholarship cannot be awarded to students receiving more than the equivalent of a Wilson Scholarship.

United Methodist Clergy Grant: Lay-clergy in the Alabama-West Florida or North Alabama Conferences of the United Methodist Church who are pursuing their first baccalaureate degree are eligible for this half-tuition grant.

Clergy Dependent Scholarship: These half-tuition scholarships are awarded to the dependents (as defined by IRS regulations) of United Methodist clergy (any conference or state). Students are required to live on campus to receive this scholarship.

Church Vocation Scholarship: A student preparing for a full-time church-related vocation may receive a scholarship of up to $2,000 per year.

Huntingdon Grant: This is a need-based grant available to all students who demonstrate financial need and are not receiving either the Bellingrath, Stallworth, Wilson (or equivalent dollar value), Massey, or Presidential Scholarship. There is a $2,500 limit on this grant and other scholarships offered are inclusive towards total eligibility of the grant.

Huntingdon Transfer Scholarship: These scholarships for transfer students range in value from $3,000 to $6000 per year, based on the student's academic credentials. This scholarship is renewable, provided an acceptable academic record is maintained. Minimum qualifications for this scholarship are a 3.00 cumulative college GPA in full-time course work. A 3.50 GPA earns the student a $4,000 scholarship and a 3.75 GPA earns the student a $6000 scholarship.

Girls State Scholarship: A student elected as Girls State Governor is eligible to receive a full tuition scholarship.

Boys State Scholarship: A student elected as Boys State Governor is eligible to receive a full tuition scholarship.

Jr. Miss Scholarship: County winners who have participated in the state pageants are eligible to receive a scholarship of $1,000 per year. A participant is entitled to a $1,000 annual scholarship provided she qualifies for at least a Presidential Scholarship. In addition, this scholarship cannot be awarded to students receiving more than the equivalent for a Wilson Scholarship. State winners of these pageants are eligible to receive a scholarship equal to full tuition.

AWF Conference Scholarship: The College grants scholarships of $500-$1,000 to United Methodist students from the North Alabama or Alabama-West Florida Conference who attend our institution. Scholarship amounts vary according to financial need, and the established priority deadline of April 15th must be met in order for students to qualify for the scholarship.

Dean's Award: These scholarships recognize student involvement, service and leadership in co-curricular and community activities among students who qualify for Academic Scholarships. To be considered for these awards, students must complete the admission process and qualify for an Academic Scholarship at the Presidential or Massey scholarship level. Award amounts range from $500 to $1,000 in addition to the Academic Scholarships awarded. Final selection of the awardee will be made by a committee of college staff members (excluding anyone from the Athletics Department).

Achievement Recognition Grants: These grants recognize achievement in co-curricular and community activities among students who do not qualify for Academic Scholarships. Awards range from $2,500-$4,000. Final selection of the awardee will be made by a committee of college staff members (excluding anyone from the Athletics Department).

Fine and Performing Arts Talent Recognition Awards: Fine and Performing Arts Talent Recognition Awards in the amounts of $2,500 to $4,000 are available to students who do not otherwise qualify for Academic Scholarships but who show outstanding talent in the arts. These awards are limited to students who are majoring in a program offered through the Department of Music, Theater, and Fine Art. A formal audition or portfolio review is required for consideration. Final selection of the awardee will be made by a committee of college faculty members (excluding anyone from the Athletics Department).

Several organizations provide scholarships from year to year to worthy students. These include (but are not limited to) the following: United Daughters of the Confederacy Scholarship, Air Force Aid Society, First United Methodist Church-United Methodist Women, Alabama Association of Independent Colleges, the Russell Foundation, and the J.L. Bedsole Foundation. Interested students should contact the Office of Admission and Financial Aid for application and qualification information.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS

Federal Pell Grant Program: This is a federal entitlement program providing grants to eligible students of up to $4,050 (2003-2004). The amount of each grant is determined by review of the SAR or ISIR. These reports are generated by the Federal Student Aid Programs Office from the data submitted on the FAFSA. No Federal Pell Grant award may be made to a student until a SAR is submitted or an ISIR is received.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program (FSEOG): The FSEOG is a program which may be available to students who demonstrate exceptional financial need and are Federal Pell Grant recipients. The amount ranges from $100 to $4,000 per year. Only a limited number of FSEOG grants can be awarded each year.

Federal Perkins Student Loan Program: This is a federal program administered by Huntingdon College that provides loans to students who can demonstrate high financial need. The maximum accumulated loan for an undergraduate student is $20,000, with a further limit of $4,000 annually. The size of the loan is based on the student's demonstrated need and the other components of the financial aid package.

Repayment of the Perkins Loan must begin nine months after the borrower graduates or ceases to be at least a half-time student. Interest shall accrue from the beginning of the repayment period and shall be at the annual percentage rate of five percent (5%) on the unpaid balance, except that no interest shall accrue during any deferment period.

Federal Work-Study Program (FWS): This is a federal program available to qualified students who demonstrate financial need. Students are employed on campus in positions such as classroom assistants, laboratory assistants, athletic and recreation assistants, and library assistants. Preference is given to students with the greatest demonstrated need, with the typical student working approximately 8 hours per week. For students who are not eligible for the work study program, they may want to contact the Job Location and Development (JLD) representative for a listing of part-time job opportunities.

Federal Stafford Student Loan Program: Stafford student loans are federally guaranteed loans available to qualified students. There are two types of Federal Stafford loans. They are the Subsidized and Unsubsidized loans and profile only minor differences. One of the differences is that Subsidized loans are need-based and offer the feature of repayment being deferred, while the Unsubsidized loan is non need-based and requires interest to begin being repaid or capitalized immediately.

Annual loan limits for each program are as follows:

	DEPENDENT STUDENT		INDEPENDENT STUDENT
	SUBSIDIZED	UNSUBSIDIZED	SUBSIDIZED	UNSUBSIDIZED
Freshman	$2,625	$2,625	$2,625	$ 6,625
Sophomore	3,500	3,500	3,500	7,500
Junior	5,500	5,500	5,500	10,500
Senior	5,500	5,500	5,500	10,500

Any combination of SUBSIDIZED and UNSUBSIDIZED loans cannot exceed the applicable students' UNSUBSIDIZED loan limits. It should also be noted that the banks and guarantee agencies may take up to 3 percent out of the Subsidized loan and Unsubsidized loan in the form of prepaid origination fees and insurance premiums.

The actual size of the loan is based on the student's demonstrated financial need and the other components of the financial aid package. These loans are available through commercial banks, but students should contact the Office of Student Financial Aid regarding eligibility requirements and the application process.

Repayment of the Subsidized loan must begin six months after the borrower graduates or ceases to be a half-time student. Repayment of the Unsubsidized loan must begin with immediate repayment or capitalization of interest only. The interest rate is adjusted annually and may not exceed 8.25 percent.

Federal PLUS Loan Program: PLUS (Parental Loan for Undergraduate Students) loans are available to parents of dependent undergraduate students. PLUS Loans may not exceed the student's cost of attendance less the financial aid assistance he or she will receive during the period of enrollment. It should also be noted that banks and guarantee agencies may take up to 3 percent out of these loans in the form of prepaid origination fees and insurance premiums.

The actual size of the loan is contingent upon other factors of the financial aid package. These loans are also available at the same places as Federal Stafford Loans, but students should contact the Office of Student Financial Aid regarding eligibility requirements and the application process.

Repayment of the PLUS Loan begins immediately. The interest rate is adjusted annually and may not exceed 9 percent.

STATE PROGRAMS

Alabama Student Assistant Program (ASAP): This is a state program offering grants to eligible undergraduate Alabama students (without a previous bachelor's degree) who meet financial need requirements. In order to receive consideration for this grant, students must also be eligible for the Pell Grant. Recipients must be enrolled full-time, be making satisfactory academic progress and not be preparing for a church-related vocation.

Alabama Student Grant Program (ASGP): This is a state program offering grants of approximately $600 per year to full-time undergraduate students (without a previous bachelor's degree) who are legal Alabama residents and are attending approved independent colleges or universities within the state. The Alabama Student Grants are not made on the basis of need but rather on residency. Alabama residents carrying a minimum of six semester hours (1/2 load) are eligible for a grant of approximately $300 per year.

Students preparing for church-related vocations are not eligible to receive the Alabama Student Grant. To qualify for the grant only one course in religion, Christian Education, or church music per term is allowed within the six-hour part-time load, or twelve-hour full-time load. Additional religion courses may be taken if they are in excess of the six- or twelve-hour loads.

Applications for the Alabama Student Grant Program may be obtained at the Office of Student Financial Aid and filed with this office by the appropriate deadline dates (specified on the application). Applications are not considered complete until all the necessary supporting information and documentation is received by the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Per state regulations, each grant shall be renewable annually for the number of hours normally required by the institution for the course of study in which the student is enrolled. Eligibility for the grant is lost once total hours earned and attempted exceeds (by more than 25%) the number of hours required for the individual student's course of study.

STUDENT LIFE - THE HUNTINGDON EXPERIENCE

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Huntingdon College supports co-curricular and extracurricular activities, believing that in order for a student to have a well-rounded education, one must have opportunities for self-expression, growth, and development of a spirit of service and leadership during the years at college. Through the cooperative efforts of the Student Life Office and the Student Government Association, opportunities are available for a wide variety of experiences. The activities, services and responsibilities described in this section are a part of the total educational endeavor of the College. The Huntingdon College Student Handbook, available from the Student Life Office and the College's web site, contains more detailed information.

Student activities at Huntingdon are designed with a wide range of student interests in mind. All students are encouraged to participate in these activities. Activities of campus organizations are approved through the Student Life Office. A master calendar is maintained by the Calendar Coordinator to minimize conflicting activities.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government Association (SGA), authorized by the College administration, embraces the entire student body.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

The Athletic Program at Huntingdon is designed to provide opportunities for competitive athletics while enriching the total college-life experience of each student-athlete and of students in general. Opportunities are available for young men and women to reach their potential through performance, to further their experiences in teamwork, physical well-being, positive citizenship, and commitment to principles espoused by a talented coaching staff. Huntingdon students have come to expect fast-paced excitement and school-spirit building opportunities that accompany these competitive athletic events. Athletic success has been, and continues to be, an integral part of the traditions that make Huntingdon a very special undergraduate institution.

Huntingdon's teams are committed to excellence in athletics and academics as evidenced by consistently earning national championships, national tournament appearances, and regional rankings. Teams have produced numerous All-Americans, Academic All-Americans, All-Region, All-Conference, and Academic All-Conference players. The College is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and is also currently a provisional member in NCAA Division III.

Intercollegiate athletic competition is offered in the following sports:

Men

Baseball
Football
Soccer

Basketball
Golf

Women

Basketball
Softball
Volleyball

Soccer
Tennis

RECREATION AND INTRAMURAL PROGRAMS

The program of intramural athletics at Huntingdon is supervised by the Director of Student Programs. This program is designed for the entire student body to participate on a voluntary basis in seasonal team and/or individual sports. Competitive and recreational teams are formed for both men and women in activities such as flag football, basketball, golf, and softball. The Huntingdon SGA Intramural Council President serves in an advisory capacity to the Coordinator of Intramurals and Recreation in planning the program. The Coordinator of Intramurals and Recreation is responsible for the maintenance of recreation hours in Delchamps Student Center. The gym and weight training and fitness complex are open according to a schedule which is published each semester.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

The Christian Ministries Association (CMA) is an organization established to represent the entire student body and welcomes every Huntingdon student to participate in all ministries and programs sponsored by the CMA. CMA is bound together by a common loyalty to the Christian faith and has as its purpose to involve the campus community, through inquiry, concern, worship, prayer, and various activities, in a search for deeper meanings and experiences of the Christian faith. To accomplish this, CMA sponsors a varied program of religious activities on campus which include a weekly Bible study, a fall retreat, a fall festival, a spring spiritual life week (culminating with a spring retreat), accountability groups, prayer breakfasts, social service ministries, mission trips, and other events. This organization has the Chaplain as advisor, but is totally student-led.

GREEK ORGANIZATIONS

There are five nationally affiliated Greek organizations on campus, two for men, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Kappa Sigma, and three for women, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Omicron Pi and Chi Omega. The Greeks are under the general supervision of the Office of Student Life and the individual group advisors. Membership is by invitation. The purpose of the Greek organizations is to broaden the co-curricular activities and leadership opportunities on the Huntingdon campus.

The Panhellenic Association and Interfraternity Council (IFC) coordinate their respective rush activities. Together they serve as a decision making body concerning Greek activities in the fall and Greek Week in the spring.

Alpha Omicron Pi, founded in 1897 at Barnard College, has a tradition of friendship and was brought to Huntingdon College in the spring of 1975.

Chi Omega was founded April 5, 1895, at the University of Arkansas. Brought to the Huntingdon College campus in February, 1976.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at Richmond College on November 1, 1901. The Alabama Zeta chapter at Huntingdon was formed in February of 1977.

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Virginia, in 1869. The Huntingdon Chapter of Kappa Sigma began as a colony January 23, 1981.

Alpha Kappa Alpha was founded in 1908 at Howard University and brought to the Huntingdon College campus in the spring of 1999.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

For more detailed information on the following clubs and organizations, contact the Student Life Office.

The campus chapter of BACCHUS, which is open to all students, exists to foster responsible and educated life-style choices related to the use of alcoholic beverages. This organization promotes healthy alternatives to alcohol use and misuse, and it fosters awareness of the physical and social consequences of alcohol use and misuse.

The Behavioral Sciences Club, open to all students interested in the field of psychology, is designed to promote discussion of significant topics in this field and to explore, through visiting speakers, the application of this discipline in society, business, and industry.

The Business Club is open to all students interested in learning about current business issues. The primary purposes are to provide academic support, social interaction, and a speakers series.

The Chemistry/Pre-med Club promotes, explores, and develops interests in chemistry, medicine, and science in general. Guest speakers, field trips to laboratories and hospitals, and films are included in the regularly scheduled meetings. An important annual function is the Chem-Bowl for high school chemistry teams. Membership is available to any student who is studying or has completed courses in chemistry or premedical studies.

Circle K International is a service club promoting leadership, self-development, and friendship through participation in campus and community projects. Sponsored by the Capital City Kiwanis Club of Montgomery, chartered by Kiwanis International, it is open to all students.

Chi Rho is an organization of students who have committed their lives to some church-related vocation, or are considering doing so. They meet monthly to discuss their role on the campus, their professional training, and they serve churches in the summer. They also host representatives of various seminaries who visit the campus.

College Bowl, the varsity sport of the mind, is an organization open to any student interested in intellectual development and academic competition. A team of four students may compete in intramural competition. The intramural championship team, along with selected all-stars, is invited to participate in the intercollegiate team.

College Republicans, as an organized group, began at Huntingdon in 1990. The organization's purpose is to raise the political awareness of the college community. Membership is open to any Huntingdon student who has an interest in supporting the Republican Party. Activities are not limited to election years. The College Republicans assume an important role in campus politics, assisting certain candidates with their campaigns, and keeping a careful watch on issues pertaining to students. Although the organization is devoted to politics, it offers a number of service projects each year that not only benefit the campus, but also the community.

Dance to Glorify is a student organization dedicated to praise and worship through movement. The club goals are to express praise through personal student interpretation, involve and expose the community to praise dance, and expand the idea of traditional worship to include that of dance art form.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) states its purpose "To present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of the church."

Habitat for Humanity (HFH) is an organization dedicated to the task of eliminating substandard, poverty housing and homelessness. By living the "theology of the hammer" the Huntingdon Chapter of HFH attempts to do its part in bringing to a reality the motto "No more shacks!"

The International Student Association (ISA) was formed to provide the College's international students with social support and assistance, and to promote cross-cultural understanding between the international students and the rest of the College community. All students are eligible to be members of the ISA with full voting rights and privileges.

A student chapter of the Mathematical Association of America is hosted by the College. Membership to the professional organization is open to all students with an interest in mathematics.

The Mathematics and Computer Science Club promotes interest in mathematics and computer science, and membership is available to all students who are interested in these fields.

The Natural Science Club, sponsored by the Biology and Chemistry Department, is open to all students who have an interest in biologically oriented activities including hiking, canoeing and camping, nature study, learning more about careers in the sciences, and increasing the Huntingdon College community's awareness of environmental issues.

The Rowing Club's goal is to practice good sportsmanship and build character, while improving rowing abilities. The club represents the school at various rowing functions throughout the southeast. The Rowing Club is open to all students regardless of previous rowing experience.

SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES

Huntingdon students will find a variety of service opportunities, both on the campus and in the community. All students are encouraged to take advantage of the opportunities to develop their leadership skills, citizenship, and potential for future achievements.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Huntingdon students play a vital role in service to the community and are provided opportunities for ethical leadership. Such civic responsibility is met in part through cooperation with city-wide agencies such as the United Way, the American Red Cross and Habitat for Humanity. Students work in local churches as musicians and youth directors. Psychology classes work closely with local welfare agencies, aiding a variety of people. Students from other disciplines obtain practical experience by working in businesses and schools. Those interested in theater may be active in the Alabama Shakespeare Festival. Many students tutor school children from low socioeconomic backgrounds. In these and other ways Huntingdon students can "grow in wisdom" during the college years and "apply wisdom in service."

HUNTINGDON COLLEGE FRESHMEN ORIENTATION STUDENT LEADERS

Huntingdon College Freshmen Orientation Student Leaders are sophomores, juniors and seniors who assist with the New Student Orientation. These students are carefully selected and trained to serve as resources and role models as they function to support freshmen experiencing the transition into the Huntingdon community.

HUNTINGDON HOSTS

The Huntingdon Hosts are a select group of men and women students who promote pride in the College and provide services in all its social functions with visitors, students, alumni, and friends. Primarily, this organization conducts campus tours and assists visitors at Huntingdon, conveying the high standards and congeniality which exist on the campus.

PUBLICATIONS

The Gargoyle is a newspaper published by students.

Bells and Pomegranates, the College annual, gives a review of college life.

The Prelude, a literary magazine, annually presents creative writings by Huntingdon students.

The Student Handbook, published annually, contains information regarding the Student Government Association and its subsidiary organizations, the College's rules and regulations and student activities.

STUDENT AWARDS

Each year, during the spring semester, an Awards Convocation is held for the purpose of providing recognition to students whose campus leadership, service and scholarship have entitled them to be selected for such awards.

The Accounting Achievement Award is given to the accounting student who exemplifies the professional and personal characteristics necessary for success in Public Accounting. This award is presented by the Montgomery Chapter of the Alabama Society of Certified Public Accountants.

The Alpha Psi Omega Award is given to the member of Alpha Psi Omega who has done outstanding work for the Theater Program and whom the members of the honorary theatric fraternity feel has contributed the most to all productions.

The American Institute of Chemists Award is given each year to the outstanding senior majoring in chemistry. The award is based on recognition of potential advancement in professional chemistry and on leadership, ability, character, and scholastic achievement.

The Warren Andrews Award was established in honor of Dr. Andrews, who was head of the Business Department for many years. The Andrews Award is given each year to the outstanding senior student in Business Administration.

The Jimmy Baker Spirit Award is presented each year to the student organization which has been, in the opinion of the Student Government Association, the most active and positively influential in student activities.

The L.G. Bailey Psychology Award was founded by Mrs. Frances Saunders Britt in memory of her psychology professor, Dr. L.G. Bailey. It is given to the senior judged to be the outstanding student of the year in psychology.

The Barber Dairies Scholarship is awarded annually to an outstanding student in the Business Program. The recipient of this scholarship is a full-time student with junior standing; demonstrates leadership ability, entrepreneurial ability, and financial need; and is a permanent resident within the Barber marketing area, and plans to pursue a business career in this area.

The Hortense Batre-Colonial Dames Scholarship is awarded each year to the outstanding junior or senior history major at Huntingdon College. The recipient, who is selected by the History Program, must have completed at least twelve hours in American history. The award, established in 1938, is given in honor of Hortense Batre, the founder of the Society of Colonial Dames in Alabama.

The Beta Beta Beta Award is presented annually by the Beta Nu Chapter to the graduating biology major who is judged to be the most outstanding senior in the field of biology.

The Everett L. Bishop Award is given annually to the junior biology student who has shown the greatest promise based on progress since entrance to Huntingdon.

The Henry L. Bonner Award was established in honor of Dr. Bonner, who was head of the Department of Education at Huntingdon for many years. It is awarded annually to the most outstanding senior in education.

The Myrtle S. Bonner Award is given each year to the most outstanding senior in secondary education.

The Business Club Award is given annually to the member chosen by the club as the most productive member.

The Christopher H. Cain Outstanding SGA Member Award is presented yearly to the member chosen by the SGA as the most productive member.

The CRC Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award is given each year to the outstanding freshman chemistry student as selected by the chemistry faculty.

The Marion Black Cantelou Chemistry Award is given each year to the graduating senior chemistry major who is outstanding in analytical and other areas of chemistry as well as in general character and attitude.

The Computer Science Faculty Award is given each year to the student who has exhibited the greatest potential in the areas of creativity, innovation, scholarship, and service to computer science.

The Joseph L. Dean, Jr., Memorial Award is given each year to the graduating English major who has achieved the best record in English.

The Dungeon Theater Award is given annually to the outstanding senior student in theater.

The Early Childhood Education Award is given each year to the most outstanding senior in early childhood education.

The Exercise Science Award is granted each year to the outstanding senior graduating with a departmental major. A minimum grade point average of 3.00 in the major is required.

The Lois B. Gholston Award is given each year to the most outstanding senior in elementary education.

The Algie Hardwick Hill Prize in Creative Writing is given each year to a student, who in the opinion of the English Program, deserves commendation for demonstrated creative writing ability and for contribution to the publishing of creative writing on the Huntingdon College campus.

The Julia Rinehart Hughes History Award, established by her family as a memorial to her as a member of the faculty, recognizes a graduating senior who has exemplified, to an unusual degree genuine, interest in the study of history and has maintained an outstanding record in history and in all college studies.

The Libris Award is presented annually by the library faculty and staff to an outstanding student library assistant. Established in 1992-93, the award recognizes exemplary performance of responsibilities in a manner contributing to a high level of library service.

The Loyalty Award is given each year by the President of the College to the graduating student chosen by the senior class as the most loyal to the College, loyalty being interpreted broadly in terms of spirit and service.

The Mathematical Sciences Faculty Award is given each year to the student who has exhibited the greatest potential in the areas of creativity, innovation, scholarship, and service to the mathematical sciences.

The Montgomery Art Guild Award is given annually to the graduating senior art major recognized as the most outstanding in art talent and achievement and in total academic attainment.

The Montgomery Chapter of the Alabama Society of CPAs Scholarship Award is given to an outstanding junior or senior accounting student selected by the Business Program.

The Irene Brinson Munro Award is given annually to a graduating senior major in history or government who has, at the beginning of the student's final semester, the highest average in all attempted courses in all departments who will have at graduation at least eighteen hours in world history and/or government and an average of at least 3.00 in these courses.

The Lela Niles Award is given annually to the upperclassman chosen by the music faculty as outstanding in musical ability, dependability, and high ideals in the field of music. The award is a memorial to Miss Lela Niles, a former member of the music faculty.

The Organic Chemistry Achievement Award is presented each year to the outstanding student in organic chemistry as selected by the chemistry faculty.

The Louise Panigot Award is given annually to the senior graduating with a Cultural and Religious Studies major, whose overall academic average in all subjects is above 3.00 and who, in the judgment of the departmental faculty, holds the greatest promise for scholarly achievement in the field of philosophy and the academic study of religion.

The Margaret Read Scholarship Medal is presented at commencement each year to the graduating student having the most outstanding record in scholarship. This award was established by Mr. Ralph Wickersham.

The Margaret Hicks Shadoin Community Service Award is presented to the student organization that completes the most community service hours as a group. To be considered, the groups must have completed a minimum of 100 hours of community service each semester divided as 50 on-campus hours and 50 off-campus hours. Additionally, the organization will have a cumulative participation of at least 50 percent of its members in scheduled community service events each semester. The participation requirement may be distributed throughout the semester and each member can count once per semester.

The Lessie Mae Hall Stone Religion and Philosophy Award is presented annually in the spring to the graduating senior with a major in Cultural and Religious Studies who has the highest academic average for all courses in all departments through the academic term preceding the granting of the award. A minimum 3.00 average is required.

The Student Mentor of the Year Award is given each year to the student who has completed four semesters of mentoring, or is completing a fourth semester, and who has best exhibited a love of learning and a spirit of service while giving academic assistance to his or her peers.

The Student Art Purchase Prize Award is presented to the student whose work is selected for acquisition by the Library for inclusion in its visual art collection. Selection is made by the Art Program faculty and the library director from eligible works exhibited in the annual Student Art Show.

The Virginia Hicks Sutter Community Service Award is awarded to a full-time student in good standing who has completed the most community service hours both on and off campus. The recipient must complete a minimum community service requirement of 16 hours on-campus and 16 hours off-campus.

The Frank T. Thompson Award for Creativity is given each year by the Huntingdon Publications Union to the senior who has demonstrated the greatest creativity in work on The Gargoyle, Bells and Pomegranates, and The Prelude.

The Willard D. Top Award is presented at commencement to a graduating senior who exemplifies an outstanding commitment to academics and service to Huntingdon College. The recipient must be a member of Alpha Beta and be ranked in the top ten percent of the students inducted into Tri Sigma that academic year. The award, established in 1995, is given in honor of Dean Willard D. Top in recognition of his 24 years of outstanding commitment to academics and service to Huntingdon College.

The Mary George Waite Award is given annually to a deserving upperclassman for study of the organ. This award was established by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bothfeld.

The Wall Street Journal Award is given each year to the outstanding senior majoring in Business Administration.

The Earl Williams Mathematics Award is given to the senior who has made the highest achievement in the field of mathematics during the four years of the college course.

Three Jane Williams Awards are given early in each college year to sophomores who excelled during their freshman year: one in scholarship, one in general activities, and one in athletics.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges recognizes Huntingdon College students who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders. Nominees are selected by the Honors Committee, with recommendations from department chairs. The criteria for selection are: satisfactory grade point average; participation and leadership in academic and extra curricular activities; constructive influence, citizenship and service to Huntingdon; character, esteem and a positive presence on campus; and potential for future achievement. They join an elite group of students from more than 1,900 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

HONORARY SOCIETIES

Alpha Beta (AB) is a society honoring upperclass students for excellence in scholarship and encouraging high scholastic attainments among other students.

Alpha Psi Omega (ΑΨΟ), a national honorary dramatic fraternity, installed Beta Eta chapter at Huntingdon College on February 2, 1929. This fraternity recognizes students who have attained a high standard of work in dramatics and provides fellowship for those interested in college theater.

Beta Beta Beta (BBB), a national honorary biological fraternity, installed the Beta Nu chapter at Huntingdon College in May, 1946. The fraternity's membership consists of juniors and seniors who have an active interest in biology, have completed at least three term courses in biological sciences of which at least one is not an introductory course, and have a grade point average of 3.00 or above in biology.

Gamma Mu (ΓΜ) is a music society affiliated with the American Federation of Music Clubs. It recognizes upperclass students for excellence in scholarship and musical performance and encourages high attainment among other music students.

Kappa Delta Epsilon (ΚΔΕ), established in March of 1933, was formed as a national honorary professional education organization. The Gamma Theta Chapter was installed at Huntingdon College in February of 1992. Its purpose is to promote the cause of education.

The Alabama Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon (KME), chartered in April, 1965, on the Huntingdon campus, is a national honorary society open to majors and minors in mathematics who have superior records in mathematics.

The Sigma Chapter of Kappa Pi (ΚΠ), national honorary art fraternity, was organized in January, 1938. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote greater interest in the knowledge and appreciation of art. Membership is based on artistic and academic excellence.

Lambda Pi Eta (ΛΠΗ) is an honorary society recognizing outstanding academic performance among communication students. Lambda Pi Eta was chartered in 1985 at the University of Arkansas, and its mission is to recognize, foster, and reward scholastic achievement while stimulating interest in the field of communication.

Omicron Delta Kappa (ΟΔΚ), the national leadership honor society for college students, recognizes and encourages superior scholarship, leadership, and exemplary character. Omicron Delta Kappa was founded at Washington and Lee University. The Huntingdon Circle was chartered in 1988.

Phi Eta Sigma (ΦΗΣ) is the largest national society honoring outstanding academic attainment by college freshmen. The Huntingdon College Chapter, installed in April, 1986, offers recognition and encouragement to those students who achieve an exceptional academic record during their first year of college work.

Psi Chi (ΨΧ) is a national honorary society for junior and senior students majoring or minoring in psychology. Requirements for membership include a B average in at least 9 hours in psychology.

Sigma Beta Delta (ΣΒΔ) is the national honorary society established to encourage and recognize scholarship and accomplishment among students of business, management, and administration. Its aim is to encourage and promote aspirations toward personal and professional improvement and a life distinguished by honorable service to humankind.

Sigma Sigma Sigma (ΣΣΣ) is an honorary society for seniors. Members are elected by the faculty and the members honored during the preceding year. The basis of selection is high attainment in scholarship, spirit, and service.

Sigma Tau Delta (ΣΤΔ) is the national honorary society for students who value English language and literature. Sigma Tau Delta takes as its purpose the encouragement of study of the chief literary masterpieces, the encouragement of worthwhile reading, the promotion of the mastery of writing, and the promotion of the spirit of fellowship among its members. Huntingdon's chapter was chartered in 1994.

STUDENT RESOURCES

A broad array of support services and resources are offered to the students of Huntingdon College including the Chaplain's Office, the Wellness Center, and the Counseling Center. The Student Handbook contains detailed descriptions of the roles and services provided by these offices.

THE BOOKSTORE

The Huntingdon College Bookstore, operated by Follett College Stores and located in the Delchamps Student Center, carries all textbooks (both new and used) and a variety of supplies required for Huntingdon students, such as computer software and school and residence hall supplies. The bookstore also carries gift items and greeting cards. During the fall and spring semester, hours of operation are 8:00 AM - 5:00 PM, Monday - Friday. During summer sessions, hours of operation are 8:00 AM - 4:00 PM, Monday - Friday. For special occasions, the bookstore will have posted hours of operation.

THE POST OFFICE

At the beginning of each semester, full time residential and commuting students are assigned a post office box (at no charge). This service is also available for part-time students upon request. To obtain their box number and key, students should contact the Huntingdon College Post Office, commonly referred to as the "mail room," located in the Delchamps

Student Center. Students are responsible for checking their post office boxes regularly since this is the official means of communication between the College and the students.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES/LEARNING ASSISTANCE

Huntingdon College is strongly committed to providing equal access to all facilities, programs, and services of the College. Our goal is to foster an environment free of discrimination and bias in which all qualified students have access to educational opportunities.

SECTION 504/ADA COORDINATOR

The Associate Dean of College Services is the official Section 504/ADA compliance officer for the College. The Business Manager is the contact for all matters concerning the physical plant facilities for Huntingdon and for matters relating to staff personnel at the College. The Academic Dean is the contact person for faculty for matters relating to specific academic requests. The Dean of Students is the contact person for students with specific nonacademic requests. The persons in these positions are responsible for assisting with the coordination of efforts to comply with federal regulations which require equal access to all programs and services of the College to individuals with disabilities with respect to his/her assigned area(s). Any student, faculty or staff member may contact any one of the persons in the named positions for clarification, appeal or resolution of a disability-related issue.

The Director of Student Programs is the official contact for students with disabilities who request services and/or accommodations to minimize the effects of their disabilities. Students must voluntarily identify themselves and provide current, official documentation of disability in order to become eligible for reasonable accommodations. If documentation is inadequate, the student may be asked to provide additional information/evaluation.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

As with any community, it is necessary to have guidelines and directions which will enable each person to achieve their optimal potential. Academic experiences and extracurricular life at Huntingdon offer the student an opportunity for growth in the most affirmative way. Students are responsible for acquainting themselves with the college's policies and requirements in this catalog and in the Student Handbook.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

THE HUNTINGDON PLAN

The “Huntingdon Plan” emphasizes the Judeo-Christian tradition and leadership and is grounded in ethical debate and service. It reflects the College’s commitment to providing a comprehensive educational experience. Preparation for postgraduate education and for living and working in a global community are aided by new emphases on computerized technology, language study, and a variety of opportunities to study abroad with Huntingdon faculty. In their first year, students will individually receive computers and have access to a variety of research and study resources through the campus network and the Internet.

The Huntingdon Plan seeks to educate the whole person for the 21st Century while remaining true to the motto which has reflected the College’s goals for its students since 1854: “Enter to grow in wisdom. Go forth to apply wisdom in service.” Through academic courses and student life programs, students are provided with a rich array of classes, internships, service opportunities, and travel options to make this motto a personal reflection of the Huntingdon experience.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

The academic programs at Huntingdon College are divided into seven departments. The specific programs, majors, minors, teacher certification options, and courses offered by each department are described on the page(s) corresponding to the department in the following list:

Department	page
• Biology and Chemistry	2.3
• Business, Global Leadership, and Political Science	2.15
• Education, Exercise Science, and Psychology	2.28
• History, Modern Languages, and Religious Studies	2.54
• Literary and Communication Studies	2.67
• Mathematics and Computer Science	2.76
• Music, Theater, and Fine Art.	2.82

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Interdisciplinary Studies consist of majors in American Studies, European Studies, International Studies and Public Affairs Tri-Subject, a minor in Women’s Studies, and a number of courses that cross departmental lines. The goal of the interdisciplinary programs is to create a flexible system offering students courses that work together and give coherence, breadth, and depth to the student’s four years of study. Students choosing an interdisciplinary major or minor can select from a wide variety of courses representing most departments of the College. Some of the program descriptions give only general information about the nature of the courses appropriate to the program rather than specific course titles. Students should contact the appropriate professor in the area of study for specific information related to a particular program.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING PROGRAMS

Huntingdon, in cooperation with Alabama State University and the Department of the Air Force and Auburn University Montgomery and the Department of the Army, provides the opportunity for Huntingdon students to enroll in Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC) and Military Science (Army ROTC). Upon successful completion of the reserve officer training programs and the undergraduate degree at Huntingdon, a student will receive a commission in the appropriate military service.

The nationwide ROTC program is the major source of officer procurement. The purpose of ROTC is to offer educational experiences which will develop an appreciation for democracy, prepare students for responsible citizenship, and train students for management and leadership in the appropriate military service.

ACADEMIC OPTIONS

THE STALLWORTH CHAIR OF LECTURESHIP IN THE LIBERAL ARTS

In the fall of 1985, the Stallworth Chair was established by Miss Mary Elizabeth Stallworth in honor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCreary Stallworth, and her brother, Mr. John Morriss Stallworth, to provide funding for visiting lecturers and scholars. The income provided is to be used by the President of the College for special lectures, for seminars to be offered to students and constituents of the College, and for scholars and artists who will be invited for a visiting residency on the campus. The speakers and subjects chosen may be drawn from any discipline of the College. In the selection of the participants, emphasis will be given to the College's commitment to prepare students for leadership in the church and for effective citizenship.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

An outstanding student in a particular major has the opportunity to create an individualized honors project within the major to meet a particular need and interest. Each participant must be a senior, or in exceptional cases a junior, who has a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.50 in all subjects, or a grade point of 3.20 in all subjects and at least 3.60 in the major subject. A written application, including the signatures of the appropriate program coordinator and department chair, to the Honor's Committee for final approval must be submitted to the Registrar's Office prior to the semester during which the project will be pursued.

INDIVIDUAL STUDY

Students with sophomore or higher standing may engage in an individual study project. The project is designed in consultation with an instructor who will direct the course of study and who will evaluate the final project. Such a project may call for a systematic reading program, library investigation, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Students intending to apply their projects toward a major or minor must register for letter-grade evaluation.

An individual study may equate to a course offered at Huntingdon College that the student is unable to complete in a traditional manner. If the course is used to satisfy a core or major requirement it must be taken on a graded basis.

INTERNSHIP

In order to broaden and enhance a strong academic foundation, participation as a student intern is available to Huntingdon College students who meet academic requirements. An internship can be invaluable in helping a student assess career goals by providing on-the-job experience. This experience can be of great assistance to those seeking full time employment and/or admission to graduate school. Students interested in internships should contact the Internship Coordinator or their academic advisor for more information. Requirements and academic credits for internships vary according to the applicable department, but generally a student must have sophomore standing and a 2.50 GPA to participate in the internship program.

JANUARY TERM

The January Term is an integral part of the College calendar and curriculum, and all students are expected to attend. Several types of courses are offered during the January Term which provide an opportunity for a student to work intensively on a topic of interest with close faculty supervision in a small group. Some of the topics for the courses are selected from interdisciplinary proposals. Others combine the practical and the academic in a meaningful context. Still others aid the student in the major course of study. These courses are all structured to provide a variety of learning situations. January Term courses may carry no more than two hours of credit. Most January Term courses are offered on a pass/no credit basis. Unless otherwise noted, courses offered in the January Term may not be used to meet major, minor, or core requirements.

The January Term will begin on Monday, January 5, 2004, and end on Friday, January 16, 2004. Full-time students enrolled in either semester attend January Term without paying additional tuition. Residential students who have paid room and board for either semester pay no additional charges for room and board. Enrollment in the January Term is limited to current or returning students.

Notes: 1. Students who register for a January Term course and do not attend the class sessions will be charged for tuition, meals, and housing and will be dismissed for the duration of the term.

2. Residential students who do not enroll for a January Term course may not reside in the residence halls during January Term.

SELF-DESIGNED INTERDISCIPLINARY MAJOR

The Self-Designed Interdisciplinary major must promise benefits not obtainable through any established major. This major provides an opportunity for a student to study in an area that can best be covered by combining the work in two or three academic departments. Grade requirements for the major are consistent with those for other majors.

The major consists of not fewer than 36 hours of courses suited to the student's educational objectives. Eighteen of these 36 hours must be in 300 or 400 level courses offered at Huntingdon College or approved for credit by the faculty, and must be related to the area of concentration or interest.

Each program is designed by the student in consultation with the department chairs involved, or their representatives. The final proposal for the interdisciplinary major must be submitted by the department chairs to the Committee on Academic Policy no later than midterm of the second semester of the sophomore year for approval and assignment of the advisor(s). The proposal should include a complete listing of courses as well as a description of the manner in which the Senior Capstone, if required, will be structured.

PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DUAL DEGREE—ENGINEERING, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DR. ANTHONY CARLISLE, DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE, ADVISOR

Huntingdon College has a cooperative arrangement with Auburn University in which a student may pursue an engineering degree by attending Huntingdon College for approximately three years and Auburn University for approximately two years. Upon completion of all requirements, the student is awarded a baccalaureate degree from Huntingdon College as well as the appropriate engineering bachelor's degree from Auburn University. Careful planning of the student's program is especially important, and the student should contact the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science at the beginning of his or her college work and be careful to maintain this connection throughout the college career.

LAW, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DR. JOHN WILLIAMS, DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY, MODERN LANGUAGES, AND RELIGIOUS STUDIES, ADVISOR

A student planning to pursue a career in law is best advised to concentrate on areas of study aimed at developing skills in oral and written expression and the comprehension of language, a critical understanding of the human institutions and values closely related to law, and a logical and systematic approach to solving problems. No particular major is required, although an interest in a particular field of law may indicate a choice of major. Students interested in the possibility of a legal career should consult with the prelaw advisor.

MEDICINE, DENTISTRY, OPTOMETRY, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DR. MASSIMO BEZOARI, DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY AND CHEMISTRY, SENIOR ADVISOR

DR. ERASTUS C. DUDLEY, DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY AND CHEMISTRY, CO-ADVISOR

Students interested in pursuing these professions upon graduation from Huntingdon should meet with an advisor during or before their first registration. Undergraduate courses required for admission into medical, dental, or optometry schools are similar, and the importance of a good academic record cannot be over emphasized. Students interested in these careers may choose any undergraduate major as long as they have completed specifically required courses. A typical set of requirements might include:

- General Chemistry with lab (two semesters)
- Organic Chemistry with lab (two semesters)
- General Biology with lab (two semesters)
- General Physics with lab (two semesters)
- Mathematics (two semesters, Calculus recommended)
- Humanities (two semesters)
- Rhetoric and Literature (two semesters).

Usually during the spring of the junior year, the premedical student will take the Medical College Admission Text (MCAT).

PHARMACY, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DR. MAUREEN KENDRICK MURPHY, DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY AND CHEMISTRY, ADVISOR

Students interested in attending pharmacy school may complete requirements for admission in three years of course work at Huntingdon. Although there are required courses in other areas, the required science courses include the following:

- General Chemistry with lab (two semesters)
- Organic Chemistry with lab (two semesters)
- General Biology with lab (two semesters)
- Microbiology
- Human Anatomy and Physiology (two semesters)
- General Physics with lab (two semesters)
- Mathematics (one semester, Calculus recommended)

PHYSICAL THERAPY, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

MR. SHELBY SEARCY, DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, EXERCISE SCIENCE, AND PSYCHOLOGY, ADVISOR

A student planning to apply for admission to a physical therapy program upon the completion of the baccalaureate degree should closely follow the Pre-Physical Therapy Program outlined below. This program is designed for students interested in Physical Therapy and allows the student to choose any undergraduate major.

To ensure completion of requisite course work, students should enter the Pre-Physical Therapy Program as early in their baccalaureate career as possible. Students should contact the pre-physical therapy advisor who, along with the student’s major advisor, will assist the student in planning coursework. Any necessary substitutions in the program core must be approved by the Pre-Physical Therapy Program advisor. Students must also maintain an overall GPA of at least 3.00.

Program Requirements

College core	48-57 hours
Major requirements	30-39 hours
Program core*	64-65 hours
Biology: 101, 103, 202 or 227, 214 or 414, 322
Chemistry: 105, 106, 115, 116, 305, 315
Mathematics: 171, 255
Human Performance: 308, 315, 433
Physics: 251, 252
Psychology: 201 and 6 hours of electives

*A portion of the hours may also satisfy the student’s college core and major requirements.

THEOLOGICAL OR MINISTERIAL, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DR. FRANK BUCKNER, DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY, MODERN LANGUAGES, AND RELIGIOUS STUDIES, ADVISOR

Students contemplating theological study may choose any field for their major work and are encouraged to undertake a broad cultural preparation, choosing courses that will help them develop communication skills, an understanding of human nature and values, and creative thinking. They should consider the following subjects: language and literature; history, non-Western cultures as well as European; natural science; psychology; the fine arts; cultural and religious studies and philosophy. Huntingdon College, in cooperation with the United Methodist Church, offers tuition assistance to Methodist students who are preparing for careers in ministry. Information on these opportunities may be obtained from the advisor or the Director of Financial Aid.

Students interested in pursuing a career in Christian Education (Youth or Children’s Ministries) may choose virtually any field for their major work. Any major earned from a liberal arts college will adequately prepare them for further study in a seminary. In addition to courses in a chosen major, students interested in pursuing a career in Christian Education should consider the following courses:

- Christian Education: 200, 330, 360
- Communication Studies: 201 or 202, 242, 335, 420
- Cultural and Religious Studies: 101, 150, 201
- Education: 201, 401
- Psychology: 201, 301, 302, 305, 307
- Recreation: 307, 309

VETERINARY MEDICINE, PREPROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DR. PAUL GIER, DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY AND CHEMISTRY, ADVISOR

A student interested in a career in veterinary medicine should contact the advisor each year for a review of academic progress and to discuss summer programs and/or employment opportunities that will enhance his or her preparation for entry into this field.

Entrance requirements vary from one veterinary school to another, and a student should become acquainted with the requirements of those particular schools which seem to be the most appropriate choices for that student. The student should confer with the advisor in order to determine the courses that will assure proper preparation for the Veterinary Admissions Test (VAT). Pre-veterinary students should be aware that some veterinary schools require the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) or the Graduate Record Examination

(GRE) instead of or in addition to the VAT. Veterinary school applications are typically due almost a year in advance of the expected enrollment, so prospective students need to begin the application process during their junior year.

OFF-CAMPUS EXPERIENCES

CONSORTIA STUDY OPPORTUNITIES

Huntingdon students may participate in the Marine Environmental Sciences Consortium located at Dauphin Island, Alabama. Specific courses available are listed under the Department of Biology and Chemistry heading.

Huntingdon College is a member of a six-college consortium (Alabama Consortium for the Development of Higher Education) which includes Huntingdon College, Judson College, Miles College, Stillman College, University of Alabama, and University of Montevallo. Programs are sponsored jointly by consortium institutions.

Huntingdon College is also a member of the Montgomery Higher Education Consortium with Auburn University Montgomery and Faulkner University. Students officially registered and enrolled on a full time basis in any of the three institutions will be allowed to cross-enroll in another institution for a maximum of one course during a given term. In this program, tuition and registration fees are waived by the host institution. Students may be cross-enrolled upon approval of their Department Chair, the Registrar and upon presentation of a complete consortium agreement application to the Registrar of the host institution. Contact the Registrar's Office for further information.

STUDY ABROAD

Embracing Mark Twain's view that "Travel is fatal to prejudice, bigotry, and narrow-mindedness," Huntingdon College sponsors a variety of study abroad programs. Many of these programs are organized directly by individual faculty of the College. Recently they have taken students throughout Great Britain, Europe, Costa Rica, Peru, and the Caribbean.

Huntingdon students have traditionally studied abroad during the "Jan Term," and the College is committed to helping all students have a travel abroad experience during that term in the junior or senior year. Students will have financial support to help defray the travel costs of one Jan Term or (with the approval of the International Travel Committee) to be applied to a more lengthy foreign study experience.

RESOURCES

THE FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE (FYEx) PROGRAM

Huntingdon College considers the FYEx to be a student's first step to success in college. The goal of this program is to involve the student in many activities and events which will get them connected to the Huntingdon community and will help them take an active role in their education by learning about the College and its traditions, setting goals and priorities, and balancing a rigorous academic life with social, athletic, religious and cultural activities. Various opportunities and experiences, including a personal FYEx Advisor for each student and programs such as Faculty Theme Dinners, FYEx Get-Aways and the Preprofessional Lunch Club (PPLC), prepare each first year Huntingdon student for meaningful interaction in a complex and competitive world.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Huntingdon believes that conscientious and well-informed advising of students on an individual basis is an important part of the academic program. Sound academic advice can make the difference between a coherent and exciting education that satisfies personal and professional goals and one that is fragmented and frustrating. Academic advising helps the student address not simply course selection and scheduling, but also define what a liberally educated person should know.

Since students are responsible themselves for meeting academic goals and requirements, they are urged to take full advantage of the help and information the advisor can offer. They should take the initiative in making appointments with the advisor for academic and other counsel. The academic advisor approves the students' schedule of courses at the time of registration and any subsequent changes thereafter. Advisors expect to be consulted whenever academic problems arise and are especially concerned with the academic progress of their advisees.

Students who have chosen departmental majors receive guidance from the chair of their major departments or their designee. Students in Teacher Certification programs such as Secondary and P-12 receive counsel regarding certification requirements from designated advisors in the Teacher Certification Program and the Chair of their major departments. Students pursuing a preprofessional program of study (Dentistry, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Optometry, Pharmacy, Physical Therapy, Theology or Veterinary Medicine) receive counsel regarding academic matters from faculty members designated as the pre-professional advisors.

Each student who has not chosen a major or a career objective for which there is a special advisor is counseled by a member of the faculty advising group chosen to assist students who are undecided. Students who are undecided are expected to select courses which will enable them to begin satisfying the college core, to explore possibilities for a major and perhaps to continue study in a field of interest to them. All students, in planning their first year and a half, should examine the requirements for any major of potential interest.

COLLEGE SKILLS WORKSHOPS

The College Skills Workshops are designed to assist students in learning computer skills as required for the Basic Computer Competency Test. The workshop topics include essential operation and terminology, the World-Wide Web, e-mail, word-processing, and spreadsheet software.

THE COMPUTER CENTER

The Computer Center, which provides centralized information services for the campus community, is located in the James W. Wilson Center. The Center operates a variety of world-wide-web, news, file, and print servers and has computer laboratories equipped with Windows PCs and Power Macintoshes.

The laboratories are open to students on a 24-hour-per-day, seven-day-a-week basis during the regular school year. Shorter hours may be in effect during holidays and summer terms. The machines are generally available on a first-come, first-served basis but may at times be reserved for use by a class or for special activities. No charges are made for use of computer laboratory equipment. Questions about the Computer Center can be sent by e-mail addressed to cc@huntingdon.edu.

THE LIBRARY

Houghton Memorial Library houses a collection of approximately 110,000 volumes, current subscriptions to 470 periodicals, extensive holdings of back issues of periodicals in both bound and microform formats, a collection of audiovisual materials which includes over 1,400 videocassettes and DVDs, and a reference section of over 8,500 volumes including a wide range of indexes and over fifty electronic data bases for research purposes. The Library's resources are available through its web site and "Countess," the on-line catalog. These resources are augmented by a reciprocal student and faculty borrowing agreement through the Montgomery Higher Education Consortium and through standard interlibrary loan procedures. The library faculty and staff provide orientation and instruction in the effective use of the Library for students of the College. During the regular school term, the facility is open seven days a week. The Library is an institutional member of the American Library Association and the Association of College and Research Libraries, as well as a member of the Southeastern Library Network (Solinet) and an Affiliate of the Network of Alabama Academic Libraries.

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

ACADEMIC POLICIES

It is the responsibility of the student to be familiar with and to complete the requirements for the degree being sought. The faculty and staff of Huntingdon College will assist each student, but it is the student who must insure that all core, major, degree, and graduation requirements have been completed in the manner outlined in this catalog. This catalog presents the requirements for students entering Huntingdon during the 2003-2004 academic year.

The College reserves the right to change its academic policies and requirements. Such changes will be publicized to minimize inconvenience to students. Huntingdon College also reserves the right to modify or discontinue any academic offerings or degree programs when necessary. In such cases, the College will make reasonable efforts to allow current students to complete the program or will assist in their transfer to other acceptable programs.

ACADEMIC SCHEDULE

The academic year is divided into two semesters: the first beginning in late August and ending before Christmas (Fall Semester), the second beginning in late January and ending in May (Spring Semester). A two week Interterm, or January term, usually begins the second week of January. The official College calendar for 2003-2004 is located on pages ii and iii of this publication. The summer session calendar may be found in the Summer Bulletin which is published each spring semester.

During the semester, classes are held five days a week, Monday through Friday. The normal class schedule calls for each class to meet for three 50-minute or two 75-minute sessions each week.

The Huntingdon College schedule of classes is published for information purposes. The College reserves the right to cancel, postpone, combine or change the time of any class for which there is not sufficient enrollment or for other reasons deemed in the best interest of the institution.

CATALOG OF CHOICE

Each catalog presents the requirements for students entering Huntingdon during that particular year and is the catalog the student's academic advisor(s) and Registrar will use in verifying degree and major requirements for graduation. Any request to change catalog must be submitted in writing and approved by the student's department chair with the concurrence of the Dean of the College. A change of catalog will apply to all requirements, core, major, as well as graduation.

If there is an enrollment break of four or more years, the student must use the catalog issued for the year in which the student is readmitted.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to attend all classes, laboratories and internships for which they are enrolled. Students should be aware of attendance policies stated in course syllabi and understand that they are responsible for the academic consequences of absences.

A student requesting to be excused from a class, laboratory, or internship activity due to participation in a documented College-sponsored event must provide to the faculty member or instructor a written description of the event (verifiable with the office of the Dean of the College), must notify the faculty member or instructor no later than the class meeting prior to the absence, and must arrange with the faculty member or instructor how any required work will be made up.

CONVOCATION ATTENDANCE

Each term there are a variety of all-college convocations. All full-time day students are expected to attend these programs. Dates and specific information about the programs are published at the beginning of the fall and spring semesters by the Office of the Dean of the College. Documented attendance at three or more convocations in a given semester shall be considered to be equivalent to one-half hour of credit (see CONV 002, page 2.103).

COURSE LOAD

A student must be registered for a minimum of 12 hours of work per semester to be considered a full-time student. The normal load for a student planning to graduate with a degree in four years is 15 to 16 academic credits per semester or 31 credits each academic year.

Work successfully completed during a summer session is counted toward the 124 academic credits required for graduation, as is the case with transfer or advanced placement credit, but it does not count in the application of Standards of Satisfactory Progress in any academic year.

Freshmen may not enroll in more than 16 hours during the first semester of attendance. After the first semester freshman year, students wishing to take more than 17 hours must have a GPA of 3.0 or higher for the preceding fall or spring semester. In unusual circumstances a student who does not meet this requirement may be permitted to take more than 17 hours with permission the Dean of the College. Students may not enroll in more than 22 hours during the Fall or Spring Semester or more than 7 hours during the traditional Summer Terms. Students are not permitted to enroll in more than one course during January Term for a total of two semester hours.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS

Final examinations are held during specific days at the end of each semester. Attendance at all scheduled and announced final examinations is required. The timetable for these examinations is listed with the College's calendar at the beginning of this catalog and is available on the College's web site.

A student who is unable to take a final examination at the scheduled time may not reschedule the examination without written permission from the Dean of the College. Permission will be granted only for illness or other compelling reasons, such as participation in scheduled events off-campus as an official representative of the College.

APPLICATION FOR GRADUATION

All students must file with the Registrar an application to graduate. The form, available in the Registrar's office, should be filed during or prior to preregistration for the final semester. The form is used for major verification and to determine eligibility for graduation. Failure to submit the form may cause a delay in graduation due to unfulfilled requirements and/or faculty approval to graduate.

All financial obligations to the College must be discharged before a final transcript indicating graduation will be issued. The conferral of the degree is officially certified by the transcript of record.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

On specific dates in the latter part of each semester, currently enrolled students may preregister for the following semester. Final registration takes place at the beginning of a new semester on dates indicated in the College calendar. During final registration newly-entering students and others not preregistered may register for the semester. Each student must register in person. Students must have their schedules approved by their faculty advisor(s) before submitting their schedule to the Office of the Registrar.

Students who do not complete registration properly or who fail to clear all financial obligations to the College are not considered officially enrolled and will be denied all credit for the semester. Registration after the announced registration period involves payment of a late registration fee. A student may not register and enter classes after the first week of the semester.

PREREQUISITES

It is the student's responsibility to check prerequisites for any course for which he or she registers. A prerequisite is a course or other preparation that must be completed before enrolling in an advanced course. The student is responsible for determining, prior to registration, if all prerequisite requirements have been met for individual classes in which enrollment is completed. Prerequisite information is contained in the course description section of the catalog. Students may automatically be removed from courses for which they have not completed the prerequisite by the Registrar's Office.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION

For a period of one week at the beginning of the semester, a student may add or drop courses. A student may not enter a class after it has met the first time during the second week of the semester. To add or drop a course, a student must bring a Change of Enrollment form to the Office of the Registrar. The student and the advisor must both sign the form. Unless a course change is made in this manner, it has no official standing and will not be recognized by the College. Courses dropped during this period are not entered on the student's transcript.

WITHDRAWAL FROM A COURSE

After the end of the official add/drop period, but prior to the end of the fifth week (as indicated in the official academic calendar), a student may withdraw from any course by completing a Course Withdrawal Form I signed by the student and by the faculty advisor and brought by the student to the Office of the Registrar. The transcript will indicate a grade of W for such withdrawals. Unless a course change is handled in this manner, it has no official standing and will not be recognized by the College. Financial adjustments will not be made for withdrawals after the third week, or if a student retains full-time status.

Students wishing to withdraw from a course after the end of the fifth week of the semester must do so by completing a Course Withdrawal Form II signed by the student, by the faculty advisor, and by the course instructor. This form must be brought by the student to the Office of the Registrar. The course instructor will assign a grade of WP indicating withdraw passing, or WF indicating withdraw failing, depending on the student's status at the time of withdrawal. The transcript will indicate a grade of WP or WF for such withdrawals. Unless a course change is handled in this manner, it has no official standing and will not be recognized by the College.

Students who do not officially withdraw from classes will typically be assigned a grade of "F" by their instructors.

PASS/NO CREDIT

A student who chooses to take a course on a Pass/No Credit basis, other than during January Term or other courses taught strictly on a Pass/No Credit basis, must complete the Application for a Course to be Evaluated on Pass/No Credit Basis card within the time frame indicated in the Calendar. Courses used to satisfy the basic degree requirement, i.e. core curriculum, major or minor, may not be taken on a Pass/No Credit basis. A graded course may not be repeated on a Pass/No Credit basis. The application is available in the Registrar's Office.

AUDIT (NO-CREDIT OPTION FOR COURSES WHICH DO NOT REQUIRE PARTICIPATION)

Students who wish to audit a course are required to complete an Application for a Course to be Evaluated on an Audit Basis and file it with the Office of the Registrar. Students who register for a course in this manner are expected to attend all regular classes. Students auditing a class may participate at the discretion of the instructor. A student who first enrolls for auditor status may change to credit status only during the first class week. Students who first register for credit may change to auditor status any time during the first eight weeks. Courses audited are not included in the total credits earned toward a major or degree or the cumulative grade point average. However, the credit value of any course audited is computed in the assessment of tuition. Courses which require participation, i.e. laboratory, music, art, etc., cannot be audited.

NON-CREDIT (NO-CREDIT OPTION FOR COURSES WHICH REQUIRE PARTICIPATION)

Students who wish to enroll in a course for non-credit after registration are required to complete an Application for a Course to be Evaluated on a Non-Credit Basis and file it with the Office of the Registrar. Students who register for a course in this manner are expected to attend all regular classes. A student who first enrolls for non-credit may change to credit status only during the first class week. Students who first register for credit may change to non-credit status any time during the first eight weeks. Courses taken for noncredit are not included in the total credits earned toward a major or degree or the cumulative grade point average. However, the credit value of any course taken for noncredit is computed in the assessment of tuition. Courses which require participation, i.e. laboratory, music, art, etc., should be taken on an Audit basis, not on a non-credit basis.

REPEATING COURSES

Although Huntingdon does not remove the original grade from the permanent record, the College will permit a student to repeat a course under the conditions listed below.

A student:

- may have only one lower course grade removed of any given course in the computation of the GPA;
- may not repeat a course for a higher grade on a pass/no credit basis unless the course was initially taken on a pass/no credit basis;
- may not repeat for a higher grade at another college or university a course initially taken at Huntingdon College;
- must complete, sign, and submit a Request to Repeat a Course form at the time of registration.

Additional credit may not be earned when repeating a course for a higher grade.

Huntingdon College does not guarantee the availability of any course for repetition.

TRANSFER CREDIT (CREDIT ELSEWHERE)

A currently enrolled student who wishes to take course work at another college or university and apply that work toward the requirements for a Huntingdon College degree must secure approval of his/her program advisor, the Coordinator of the Teacher Certification Program (if applicable), and the Registrar. The program advisor will determine suitability of the course, and the Registrar must certify the student's academic standing and course equivalency. Credit may not be granted at Huntingdon for any course not specifically approved in advance.

A student:

- may not repeat at another college or university a course initially taken at Huntingdon College;
- who has accumulated as many as sixty-four semester hours from a junior college, may only take work at a senior college or university;
- may not exceed the normal load permitted at Huntingdon College during the same period;
- may not take at the other college or university any course or courses being offered at Huntingdon College in the same semester or term;
- may not apply correspondence or extension credit toward a major;
- must have a minimum of twenty seven hours remaining in residence.

Credit will be granted for any approved course completed with a grade of C or better, or in the case of a course taken on Pass/Fail basis, a grade of P (the P must equate to a C or better). Credit hours only are accepted for courses taken elsewhere.

CONSORTIUM COURSE WORK

Full-time students may enroll in one course per semester under the Montgomery Higher Education Consortium. The charge is covered by tuition paid at Huntingdon. Students who wish to take courses under this agreement must secure the approval of their academic advisor, the Coordinator of the Teacher Certification Program (if applicable) and the Registrar. Credit may not be granted for a course not specifically approved in advance.

A student:

- may not repeat at another college or university a course initially taken at Huntingdon College;
- may not exceed the normal load permitted at Huntingdon College during the same period;
- may not take at another college or university in the area any course or courses being offered at Huntingdon College in the same semester or term.

Approved consortium courses may count toward the terminal residence requirement of 30 semester hours.

Grades and quality points received from courses taken under the consortium will be entered on the Huntingdon College transcript.

COLLEGE LEVEL EXAMINATION PROGRAM (CLEP)

Credit will not be granted for General Examinations taken after the student has entered college. Credit will not be granted for a lower sequence course if a more advanced course has been completed. In any one discipline a maximum of 12 semester hours may be earned. Huntingdon awards up to 30 semester hours of credit for satisfactory scores (50th percentile or higher) on the College Level Examination Program.

Current students who wish to take courses under this agreement must secure the approval of their academic advisor, the Director of the Teacher Certification Program (if applicable) and the Registrar. Students should contact the Office of the Registrar if they have questions concerning CLEP. A $25.00 per credit hour recording fee is assessed.

GRADING POLICIES

COURSE GRADES AND POINTS

The quality of achievement in a course is measured as follows:

- A Excellent; earns four grade points per semester hour.
- B Good; earns three grade points per semester hour.
- C Average; earns two grade points per semester hour.
- D Poor; earns one grade point per semester hour.
- F Unsatisfactory; earns no grade point per semester hour.
- I Incomplete; a temporary notation used only when course requirements have not been completed due to illness or extenuating circumstances beyond the control of the student. The incomplete must be replaced by a final grade prior to the conclusion of the next full semester or the incomplete must be extended by the instructor. The instructor may elect to specify a lesser time period for the completion of the course. It is the student's responsibility to initiate attention to the removal of the incomplete, to maintain contact with the instructor, to complete the course work, and to verify that the instructor submitted a final grade to the Office of the Registrar. A revised grade report will be issued to the student after the instructor has submitted the grade to the Registrar. An I cancels eligibility for annual honors, i.e. Dean's List of Honors and Dean's List of High Honors.
- N No credit; used for a course graded on a Pass/No Credit basis. If a grade of F is earned, the grade will be recorded as N. This does not count in the grade point average.
- P Pass; used for courses graded on a Pass/No Credit basis. If a grade of A, B, C, or D, is earned the grade will be recorded as P. Semester hours are earned, but not grade points.
- S Satisfactory; used for attendance courses required for a major in which credit cannot be earned. This does not count in the grade point average.
- U Unsatisfactory; used for attendance courses required for a major in which credit cannot be earned. This does not count in the grade point average.
- W Withdrawal; indicates that the student withdrew from the course during the first five weeks of the semester or from the college during the first ten weeks of the semester.
- WP Withdraw Passing; indicates the student was passing the course at the time of withdrawal, which occurred after the fifth week and prior to the eleventh week of the semester.
- WF Withdraw Failing; indicates the student was failing the course at the time of withdrawal, which occurred after the fifth week and prior to the eleventh week of the semester.
Note: Grades of W, WP, and WF are not used in the calculation of the grade point average.
- Y Audit; designation for a course in which a student elects not to earn credit and active participation is not required. Participation courses, i.e. laboratory, music, art, etc., cannot be audited.
- Z Non-Credit; designation for a course in which a student elects not to earn credit and active participation is required.

GRADE REPORTS AND GRADE POINT AVERAGE

All grades are entered into the student's permanent record (transcript) at the end of each semester. Huntingdon College grade reports are sent to all students at their home address at the completion of each semester.

The grade report will indicate the final grades for all courses taken during the semester, the semester hours attempted, the quality points and credits earned, and the term grade point average. Also included on the grade report will be a record of the total number of hours attempted, the total quality points earned, and a cumulative grade point average. The grade point average is computed by multiplying the quality points earned by the credit hours of each course and by dividing the total quality points earned by the total credit hours attempted as indicated by the following example:

3 semester hours of A	x 4 =	12 quality points
3 semester hours of B	x 3 =	9 quality points
3 semester hours of C	x 2 =	6 quality points
3 semester hours of D	x 1 =	3 quality points
3 semester hours of F	x 0 =	0 quality points
<hr/>
15 semester hours		30 quality points

$$30 \text{ quality points} \div 15 \text{ hours attempted} = 2.00 \text{ GPA}$$

CHANGE IN GRADE/GRADE APPEALS

A course grade which has been reported by the instructor to the Registrar's Office cannot be changed without a properly executed Adjustment of Student's Academic Record card signed by the instructor. Students who believe that an incorrect grade was awarded by the instructor, or who perceive that other problems may exist for which an appeal is warranted, should address their initial inquiry to the Office of the Registrar.

ACADEMIC HONORS

DEAN'S LIST

At the end of each semester, the Vice President for Academic Affairs issues a list of students who have achieved academic distinction. To be eligible for the Dean's List a student must have received letter grade evaluations on at least twelve hours during the term and must have completed all course work for the term. An I on a student's grade report precludes the student's inclusion on the Dean's List.

The Dean's List of High Honors recognizes those who achieve semester averages of 3.80 - 4.00.

The Dean's List of Honors recognizes those who achieve semester averages of 3.60 - 3.79.

HONORS AT GRADUATION

Honors at graduation are conferred upon students who complete work for the Bachelor of Arts degree with high distinction. These honors are recorded on the student's transcript.

The minimum cumulative grade-point averages, in all courses, required for special scholastic recognition at graduation are as follows:

Summa cum laude (designation given to graduate with highest average in class).....	3.75
Magna cum laude	3.75
Cum laude	3.50

A transfer student must complete 60 hours of work at Huntingdon College to graduate with honors. To graduate with highest honors, Summa cum laude, a transfer student must have completed 120 academic hours at Huntingdon College. The minimum cumulative grade-point averages, in all graded courses, required for special scholastic recognition at graduation are as follows:

Magna cum laude	3.90
Cum laude	3.70

Students may also receive departmental honors upon the recommendation of the major department, a grade of A or B in Departmental Honors 491, and a final cumulative grade point average of 3.50 or higher.

ACADEMIC STANDING

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Class designation is generally based on the number of hours the student has earned in courses offered at Huntingdon College or transferred from other accredited institutions. The following is a general explanation of class designation:

Freshman: A student who has earned 0 - 23 hours of credit.

Sophomore: A student who has earned 24 - 56 hours of credit.

Junior: A student who has earned 57 - 89 hours of credit.

Senior: A student who has earned 90 or more hours of credit.

Class designation does not necessarily reflect the student's readiness to graduate or progress in the chosen program of study.

STANDARDS OF SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Each student is expected to maintain satisfactory academic standing and progress toward the baccalaureate degree. Continuation in college, various privileges, and opportunities for leadership activities are governed by the student's academic standing and classification. Students who do not maintain a grade average of sufficient quality to insure meeting graduation requirements are subject to academic disciplinary action.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Satisfactory progress toward degree completion is defined as meeting or exceeding the following cumulative grade point average (GPA) requirements. Total Hours Attempted refers to the sum of hours transferred, CLEP/AP/IB credit hours, and the number of hours attempted at Huntingdon College.

- At the end of the first semester in which a student has 24 or more Total Hours Attempted, a student should have a cumulative grade point average of at least 1.70.
- For any subsequent semester, the following table provides the requisite minimum cumulative GPA based on Total Hours Attempted:

Total Hours Attempted	Minimum Grade Point Average
25 - 56	1.80
57 - 89	1.90
90 or more	2.00

SCHOLASTIC PROBATION

A student will be placed on academic probation for the following regular semester (fall or spring) of enrollment if one of the following occurs:

- the student earns in any regular semester (fall or spring) a grade point average of less than 1.50;
- the student fails more than one-third of the academic load in any regular semester;
- the student is not making satisfactory progress toward degree completion as defined above.

These criteria are reviewed after grades have been posted at the end of each regular semester (fall or spring) to determine a student's probationary status for the subsequent regular semester of enrollment. While on Scholastic Probation, a student is not in "good standing" and may not participate in any extracurricular activities. Extracurricular activities are defined as those sponsored by any agency of the College and for which the student does not receive a grade.

ACADEMIC SUSPENSION

A student whose academic performance results in Scholastic Probation being assigned at the end of three consecutive regular semesters of enrollment will be placed on Academic Suspension. Being placed on Academic Suspension means that the individual is not eligible to attend courses at Huntingdon until the suspension has been removed. Students who have been suspended must petition the Dean of the College in writing for readmission. The first suspension will ordinarily be for the duration of one regular semester (fall or spring), the second suspension for a full academic year.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE COLLEGE

Students wishing to withdraw during a semester of attendance must obtain an Application for Student Withdrawal form in the Office of the Registrar to certify exit conferences with the Dean of the College, the Dean of Students, the Director of Financial Aid (if applicable) and the College Cashier.

Withdrawal must be completed in person and will only be recognized with the completion and return of the withdrawal form to the Registrar's Office. A telephone call indicating the intent to withdraw does not constitute an official withdrawal. Grades assigned at the time of withdrawal will be determined by the date of the withdrawal. Students withdrawing on their own initiative during the first ten weeks of classes will be assigned a W in lieu of a regular grade for each course. After these dates, a grade of "F" is recorded unless the withdrawal is caused by an emergency beyond the control of the student, in which case a W is assigned. The College may require withdrawal at any time if it deems it to be in the best interest of either the student or the College. If the cause for withdrawal is sufficient and the standing of the student warrants, it will be permitted without assignment of grades; otherwise, the grade will be F in each subject.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

A leave of absence means that a student in good standing, who is eligible for continued enrollment, ceases to be enrolled and is guaranteed readmission.

Students submit a written application for leave of absence to the Academic Dean's Office prior to the beginning of the semester in which the leave will take effect. To be confirmed, leave forms must be signed by both the student and the Academic Dean.

Leaves are granted for a finite period of time, and normally may not exceed four semesters. A leave normally will not be granted to students on Scholastic Probation or Disciplinary Probation.

While on leave, the student's status is temporarily inactivated. A leave of absence guarantees an individual's readmission only if the student confirms intent to return within the time frame agreed upon in the application for leave. A leave does not guarantee housing upon the student's return.

Upon readmission, students must reapply for financial aid according to the Office of Financial Aid policies and procedures in effect at that time.

TRANSCRIPTS

Transcripts will normally be issued by the Registrar's Office upon written request by the student within five to seven working days after clearance from the Business Office. During the busy periods of processing final grades, transcripts will be issued within ten working days after final grades are mailed.

Official copies of Huntingdon College transcripts bearing the College seal and the College Registrar's signature are sent by first-class mail directly to schools or organizations upon the signed written request of the student or former student. Upon signed written request, individuals may also receive official copies of his or her transcript which are stamped "Issued to Student."

An initial transcript is provided free of charge as a service to students. Subsequent requests are $4.00 per transcript. All transcripts are sent first-class mail. Other methods of delivery (i.e. overnight, etc.) are available on request and for an additional charge.

Requests for transcripts received by FAX will be processed provided the request contains the student's signature, Social Security Number, and VISA or MasterCard number with expiration date. (Detailed instructions are available by calling 334-833-4430.) If the FAX does not contain the correct credit card information, transcripts will not be issued until the appropriate fee is received. Copies of transcripts will not be sent as a FAX unless so stipulated in the written request. Such copies will not be considered official transcripts, and Huntingdon assumes no responsibility for confidentiality for such records.

Transcripts will not be provided for students, current or former, or alumni with overdue accounts or other financial obligations to the College.

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

Huntingdon College complies with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. This federal law provides that an institution will maintain the confidentiality of student records, and it provides students and parents of dependent students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their educational records, to challenge the contents of their educational records, to have a hearing if the outcome of the challenge is unsatisfactory, and to submit explanatory statements for inclusion in their files if they feel the decisions of the hearing panels are unacceptable.

At its discretion, in response to individual inquiry or by publication, the College will provide Directory Information in accordance with the provisions of the Act to include: student name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, major field of study, classification, study load, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of members of athletic teams. Students may withhold Directory Information by notifying the Registrar in writing.

A detailed statement of policies and procedures pertinent to Huntingdon's implementation of the Act is available on the College's web site or upon request to the Registrar.

VETERANS' AFFAIRS

Huntingdon College is approved for the education of veterans eligible for benefits under programs of the Veterans Administration. Approval is granted by the State Approving Agency of the State Department of Education under authority of Title 38, United States Code, Chapter 36, Section 3675. The Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) regulations (Title 38, Code of Federal Regulations) determines the eligibility of veterans, service personnel, and other eligible individuals, and approves the payment of benefits.

The programs under which students may be eligible for DVA educational benefits are listed below. To determine specific eligibility requirements students should direct their questions to the DVA Regional Office at 1-800-827-1000.

A partial listing of entitlement programs includes:

- Montgomery GI Bill Active Duty Educational Assistance Program (Chapter 30)
- Post Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Assistance Program (VEAP) (Chapter 32)
- Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance Program (Chapter 35)
- Montgomery GI Bill Selected Reserve (Chapter 106)

Students expecting to receive benefits must file an application for benefits with the Office of the Registrar. Certification cannot be made until the application is on file, and the College certifies according to DVA rules and regulations. Students receiving benefits must adhere to the rules and regulations established by the Department of Veterans Affairs. Specific guidelines have been established in regard to admission to the College; evaluation of prior credit; matriculation and satisfactory progress; proper degree pursuit and change of program; changes in enrollment, repeated or excessive courses, and overpayment; and attendance policy. Questions concerning these areas may be addressed to the Office of the Registrar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The College awards the degree of Bachelor of Arts (BA) to candidates approved by the faculty. It is conferred by the President through the power vested in that office by the Board of Trustees of Huntingdon College. The College requires each undergraduate to plan, with the help of a faculty academic advisor and within the framework of the general degree requirements, a program of liberal education suited to his/her particular needs and interests.

The general degree requirements set forth below are designed to permit a high degree of flexibility for each student in planning his/her particular program of liberal education within broad basic limits. A student should carefully study all courses and other requirements needed for the degree. Each student is responsible for all requirements as stated, and careful attention to the core and the specific program of study will result in completion of the requirements for graduation in the minimum time.

- The minimum requirement for a Huntingdon degree is 124 semester hours, of which a maximum of four may be in physical activities.
- At least 25% of the hours required for graduation must be completed at Huntingdon College.
- Not more than one course in the last 30 hours may be taken outside of Huntingdon College (excluding courses through the Montgomery Higher Education Consortium).
- A maximum of ten percent of the courses used to meet the 124 hour graduation requirement may be seminars which are listed under the various departments.
- An average of 2.00 is required on all graded courses. In addition, an average of 2.00 must be maintained on all hours graded after junior standing is attained. At least 90 semester hours or a minimum of three-fourths of the academic work completed must be earned on a graded basis.
- A grade of C or higher is required in each course presented to fulfill the requirements for a major or minor. For teacher certification candidates these requirements are higher, see page 2.28.
- Participation in local and or national program testing in the major field is also required of all students.
- Successful completion of the Basic Computer Competency Test, see page 1.57.
- Completed graduation application is required the semester prior to graduation, see page 1.45.

CORE CURRICULUM

The core of the college curriculum will familiarize the student with various themes from our Judeo-Christian heritage, their scriptural bases, and their historical interpretation. Moreover, it will foster an appreciation for the existence of the same or similar themes in the Hellenic and modern as well as other cultural traditions as manifested in the literature of the liberal arts and sciences. The student will compare and critique these materials through critical thinking, engaging writing, and persuasive speaking. It is important for the student to see the impact of our religious heritage across time and disciplines and to understand how educated people may either converge or diverge in their interpretation of history and ideas. The twelve semester hours of Bible-related Values, Inquiry, and Meaning and the Rhetoric Seminar will invite students to participate in a variety of discourses including religious, artistic, mathematical, philosophical, historical, literary, rhetorical, scientific, psychological, and sociological discourses. The student's involvement in a variety of academic disciplines and other modes of thought is deepened by taking courses in the areas of aesthetic expression, science and technology, and social and self awareness as well as by gaining competence in a foreign language. The student will be exposed to a variety of paradigms, methodologies, knowledge bases, and texts. This exposure is essential for the student to develop the skills of critical analysis that provide a solid foundation for exploring the theories and applications of his or her major discipline(s).

A minimum of 48-58 hours must be earned on a graded basis in the courses named below. Note: Core requirements for a transfer student will be determined on an individual basis.

SPECIFIC COURSES			Semester hours
VALUES, INQUIRY, AND MEANING
LIBERAL ARTS SYMPOSIUM (REQUIRED IN THE FRESHMAN YEAR)			6

COMPUTER COMPETENCY

The College expects its graduates to be competent in the use of the computer including the basic skills of:

1. essential computer operations and terminology;
2. using the World-Wide-Web;
3. sending and receiving e-mail;
4. preparing documents with word-processing software; and
5. preparing reports with spreadsheet software.

To demonstrate this competency, students are required to successfully complete the Basic Computer Competency Test. This is normally done the students' first year at the College but must be done prior to graduation. The College assists students in accomplishing this through College Skills Workshops which provide instruction in the required areas.

THE MAJOR

Students are expected to acquire considerable mastery of a particular discipline or interdisciplinary area and achieve a breadth of intellectual experience. They therefore must complete a departmental major, an interdisciplinary major or a four-year teacher certification program (which contains a major). Students are responsible for meeting the requirements of a major as stated in the catalog for the year in which they matriculated, although they have the option of meeting requirements in the major which were changed subsequent to matriculation. A student who elects to change catalogs must fulfill requirements as described in a single catalog for both the major and the core curriculum. Transfer students must earn a minimum of nine semester hours of the hours required for their major at Huntingdon College. Of these nine hours at least three hours must be numbered 300 or above.

* Course has prerequisite. The corresponding department may elect to waive the prerequisite.

A student who completes requirements for multiple majors will have each major recorded on the official transcript. Hours in courses which apply to multiple majors may count toward both majors as long as at least twenty-one non-repetitive hours are taken in each major and the requirements set by the department are met. A student who selects a major with a required area of concentration must identify the area of concentration upon declaring the major. The area of concentration will also be recorded on the official transcript.

CHANGE OF MAJOR

To change a major, the student must contact the advisor in the new major. Change of Major forms are available in the Registrar's Office and on the College's web site. The completed form must be returned to the Registrar's Office before the change of a major advisor can be initiated and the new major listed on the student's record.

DEPARTMENTAL MAJOR

The courses for a departmental major may include introductory or basic prerequisite courses in addition to higher level courses in the major department or in the major department and related program areas. A minimum of thirty semester hours and a maximum of forty-two semester hours in a discipline may be credited toward the one hundred and twenty-four hour degree requirement. Students who exceed the forty-two hour limit in a discipline increase the total number of academic hours required for graduation (the number of hours in excess determines the additional hours required). Music majors are permitted to exceed this limit.

Departmental majors are available in Athletic Training, Art, Biology, Business Administration, Cell Biology, Chemistry, Communication Studies, Computer Science, Cultural and Religious Studies, Creative Writing, Digital Art, English, Environmental Chemistry, Field Biology, Global Leadership, History, Human Performance, Mathematics, Music, Music Education, Musical Theater, Political Science, Psychology, Public Administration, Spanish, and Theater. The courses required for a departmental major are specified by the department and appear in the section preceding the course descriptions of each department.

INTERDISCIPLINARY MAJOR

Interdisciplinary majors are available in American Studies, European Studies, International Studies, and Public Affairs Tri-Subject. The courses required for these interdisciplinary majors are specified in this catalog in the section on Interdisciplinary Studies.

An alternate means of satisfying the major requirement is the Self-Designed Interdisciplinary major, which must promise benefits not obtainable through any established major. This major provides an opportunity for a student in an area that can best be covered by selecting course work from two or three academic departments and is developed in consultation with the department chairs involved. The final proposal for the Self-Designed Interdisciplinary major must be submitted by the department chairs to the Committee on Academic Policy no later than midterm of the second semester of the sophomore year for approval and assignment of advisor(s). The proposal should include a complete listing of courses as well as a description of the manner in which the senior capstone, if required, will be structured. The major consists of not fewer than thirty-six hours of courses suited to the student's educational objectives. Eighteen of these thirty-six hours must be in 300 or 400 level courses offered at Huntingdon College or approved for credit by the faculty, and must be related to the area of concentration or interest.

Grade requirements for the interdisciplinary majors are consistent with those for departmental majors.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

The Teacher Certification Program leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree with teacher certification approved by the Alabama State Board of Education. The secondary certification programs are Chemistry, History, and Mathematics. Secondary certification is also available in the comprehensive field of English Language Arts with a major in English. P-12 certification is available in Art, Music Education in Vocal/Choral Music, and Physical Education with a major in Human Performance.

MINOR

Academic minors are available to students who wish to supplement their major field of study with another academic concentration without fulfilling all the requirements of a second major. Minors are available in some departments, but not all. The minimum requirement for a minor is 18 semester hours. A student who completes requirements for multiple minors will have each minor recorded on the official transcript. Hours in courses which apply to multiple minors may count toward both as long as at least 15 non-repetitive hours are taken in each minor and the requirements set by the department are met.

A SECOND DEGREE

A student who has an undergraduate degree from another institution and comes to Huntingdon College must complete the following:

1. Meet the current core requirements.
2. Fulfill the requirements of the major sought.
3. Earn at least 30 semester hours of academic work at Huntingdon College. If more than 30 hours are required, the final 30 hours must be at Huntingdon College.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

This section of the catalog describes all the courses offered by Huntingdon College during the 2003-2004 academic year and gives details about the majors and minors offered by the College. These are grouped with the corresponding academic department. Interdisciplinary and non-departmental programs, majors, minors, and courses appear in separate sections.

ACADEMIC PLANNING

Students planning their course of study should review the requirements and course descriptions listed here, noting particularly those courses which interest them and determining which Core Curriculum components or distribution requirements they may fulfill. Students should keep in mind that they have four years to fulfill the Core Curriculum, though they should plan to complete most of these courses within the first five semesters.

A listing of courses offered in the Fall and Spring semesters together with time and instructor is published in a Schedule of Classes which is made available on-line before each pre-registration period. Rarely are courses withdrawn from the year's offerings after the catalog is issued; however, the College reserves the right to cancel any courses listed, and courses will not be taught unless there is sufficient demand.

COURSE NUMBERING

All courses are assigned semester credit hours, the basic unit of measurement for time spent in class per week. For example, a course giving one semester hour of credit usually meets for fifty minutes each week during the semester. Course numbers which constitute a two-semester sequence are separated either by a comma or by a hyphen. A comma indicates that either may be taken first. A hyphen indicates that successful completion of the first course is a prerequisite for the second.

The notation following the title of each course indicates the distribution between class and laboratory hours, and the semester hours of credit granted during each of the semesters involved.

Courses are numbered on the following basis:

100-199 —Introductory courses or course sequences ordinarily taken by freshmen or sophomores.

200-299 —Intermediate courses or course sequences with or without prerequisites ordinarily taken by sophomores or juniors.

300-499 —Advanced courses or course sequences with specific prerequisites (courses, class standing, or special permission) ordinarily taken by juniors or seniors.

Students may be admitted to advanced courses if they have met the prerequisite, or, in exceptional cases, with the approval of the department chair.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY AND CHEMISTRY

BIOLOGY PROGRAM	2.3
Majors: Biology, Cell Biology, Field Biology
Minor: Biology, Marine Science

• BIOLOGY PROGRAM

The Biology Program offers a strong curriculum with options of a major in Biology, Cell Biology or Field Biology. Each major provides the student with a knowledge base and the skills necessary for a career in the biological sciences. The course of study is broadly based and includes offerings ranging from classical studies in botany, zoology and ecology to cutting edge instruction in cell and molecular biology.

Huntingdon College is a member of the Marine Environmental Sciences Consortium (MESCC), an independent unit of Alabama's system of higher education. The program operates through the Dauphin Island Sea Lab (DISL) located on Dauphin Island, 35 miles south of Mobile, Alabama.

Major in Biology: The major requires completion of 36 hours of biology including 101, 103, 202, 227, 231, 322, and 336; and, in addition, one year (minimum of 6 hours) of mathematics or statistics and one year (minimum of 6 hours) of chemistry with laboratory. The total number of hours required for the major is a minimum of 48.

Major in Cell Biology: The major requires completion of 36 hours of biology including 101, 103, 202 or 227, 231, 322, 422, one course chosen from 336, 342, and 345, and 11 hours chosen from 214, 215, 325, 334, 414, 416; one year (minimum of 6 hours) of mathematics; Chemistry 305, 306, 315, and 316. Chemistry 406, 407, 416, or 417 may be substituted for biology hours itemized in the above 11 hour list. The total number of hours required for the major is a minimum of 52.

Major in Field Biology: The major requires completion of 36 hours of biology including 101, 103, 202, 227, 231 or 322, 336, 342, 345, and 6 hours chosen from 211, 212, 337, 438; and, in addition, one year (minimum of 6 hours) of mathematics or statistics and one year (minimum of 6 hours) of chemistry with laboratory. Any Marine Science course numbered 400 or above, or Psychology 203 and 204 may be substituted for biology hours itemized in the above 6 hour list. The total number of hours required for the major is a minimum of 48.

Students who plan to go to graduate or professional school after graduation are strongly encouraged to take one year of Organic Chemistry, one year of Physics and one year of Calculus.

Minor in Biology: The minor requires completion of 20 hours including 101, 103, 231, 322 and 336.

Minor in Marine Science: The minor requires completion of 16 hours of courses in Marine Science. All Marine Science courses are taught during the summer session at the Dauphin Island Sea Lab.

• CHEMISTRY PROGRAM

The Chemistry Program offers lecture and laboratory courses that enable the student majoring in Chemistry to gain solid foundations in the principles and practice of chemistry. The majors in Chemistry and Environmental Chemistry emphasize hands-on experience with the instruments and techniques of chemistry. Class size fosters individualized instruction geared to the needs of the student and close interaction with faculty.

Major in Chemistry: The major requires completion of 39 hours of chemistry including 105, 106, 115, 116, 305, 306, 307, 315, 316, 321, 322, 409, 410, 419, 420; biology, two courses or 6 hours; Mathematics 255, 256; Physics 251, 252. The total number of hours required for a major in Chemistry is 59. Chemistry 104 is highly recommended as preparation for 305, but will not satisfy elective credit for either the major or minor.

Major in Environmental Chemistry: The major requires completion of 36 hours of chemistry including 105, 106, 115, 116, 305, 306, 307, 315, 316, 321, 322, 406, 416, 430; Biology 101, 103, 202 or 227, 336 or Marine Science 200 (offered through the Marine Environmental Science Consortium at Dauphin Island); Mathematics 171, 255, Physics 251 and Physical Science 110 (offered through the consortium agreement with AUM). The total number of hours required for a major in Environmental Chemistry is 60. Chemistry 104 is highly recommended as preparation for 305, but will not satisfy elective credit for either the major or minor.

Minor in Chemistry: The minor requires completion of 18 hours minimum including 105, 106, 115, 116, and any of the following: 305, 306, 315, 316, 321, 322.

Teaching Field, Chemistry (grades 7-12): Reference should be made to the Teacher Certification Program, page 2.34, for specific requirements.

Notes: Chemistry majors are required to take the laboratory course which accompanies a given lecture course (recommended for other students also). Laboratory courses may not be taken before the related lecture course.

Students planning to pursue graduate study in chemistry should include in their undergraduate program Chemistry 385 or 485, 430, and at least one course in computer science. They should also plan to take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Students planning to apply to medical school should include Chemistry 406 and 407.

Upper level majors interested in summer research opportunities should see their chemistry advisor.

All majors must take the Major Field Achievement Test (MFAT) and/or other selected assessment tests, as required for selected courses, before graduation.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

BIOLOGY (BIOL)

101. Principles of Biology. Cr. 3.

Survey courses providing an introduction to all major concerns of modern biological science. Students desiring laboratory experience should enroll in Biology 103 concurrently. Biology majors must enroll in Biology 103 concurrently.

103. Principles of Biology Laboratory. Lb. 3; Cr. 1.

An introduction to biological science through laboratory and field exercises.

121. Horticulture. Cl. 2, Lb. 3; Cr. 3.

Care and maintenance of flowers, shrubs, houseplants, lawns, shade trees, fruit trees, and vegetable gardens. An introduction to environmental design and opportunities to work in the greenhouse as well as outside gardens.

141. Medical Vocabulary. Cr. 2.

Prefixes, suffixes and the more common root words of medical terminology.

- 161. Environmental Science. Cr. 3.
Deals with man-made and man-related environmental problems such as pollution, overpopulation, depletion of resources, forest management, endangered species, energy and food shortages. Lecture, discussion, and field trips.
Note: All of the following Biology courses have Biology 101 prerequisite. Any additional prerequisites are listed.
- 202. General Biology - Zoology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
A survey of the living animals with lecture and laboratory emphasis on the evolution, adaptations, classification, behavior, and ecology.
- 214. Human Anatomy and Physiology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
The structure and function of the organ systems of the human body; laboratory study of mammalian anatomy and experiments illustrating the physiology of the organ systems.
- 215. Human Anatomy and Physiology II. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
This course is a continuation of and expansion on the material covered in Human Anatomy and Physiology I. The course will include detailed examination of organ physiology. 214 prerequisite.
- 227. General Biology - Botany. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
An introduction to the anatomy, evolution, ecology, and physiology of flowering and nonflowering plants. Survey of the plant kingdom, plus fungi and photosynthetic Protista.
- 231. Genetics. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
Principles of inheritance and variation in living organisms.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1-3.
The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors. May be repeated for credit.
- 322. Cell Biology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
An introduction to the structure, physiology, biochemistry and genetics of cells, the basic unit of life.
Chemistry 105-106 prerequisite.
- 323. Plant Morphology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
A phylogenetic survey and comparison of morphological features of vascular plants.
- 325. Microbiology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
A survey of representative Monera, Protista, fungi, and metazoan parasites; methods of study; clinical, ecological, and economic importance.
322 prerequisite.
- 334. Immunology. Cr. 3.
A study of the principles of immunology and immunological procedures.
322 prerequisite.
- 336. Ecology. Cl. 2, Lb. 6; Cr. 4.
The study of organisms in relationship to their environment. An introduction to ecosystems.
- 337. Ecological Methods. Cl. 2, Lb. 6; Cr. 4.
A research course providing students with opportunities to quantify such ecological parameters as the numbers, biomass, and diversity of organisms in ecosystems through field work and statistical analysis.
336 prerequisite.

- 342. Field Botany. Cl. 3, Lb. 6; Cr. 5.
This course deals with the identification, description and classification of vascular plants with an emphasis on flora. This is a field course that includes some weekend and after hours activities.
- 345. Field Zoology. Cl. 3, Lb. 6; Cr. 5.
An introduction to the study of invertebrates and vertebrates in natural habitats with an emphasis on identification and ecology. This is a field course that involves some weekend and after hours activities.
- 352. Preveterinary Practicum. Cr. 2.
Opportunities to work with practicing veterinarians in clinics and laboratories. Graded on a pass/no credit basis and may be taken only once. This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.
Preveterinary students, junior standing, and permission of the department prerequisite.
- 361. Premedical Practicum. Cr. 2.
Rotation through the various departments of local hospitals under the direction of practicing physicians. (Same as Chemistry 361.) Graded on a pass/no credit basis and may be taken only once. This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.
Premedical students, junior standing, and permission of the department prerequisite.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Biology Cr. 1-3.
Seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to participants. May be repeated for credit with each change in title.
- 391. Student Mentor—Biology. Cr. 1.
Satisfactory evaluation in Student Mentor 291 for two semesters and attendance at a total of three training sessions (assisting with one) prerequisite.
May be taken two semesters for credit on a graded basis.
This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.
- 414. Histology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
The study of the microscopic anatomy of the organ systems of mammals.
322 prerequisite.
- 416. Developmental Biology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
The development and organogenesis of animals with emphasis on the frog, chick, and pig embryos.
322 prerequisite.
- 417. Comparative Anatomy. Cl. 3, Lb. 6; Cr. 5.
The anatomy and evolution of the vertebrates and an introduction to vertebrate life-styles.
212 prerequisite.
- 422. Advanced Cell and Molecular Biology Cl. 3; Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
Advanced consideration of processes and topics in cell biology including organogenesis, metabolism, and development. The laboratory will focus on the isolation, characterization, and experimental manipulation of DNA from bacteria and eukaryotes.
101, 103, 322 and Chemistry 105, 106, 115, 116, 305, 306, 315, 316 prerequisite.
- 438. Aquatic Ecology. Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4.
An introduction to the ecological principles and sampling methods employed while studying aquatic systems with emphasis on the physiochemical processes, habitats and communities that form freshwater, estuarine and marine ecosystems. Field and laboratory activities will focus on freshwater environments.
336 prerequisite.

- 481. Internship in Biology. Cr. 1-3.
 A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the department.
 Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of elective credits.
 Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application, and permission of the department prerequisite.
- 491. Honors in Biology. Cr. 3.
 Individual work designed to meet the particular needs of the student. May be repeated for credit.
 Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, the department chair and Honors Committee prerequisite.
- 499. Senior Capstone in Biology. Cr. 3.
 A comprehensive senior project in the area of Biology, designed to allow students the opportunity to demonstrate mastery of methods of scientific investigation as well as the ability to communicate results both orally and in writing.
 This course is exempt from the 42 hour limit in the discipline.
 231, 322, 336, and senior standing prerequisite.

CHEMISTRY (CHEM)

- 104. Introduction to Organic Chemistry. Cr. 3.
 An introductory course in organic chemistry. Recommended as preparation for Chemistry 305. Will not satisfy elective credit for either the major or minor.
 High school chemistry prerequisite.
- 105. General Chemistry I. Cr. 3.
 A study of important chemical concepts including stoichiometry, atomic structure, bonding, reactions, gas laws, and spectroscopy (some topics may be exchanged with Chemistry 106, depending on the text).
 Chemistry 115 should be taken concurrently.
- 106. General Chemistry II. Cr. 3.
 A continuation of General Chemistry I, including solution chemistry, equilibrium, kinetics, acids and bases, and nuclear chemistry (some topics may be exchanged with Chemistry 105 depending on the text). Chemistry 116 should be taken concurrently.
 105 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 115. General Chemistry Laboratory. Lb. 3; Cr. 1.
 Selected experiments in general chemistry.
- 116. General Chemistry Laboratory. Lb. 3; Cr. 1.
 Selected experiments in general chemistry, relating to Chemistry 106 lecture material, including kinetics, equilibria, and acid/base analysis.
 115 with a grade of a C or better prerequisite.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1-3.
 The course may involve systematic reading, library research, a laboratory, and a formal term paper or presentation. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors. May be repeated for credit.

- 305. Organic Chemistry I. Cr. 3.
A systematic study of organic compounds and fundamental principles of organic chemistry. Chemistry 315 should be taken concurrently.
106 with a grade of C or better prerequisite. 104 recommended.
- 306. Organic Chemistry II. Cr. 4.
A continuation of 305. Chemistry 316 should be taken concurrently.
305 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 307. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. Cr. 3.
A study of the important areas of Inorganic Chemistry, including bonding, symmetry, group theory, descriptive chemistry of the main group elements, descriptive chemistry of the transition elements, acids and bases, and organometallics.
106, 116 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 315. Organic Chemistry I Laboratory. Lb. 6; Cr. 2.
Microscale organic chemistry laboratory isolation, purification, and analysis techniques including spectroscopy, gas chromatography, and gas chromatography-mass spectrometry.
116 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 316. Organic Chemistry II Laboratory. Lb. 3; Cr. 1.
Microscale organic chemistry laboratory. A continuation of Chemistry 315, emphasizing synthesis, spectroscopic analysis, gas chromatography, and gas chromatography-mass spectrometry.
315 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 321. Analytical/Environmental Chemistry I. Cl. 2, Lb. 6; Cr. 4.
A study of the theory and application of current analytical methodology. Topics may include redox, volumetric, gravimetric, and instrumental analysis. Applications include environmental analysis.
315 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 322. Analytical/Environmental Chemistry II. Cl. 2, Lb. 6; Cr. 4.
A study of the theory and application of modern instrumental methods of analysis, including UV-Vis, FTIR, GC, FT-NMR, and potentiometric methods. Applications include environmental analysis.
321 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 361. Premedical Practicum. Cr. 2.
Rotation through the various departments of local hospitals under the direction of practicing physicians. (Same as Biology 361.) Graded on a pass/no credit basis, this course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements and may be taken only once.
Premedical students, junior standing and permission of the department chair prerequisite.
- 385, 485. Research in Chemistry. Lb. 1-5; Cr. 1-5.
All research projects are faculty directed and include a comprehensive literature search, participation in design and planning of experiments, carrying out laboratory experiments, and using modern scientific instrumentation to evaluate and interpret data. A formal presentation of the project at a scientific meeting and/or a term paper and/or contribution to writing a paper suitable for publication will be required. May be repeated for credit. Sophomore standing and permission of the department prerequisite.
- 391. Student Mentor—Chemistry. Cr. 1.
Satisfactory evaluation in Student Mentor 291 for two semesters and attendance at a total of three training sessions (assisting with one) prerequisite.
May be taken two semesters for credit on a graded basis.
This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.

- 406. Biochemistry I. Cr. 3.
 Biochemistry is the study of the molecular basis of life. At this level, knowledge of the molecules, reactions, and pathways of healthy and diseased cells is fundamental in the development of medical advances. This course provides structure and function of biomolecules, including: amino acids, nucleic acids, carbohydrates, lipids, and proteins. Metabolic processes including glycolysis, the citric acid cycle, and photosynthesis will be discussed.
 306 and 315 with a grade of C or better and one semester of biology prerequisite.
- 407. Biochemistry II. Cr. 3.
 This course continues the discussion of biochemical processes begun in Chemistry 406. Topics include the metabolism of lipids, amino acids, and nucleotides. The flow of biological information by replication, transcription, and translation of nucleic acids will be covered.
 406 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 409. Physical Chemistry I. Cr. 3.
 The laws of thermodynamics and their application to gases, liquids, and solutions; phase rule and phase diagrams; chemical and physical equilibria, surface chemistry.
 106 with a grade of C or better prerequisite, and Mathematics 256.
- 410. Physical Chemistry II. Cr. 3.
 Electrochemistry, kinetic molecular theory, chemical kinetics; quantum chemistry, molecular structure and spectroscopy, solid state chemistry, and principles of symmetry.
 409 prerequisite.
- 416. Biochemistry I Laboratory. Cr. 1.
 Selected experiments illustrating the principles discussed in Chemistry 406, including isolation, purification, and characterization of biomolecules.
 406 prerequisite or corequisite.
- 417. Biochemistry II Laboratory. Cr. 1.
 Selected experiments illustrating the principles discussed in Chemistry 407, including enzyme kinetics, manipulation of DNA, and characterization of biomolecules will be emphasized.
 407 prerequisite or corequisite.
- 419. Physical Chemistry I Laboratory. Lb. 3; Cr. 1.
 Selected experiments illustrating principles discussed in 409.
- 420. Physical Chemistry II Laboratory. Lb. 3; Cr. 1.
 Selected experiments illustrating principles discussed in 410.
 419 prerequisite.
- 430. Special Topics in Chemistry. Cr. 3.
 Courses such as Spectroscopic Methods, Metals in Biological Systems, Polymer Chemistry, and Advanced Organic Chemistry are available to groups of three or more students. Interested students should consult the department regarding prerequisites, class/ laboratory credit hours, etc. May be repeated for credit with each change in topic.
 Permission of the department prerequisite.

- 481. Internship in Chemistry. Cr. 1-3.
 A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the Department.
 Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of elective credits.
 Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application and permission of the program coordinator and the department chair prerequisite.
- 491. Honors in Chemistry. Cr. 3.
 Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs and interests of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit. Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, the department chairperson and the Honors Committee prerequisites.
- 499. Senior Capstone in Chemistry. Cr. 3.
 A comprehensive senior project in the area of chemistry. The project is intended to demonstrate an ability to conduct independent research and present the results. This course is exempt from the 42 hour limit in the discipline.
 Senior standing prerequisite.

MARINE SCIENCE (MSCI)

- 200. Marine Biology Cr. 4.
 This course is a general survey of marine plants, invertebrates and vertebrates, the communities they form, and the physical and chemical factors which influence them. Field trips to the marsh, seagrass, dune habitats, with sampling from research vessels, and laboratory exercises serve to introduce students to the diversity of marine habitats and organisms. Participation in overnight field trips is a part of this course. Snorkeling gear is required. Prerequisites - General biology.
- 202. Dolphins and Whales Cr. 2.
 This course will enable the student to make rapid, accurate, and thoughtful use of a customized reference file, as well as laboratory and field notes to respond to questions about the classification, anatomy and ecology of members of the order Cetacea and of the Sirenian genus Trichechus (manatee). Topics include discussion of the people and places that have been involved in the studies. The course will consist of lectures supported by audiovisual materials and practical exercises in the laboratory of the stranding network (Mobile) and on vessel-based and land-based platforms. Rather than being reading, writing, or memory intensive, the activities of the student will be more nearly project-intensive, with emphasis on construction of a reference file and organization of records of the laboratory, and field observations. Prerequisite - successful completion of one course in organismal biology, i.e. zoology, vertebrate zoology, invertebrate zoology, embryology, human biology, entomology, parasitology, or one year's experience with a stranding network.
- 210. Coastal Climatology Cr. 2.
 The study of the controlling factors and features of the world's climates, with particular attention to coastal areas, and application and interpretation of climate data. Prerequisites - None.

- 220. Coastal Zone Management Cr. 2.
 A review of ecological features and management policies for coastal communities with a description of relevant federal and state programs. This introductory level course examines the various aspects of coastal zone management in the United States by: 1) examining the major substantive and procedural aspects of specific laws and regulations which govern activity in the coastal zone environment and processes; and 2) examining how coastal environments and processes affect specific management issues of the zone. Prerequisites – None.
- 230. Marine Geology Cr. 4.
 This course is a study of the geology of the ocean basins with special emphasis on the continental shelves, their sediments, and the sedimentary processes at work there. (Emphasis on the Northeast Gulf of Mexico). Students will be introduced to the following skills: technical writing; development of a research project; working as a team member; data management; concepts of marine geology; critical thinking; principles of science (hypothesis testing). Prerequisites - Introductory geology, statistics recommended.
- 281, 381. Directed Studies Cr. 1-6.
 Students may enroll by special arrangement. All students registering for Directed Research must be accepted by a DISL faculty research supervisor who will be in residence at the Sea Lab during the research. Project topic, duration, credit, and acceptance by a supervisor must be arranged prior to a student registering at DISL. Please contact one of the listed faculty members for suggested topics in their area of expertise. Students are expected to enroll and conduct the research over 10 weeks, if no other course is taken. Directed Studies may be taken to enhance a student's research experience, but it is not intended to substitute for research credit that is directly related to a student's thesis project.
- 300. Coastal Birds of Alabama Cr. 2.
 This course is an introductory level course to coastal avian fauna with an emphasis on nesting sites and nesting behavior. This course includes identification, population dynamics and behavior of coastal birds. Lectures emphasize functional ecology, specifically nesting biology of numerous species found along Alabama's coastal region. Topics include migration, mechanics of flight, breeding biology, and foraging. This course is a field-based course with an emphasis on breeding biology, and behavior and introduction to bird identification. Prerequisites - A course in undergraduate biology or ecology.
- 301. Oceanology of the Gulf of Mexico Cr. 2.
 A descriptive study of the oceanology of the Gulf of Mexico and adjacent waters including coastal zone, continental shelf, and deep ocean. This course provides a survey of the physics, chemistry, biology, geology, and meteorology of the continental margins and deep ocean regions in the Gulf of Mexico and adjacent waters. Prerequisites - Science major or permission of the instructor.
- 305. Coastal Geomorphology Cr. 2.
 This course is an introduction to coastal sediment processes and applied coastal geomorphology. Waves and other coastal hydrodynamics, sediment transport, and interaction between natural processes and man's activities such as dredging, jetties, and beachfills will be studied. The barrier island coast of Alabama will be used extensively in field trip investigations of these processes. Prerequisites – Basic science major.

- 400. Marine Vertebrate Zoology Cr. 4.
 This course is a survey of marine fishes, reptiles and mammals, with an in-depth, comprehensive treatment of their systematics, zoogeography, and ecology. Lectures will encompass subject matter on a non-regional basis. Field and laboratory work will stress the vertebrate fauna of the northern Gulf of Mexico. Most of the course will be devoted to fishes. Students successfully completing this course will: 1) have a basic understanding of the biology, ecology, physiology, and systematics of the various marine vertebrate taxa; 2) gain experience in field and laboratory identification of members of the various vertebrate taxa; and 3) gain experience in collecting various marine and island vertebrate taxa. Prerequisites - Two semesters of general biology (or their equivalent) and accompanying lab.
- 410. Marine Invertebrate Zoology Cr. 4.
 This course is a study of the natural history, systematics and morphology of marine invertebrates from a variety of habitats in the Gulf of Mexico, oriented toward a field and laboratory approach. Participation in extended field trips is a part of the course. Prerequisites - Introductory zoology.
- 430. Marine Botany Cr. 4.
 This course is a general survey of marine algae (microscopic and macroscopic), as well as salt marsh vegetation, mangroves, seagrass, and maritime forest communities. Lectures will emphasize identification, distribution, structure, ecology, and physiology. Extensive overnight field and laboratory work is involved, including the ability to wade and snorkel. Participation in overnight field trips is a part of this course. Snorkeling gear is required. Prerequisites - General Biology.
- 433. Coral Reef Ecology Cr. 4.
 This course will examine the ecology and evolution of coral reef communities, seagrass beds, and mangrove swamps, with exploration of such issues as the degradation of reef-building corals by macroalgae, hurricanes, coral bleaching, diseases of corals and sea urchins, overfishing, and pollution. Students will participate in lectures and field exercises in the vicinity of Dauphin Island and will take a one-week field trip to Andros Island, Bahamas. Note: This course requires students to pay a registration fee at the DISL ($75.00), a DISL lab fee ($30), student activity fee ($10.00), room and board for 4 weeks at DISL ($740.00 - based on 7-day meal plan) [except for commuters] and the air transportation, room and board for 1 week in the Bahamas ($920.00). Total cost for the course is $1,775.00 plus home campus tuition. Prerequisites - A course in either undergraduate biology or ecology.
- 435. Marine Fish Diseases Cr. 4.
 This course will introduce students to aquatic animal diseases, specifically finfish and shellfish. Students will learn practical microbiological techniques for isolation and identification.
- 437. Marine Aquaculture Cr. 2.
 This course will introduce students to techniques in marine aquaculture with emphasis in the areas of nutrition and feeding, reproductive biology, production techniques, water quality requirements, processing, marketing, and economics of commercially important marine aquaculture species. This course is also designed to assist students develop their problem solving and communication skills. Prerequisites - General biology required; ichthyology, limnology, and invertebrate zoology suggested, but not required.

- 443. Introduction to Neurobiology Cr. 4.
Students will be introduced to the neuroanatomy and neurophysiology of marine invertebrates and vertebrates. The following aspects of neurobiology will be featured: resting potentials, action potentials, synaptic transmission, neurotransmitters, sensory transduction, muscle innervation, sensorimotor transformations, and neurophysiological bases of behavior. The Neurosim program is a package of programs that will help to illustrate basic principles of neurophysiology and neural networks. The program allows a detailed exploration of aspects of cellular neurobiology beyond the level that time and equipment constraints permit in standard laboratory classes. Prerequisites - Introductory biology. The following are recommended but not required: physiology/neuroscience, general chemistry, general physics, or permission of the instructor.
- 445. Introduction to Oceanography Cr. 4.
This course is a general introduction to the physics, chemistry, geology, and biology of the ocean. This course serves to introduce the student to the interrelationships between physical, geological, chemical, and biological processes in the ocean. Field trips in Mobile Bay and near-coastal Gulf of Mexico serve to introduce students to research techniques and oceanographic processes in the region. Prerequisites - Basic science major.
- 470. Marine Ecology Cr. 4.
Marine Ecology is an advanced course open to juniors, seniors, and graduate students. We will study marine organisms as they interact with each other and their environment, and examine theories and the experimental basis of our current knowledge. The laboratory will consist of field trips to a wide variety of marine habitats, and field problems which will be examined by small groups of students. Lecture and laboratory consists of studies of factors influencing population dynamics, community structure, and energy flow in marine ecosystems. Habitats selected for emphasis include coral reefs, kelp forests, seagrass meadows, the rocky intertidal and deep-sea hydrothermal vents. Participation in an overnight field trip is part of this course. Prerequisites - General biology, marine biology or graduate standing.
- 473. Marine Behavioral Ecology Cr. 4.
The course examines how animal behavior is influenced by and interacts with its environment, and the ecological and evolutionary significance of these behaviors in a marine setting. Students will learn principles of behavioral ecology as they relate to marine animals, become familiar with techniques for observing animal behavior, conducting behavioral experiments, and be introduced to methods for collecting and analyzing behavioral data. The course will consist of lectures, laboratory exercises and experiments, and overnight field trips designed to provide students with the background to pursue additional studies in marine animal behavior. Prerequisites - Introductory courses covering vertebrate and invertebrate zoology, introductory statistics recommended.
- 480. Marine Technical Methods Cr. 2.
This course, designed to provide an introduction to the techniques, instrumentation, and equipment necessary to perform marine research, emphasizes field methods. Subject matter includes pre-sampling organization, sampling plan and report development, navigation, hydrographic sampling for physical and chemical properties, and sampling techniques for sediments and the water-column (phytoplankton, zooplankton and nekton). The course will consist of lectures and demonstrations followed by activities designed to provide hands-on experience in sampling and data acquisition. One day will be devoted to a cruise that involves application of research techniques. Prerequisites - None.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE (PHSC)102. Physical Science.*Cr. 3.

A study of basic concepts in selected physical sciences, such as astronomy, chemistry, environmental science, geology, and physics.

PHYSICS (PHYS)251-252. General Physics.*Cl. 3, Lb. 3; Cr. 4-4.

Elementary foundations in mechanics, fluids, wave motion, thermodynamics, optics, electricity, and magnetism.

Mathematics 256 corequisite.

• BUSINESS PROGRAM

The Business Program encompasses the disciplines of Accounting, Business Administration, and Economics. The department offers a major in Business Administration with areas of concentration in Accounting, Economics and Finance, International Business, Management, and Marketing. A minor in Business Administration is also available.

Major in Business Administration: The major requires completion of the departmental core curriculum, and 15 hours chosen from the areas of concentration as outlined below. This major requires a total of 57 semester hours.

Minor in Business Administration: The minor requires completion of 15 hours from the departmental core including Accounting 201-202 and Economics 203 (Economics 201 may be substituted for Economics 203 with departmental approval). The minor requires a total of 18 semester hours.

Endorsement in International Business: Business Administration majors who successfully complete the following requirements will have noted on their transcripts an Endorsement in International Business:

Business Administration	Semester hours
304 International Marketing	3
306 International Business	3
403 International Finance	3
410 International Management	3

3 hours chosen from the following:

Economics	Semester hours
410 Comparative Economic Studies	3

Political Science
303 International Relations	3

The student must submit a completed application to the department chair prior to their senior year; submit a completed essay topic form to the department chair the semester prior to anticipated graduation; submit the final essay at least 45 days prior to final exams. The student must demonstrate a functional competence in a foreign language either by examination or completion of 9 hours of one language with a grade of B or better; have an overall grade point average of 2.60 or better and grade of B or better in all courses used to fulfill the International Business Endorsement requirements. No more than 6 hours from another institution may be used to fulfill the above requirements.

• GLOBAL LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

The major is designed to develop critical thinking, analytical, and decision making skills necessary to be a successful leader in a fast changing global environment. The program seeks to equip graduates with the abilities to communicate clearly, to understand the economic and political world, and to understand world differences and adapt to the changes in the global economy.

Students can declare Global Leadership as a major at the time of application to the College. However, the student will need to reconfirm the declaration the semester after earning 45 hours of credit and prior to the end of the next regular semester to be formally accepted into the program. Only students with a grade point average of 3.00 or above will be eligible to present a request for confirmation. The request should include a statement of commitment, a portfolio of work accomplished, and an essay on one of the challenges of leadership. The decision will be reached by a committee made of the following members: the Dean of the College, the Chair of the Department, the Program Coordinator, and two other faculty members from the department.

Students majoring in Global Leadership cannot minor in any of the following three disciplines: Business, Communication Studies, or Political Science.

Major in Global Leadership: The major requires the completion of the Global Leadership core curriculum (45-60 hours), 21 hours of electives from the three programs, and 12 hours of general electives, as indicated below, for a total of 78-93 hours.

*Approval of specific topic by advisor is required.

Global Leadership Core (45-60 hours)

• POLITICAL SCIENCE PROGRAM

The program in political science is designed to provide a comprehensive introduction to the discipline, with emphasis on a specific set of strategies for gathering and analyzing information about political life. These strategies—conceptual, historical, structural, institutional and behavioral are approached in light of the philosophical and theoretical terms.

Major in Political Science: The major requires completion of 36 hours in political science including 201, 212, 302, 303, 305, 311, 314, and 499, History 205 or 206, Mathematics 171 or 200; for a total requirement of 42 semester hours.

Minor in Political Science: The minor requires completion of 18 hours in political science including 201.

Major in Public Administration: The major requires completion of 27 hours of political science including 201, 207, 212, 305, 306, 307, and 499, Economics 201, 202, Communication Studies 334, and 6 hours chosen from Mathematics 171, 200 and Biology 161; for a total requirement of 42 semester hours.

Minor in Public Administration: The minor requires 21 hours of political science including 201, 207, 212, 305, 306, and 307.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

ACCOUNTING (ACCT)

- 201. Elementary Accounting I.

Cr. 3.
- The fundamental principles of financial accounting. An introduction to the process of accumulating, classifying, and presenting financial information.

Computer Science 112 with a grade of C or better, or departmental approval prerequisite.
- 202. Elementary Accounting II.

Cr. 3.
- The preparation and utilization of financial information for internal management purposes. Special emphasis is given to cost determination, cost control, and the development of information for decision making.

201 with a grade of C or better or department approval prerequisite.

- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1-3.
The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors. May be repeated for credit.
- 301. Intermediate Accounting I. Cr. 3.
Asset valuation and the theory of matching cost with revenue.
202 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 302. Intermediate Accounting II. Cr. 3.
Equity aspects of accounting, problems arising from price level changes, statement analysis and interpretation, managerial uses of accounting.
301 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 303. Intermediate Accounting III. Cr. 3.
Accounting for pensions, leases, corporate income taxes, and changes in accounting principles and the preparation of the statement of cash flows.
302 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 321. Cost Accounting. Cr. 3.
Accounting for material, labor, and manufacturing expenses. The fundamentals of costs for manufacturing and trading firms.
202 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 322. Managerial Accounting. Cr. 3.
Accounting as a tool for managerial control is taught through analysis of problem situations in accounting systems, accounting control, and in budgeting and costs. Emphasis is on a general management approach to corporate financial reporting decisions, practices, controversies, and uses.
Completion of the departmental core with grades of C or better prerequisite.
- 335. Income Tax Procedure, Individuals. Cr. 3.
The methods and problems encountered in income determination for federal tax purposes.
202 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 340. Fundamentals of Nonprofit Accounting. Cr. 3.
As an introduction to budgetary and fund accounting as applied to arts/nonprofit agencies, this course is designed for majors in the arts and nonprofit management areas of concentration only.
201-202 with a grade of C or better prerequisite.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Accounting. Cr. 1-3.

The mission of the Athletic Training and Human Performance Programs at Huntingdon College is to prepare students for career opportunities in fields of athletic training, sport management, fitness leadership, exercise science, corporate recreation, leisure management, physical therapy, adapted physical activity, health promotion, and teaching. Students who plan to attend graduate school should seek advice through their departmental major advisor.

The Human Performance Program offers a major in Human Performance with concentrations in Exercise Science, Physical Education with P-12 certification, Pre-Physical Therapy, and Recreation and Sport Management. A major in Athletic Training is available for those students who are interested in pursuing careers in athletic training.

All students are encouraged to select courses in human performance, health, recreation and physical activities as elective hours for graduation. These courses provide a variety of experiences related to individual physical, social and psychological health.

• ATHLETIC TRAINING PROGRAM

The Athletic Training major is an entry-level athletic training education program designed to prepare students to work in the field of athletic training, and perform the tasks and duties of a certified athletic trainer. The certified athletic trainer is an allied health professional educated to assist in the prevention and care of injuries that might be experienced by those who are physically active. The primary duties and responsibilities of the certified athletic trainer fall into the following domains: prevention of injuries; recognition, evaluation, and assessment of injuries and illnesses; immediate care of the injured or ill athlete; treatment, rehabilitation, and reconditioning of injuries; organization and administration; and professional development and responsibility. A primary objective of the Athletic Training Education Program is to prepare students to take the National Athletic Trainers' Association Board of Certification Examination. Successful completion of the certification examination enables one to practice as a highly trained allied health professional who is responsible for the general health, prevention of injuries, and the care of injuries of those who are physically active. Certified athletic trainers find employment with professional athletic teams, collegiate athletic teams, secondary schools, sports medicine clinics, and health and wellness centers. The Athletic Training Education Program is currently seeking accreditation by the Commission for Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP).

Admission to the Athletic Training Education Program

Students interested in preparation for a career in the field of athletic training are encouraged to declare their intention as early as possible. Students are admitted into the pre-professional Athletic Training Education Program (ATEP) under conditional status upon initial enrollment in the College. Application to the program must be submitted during the second semester the student is enrolled at the College. The selection of students and full admission into the program is based on the student's demonstration of a sincere interest in the field of athletic training, the student's demonstration of an ability to benefit from the educational program, and fulfillment of the specific admission criteria. Also, due to the required educational competencies and proficiencies that have been established by the National Athletic Trainers' Association as essential for the entry-level athletic trainer, Technical Standards have been established which students must meet in order to achieve the knowledge, skills, and competencies essential to practicing in the profession of athletic training. Information relative to the Technical Standards is listed in the program Student Manual. Admission to the program is based on satisfactory completion of the following admission standards:

1. Completion of at least twenty-four (24) semester hours with an overall GPA of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale.
2. Submit a written request for an Athletic Training Education Program application packet. Requests are to be sent to the Coordinator of the Athletic Training Education Program.
3. Submit completed application form, two letters of recommendation, and two reference forms to the Coordinator of the Athletic Training Education Program.
4. Completion of ATHT 101 (Principles of Athletic Training) with a grade of "C" or better.
5. Completion of twenty-five (25) hours of observation in the athletic training facility at Huntingdon College.
6. Completion of the basic athletic training skills. These skills are to be completed during a 70 hour pre-professional laboratory experience (observation and participation) in the athletic training setting prior to the student's application to the program. The pre-professional experience is offered during the two week January Term. Any exceptions to this pre-professional experience must be approved by the Program Coordinator.

7. Once the application packet is completed and submitted to the Program Coordinator, each applicant will be interviewed by the Athletic Training Committee. This committee will determine which applicants are admitted to the Athletic Training Education Program. Students selected for admission into the program will be notified in writing by the Program Coordinator.
8. Applicants who do not meet the stated criteria may be considered on an individual basis for conditional status admission. The Athletic Training Committee will stipulate the terms of the conditional status admission in writing to the applicant. Students admitted under the conditional status must carefully follow the stipulations set forth by the Athletic Training Committee. If the student is unable to meet the stated stipulations, then he/she will be dismissed for the Athletic Training Education Program.

For students transferring to Huntingdon College from another institution of higher education, the following criteria are required for admission to the Athletic Training Education Program:

1. The student must be accepted to Huntingdon College according to the academic guidelines of the College for transfer student.
2. The student must submit an official transcript(s) from all institutions of higher education which the student has attended.
3. The student must be classified as a sophomore (minimum of twenty-four hours of credit) or higher, and have an overall GPA of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale.
4. The student must submit a written request for an Athletic Training Education Program application packet. Request should be sent to the Coordinator of the Athletic Training Education Program.
5. The student must submit the completed application form, two letters of recommendation, and two reference forms to the Coordinator of the Athletic Training Education Program. One letter of recommendation must come from the student's previous supervising athletic trainer if the student wishes to submit hours of clinical and/or field experience.
6. If the student has completed athletic training courses at another institution and received credit for the course, a copy of the syllabus for the course(s) must be submitted to the Program Coordinator when the student makes application to the program. If a course resembling ATHT 101 has been completed with a grade of "C" or better, then the student will not be required to repeat the course. If the student has not completed an introductory athletic training course, then the student will be required to enroll in ATHT 101. The student will be required to complete all other athletic training courses. The student will be required to complete the basic athletic training skills. These skills are to be completed during a 70 hour pre-professional laboratory experience (observation and participation) in the athletic training setting prior to the student's application to the program. The pre-professional experience is offered during the two week January Term. Any exceptions to this pre-professional experience must be approved by the Program Coordinator.
7. If the student has completed clinical and/or field experience hours at another institution under the supervision of a certified athletic trainer, then the student must submit documentation of those hours. The student must have a minimum of twenty five (25) hours of observation in the traditional athletic training setting. If the student has fewer than 25 hours of observation in the athletic training setting, then he/she will be required to complete 25 hours of observation in the athletic training facility at Huntingdon College. The student will be allowed to transfer a maximum of 150 hours of clinical and/or field experience to the Athletic Training Education Program. Appropriate documentation must accompany these hours.

8. Once the application is completed and submitted to the Program Coordinator, each applicant will be interviewed by the Athletic Training Committee. This Committee will determine which applicants are admitted to the Athletic Training Education Program. Students selected for admission into the program will be notified in writing by the Program Coordinator.
9. Applicants who do not meet the stated criteria may be considered on an individual basis for conditional status admission. The Athletic Training Committee will stipulate the terms of the conditional status admission in writing to the applicant. Students admitted under the conditional status must carefully follow the stipulations set forth by the Athletic Training Committee. If the student is unable to meet the stated stipulations, then he/she will be dismissed from the Athletic Training Education Program.

• PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAM

The Psychology Program offers concentrations in Human Services and Experimental Psychology. Both concentrations contain a common core of classes but prepare students for different postgraduate opportunities. The Human Services concentration prepares students for postgraduate work in clinical or counseling psychology or clinical social work. The Experimental Psychology concentration prepares students for postgraduate work in such areas as experimental, industrial-organizational, and cognitive psychology, as well as neuroscience and public health. The core classes in the major provide a thorough background in the basic psychological concepts and theories, statistical procedures and research methods, and an introduction to human services. Students also gain experience in critical thinking and analytical skills and are introduced to basic laboratory methods using rats as subjects. The Psychology laboratory meets all current guidelines for laboratory animal care.

Major in Psychology (Concentration in Human Services): The major requires completion of the psychology core, 307, 402, 6 elective hours in psychology, Health 304, and Philosophy 250. The major requires a total of 41 hours.

Major in Psychology (Concentration in Experimental Psychology): The major requires completion of the psychology core, 309, 322, 6 elective hours in psychology, Biology 101, and Communication Studies 233. The major requires a total of 42 hours.

Minor in Psychology: The minor requires completion of 18 hours including 201, 301, 404.

PSYCHOLOGY CORE CURRICULUM (23 hours):

• TEACHER CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

The purpose of a teacher certification program is to prepare prospective teachers to use appropriate knowledge bases and professional judgment to select, implement, and evaluate diverse teaching strategies and resources which facilitate optimal lifelong learning and encourage productive citizenship. The knowledge and abilities which comprise the professional studies core of a teacher certification program address competencies needed by prospective teachers. Regardless of the areas of specialization, pre-service teachers will demonstrate an appreciation for students and their individuality, an attitude of responsibility for the learning of all students, and a commitment to the teaching profession and to becoming lifelong learners.

To accomplish this objective, Huntingdon College offers the following programs leading to certification by the Alabama State Board of Education: Secondary Teaching Field Programs (grades seven through twelve) and P-12 Teaching Programs (preschool through grade twelve). Courses required and programs are subject to approval by the Alabama State Board of Education.

Secondary Teaching Field Programs require completion of a major in one teaching field. Options are Chemistry, English/Language Arts (comprehensive), History, and Mathematics.

P-12 Teaching Field Programs are: Art and Music Education in Vocal/Choral, and Physical Education (a major in Human Performance with a concentration in Physical Education).

Requirements are subject to change after June 2003. Students should consult the Teacher Certification Officer for further information. Admission to Huntingdon College does not qualify a student for admission to the Teacher Certification Program.

Admission to Teacher Certification. Students interested in preparation for teaching certification are encouraged to declare their intentions to their advisors as early as possible. A formal application to the Teacher Certification Program must be submitted after completion of 57 semester hours (junior classification). Applications may be obtained from the Office of Teacher Certification. Admission to the Teacher Certification Program should occur by the completion of the first semester of the student's junior year.

The criteria for admission to the Teacher Certification Program are:

1. Submission and approval of a formal written application for admission to professional studies submitted after completion of at least 57 semester hours, of which at least 39 semester hours are in the general studies program. (Application forms are available from the Office of Teacher Certification.)
2. The application for admission to the Teacher Certification Program will include two positive faculty recommendations from either the Education 201 or 202 professor and from a faculty member of the student's choosing.
3. A satisfactory score on the Alabama Prospective Teacher Test.
4. A minimum grade point average of at least 2.50 overall (general studies, professional studies, and the teaching field), in professional studies, and in the teaching field.
5. Satisfactory results of an interview designed to provide information on the applicant's oral and written communication skills, interests, and aptitude consistent with the requirements for successful teaching.
6. Successful completion of 70 hours (ten consecutive days of seven hours each) of pre-professional laboratory experiences (observation and participation) in a school setting prior to the student's junior year. Students should see the Teacher Certification Officer for details and requirements. Typically, pre-teaching is completed during the two week January Term, either the freshman or sophomore year. Any exception to this schedule must be approved by the Teacher Certification Officer.
7. Completion of Education 201, and 202 or Human Performance 306A if certification is in Physical Education, with a grade of C or better.

Upon receipt of the completed application to the Teacher Certification Program, each student will be notified of his/her status in the Teacher Certification Program.

A student who fails to meet the criteria described above may complete further work and repeat required examinations in an effort to meet admission standards. If additional course work is required to fulfill the GPA requirement for admission, only course work in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, mathematics, or the teaching field(s) may be used.

The state of Alabama requires that the student must be admitted to the Teacher Certification Program no later than the first day of classes of the internship semester. Each student should study catalog course descriptions before registration to identify courses that can be taken only after the student has been admitted to the Teacher Certification Program.

Program Retention. To remain in the Teacher Certification Program, each student must make satisfactory progress in all professional foundation courses, the teaching field subject matter, and respective professional education courses.

Students who have declared their intentions to seek teacher certification are monitored throughout their undergraduate years by advisors in the Teach Certification Program who advise in addition to the students' secondary or P-12 major field advisors. The education advisor monitors the student's academic progress and advises the student regarding courses required for certification.

Internship. The internship is normally scheduled for the last semester of the senior year. Exceptions must be cleared with the Teacher Certification Officer. Maximum credit for the internship is 12 semester hours.

The internships in Class B programs shall be full-time in the schools for at least twelve weeks, which may not be limited to one classroom or grade level. Teaching experiences for the intern will progress to the full responsibilities of the teacher for at least 20 days including at least 10 consecutive days in each placement. (Exceptions may be requested for placements in schools operating on nontraditional schedules.)

For secondary programs, the internship shall be divided between two teaching fields, if applicable. For P-12 programs, the internship shall be divided between early childhood/ elementary and secondary grades.

Program Completion. The criteria for a Class B certificate effective for persons beginning collegiate study fall semester 1997 or thereafter, are:

1. Satisfactory completion of a state-approved program with at least a 2.50 grade point average overall (general studies, professional studies, and the teaching field), in professional studies, and in the teaching field. A grade of C or higher must be obtained in each professional education course.
2. Demonstrated readiness to teach through evaluations of on-site performances as an intern and satisfactory evaluations on the Huntingdon College Abilities Checklist.
3. Seniors will complete the Major Field Achievement Test. This criteria will remain in effect until replacement by a national test is approved by the Alabama State Board of Education.

Graduation from Huntingdon College does not guarantee Alabama Teacher Certification.

During the two years following completion of the teacher certification program, Huntingdon College will provide remediation at no cost to individuals who are recommended for teacher certification by the college, teaching in an area for which they are certified, and are deemed by the employing Alabama School System to have unsatisfactory performance evaluations according to criteria established by the Alabama State Board of Education.

Note: General studies and professional foundation courses apply to all teaching fields at all of the levels of certification which follow.

ATHLETIC TRAINING (ATHT)

- 101. Principles of Athletic Training. Cr. 3.
An introduction to the field of athletic training and a general overview of the role of the athletic trainer. Emphasis is placed on the procedures for the prevention and care of injuries to the physically active. The study will examine the body's immediate response to injury and the initial care on specific injuries. The application of specific taping and wrapping techniques will be presented to the student.
- 205. Evaluation and Recognition of Injuries to the Upper Extremity. Cr. 3.
The study of specific injuries to the head and face, neck, upper back, shoulder, arm, and thorax that may occur to the physically active. Emphasis is placed on the evaluation and identification of specific injuries to the upper extremity of the body for the purposes of administering proper first aid and emergency care and making appropriate referrals to physicians for diagnosis and medical treatment. Special emphasis will be placed on clinical evaluation techniques, palpation of anatomical structures, and specific manual tests to be used for the assessment of athletic injuries.
101 or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 206. Evaluation and Recognition of Injuries to the Lower Extremity. Cr. 3.
The study of specific injuries to the pelvis, thigh, knee, lower leg, ankle, foot, and lower back that may occur to the physically active. Emphasis is placed on the evaluation and identification of specific injuries to the lower extremity of the body for the purposes of administering proper first aid and emergency care and making appropriate referrals to physicians for diagnosis and medical treatment. Special emphasis will be placed on clinical evaluation techniques, palpation of anatomical structures, and specific manual tests to be used for the assessment of athletic injuries.
101 or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 215. Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training I Cr. 1.
Provides the athletic training student with clinical and practical experiences in the athletic training setting. During the semester the student will be assessed on athletic training competencies related to assessment of injuries to the upper extremity, First Aid/CPR, supportive taping, bracing, protective equipment, and pharmacology. Recommended Athletic Training Majors take this course concurrently with 205B.
101 or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 216. Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training II Cr. 1.
Provides the athletic training student with clinical and practical experiences in the athletic training setting. During the semester the student will be assessed on athletic training competencies related to assessment of injuries to the lower extremity and recognition of signs/symptoms associated with general medical conditions. Recommended Athletic Training Majors take this course concurrently with 206B.
101, 215 or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1 - 3.
This course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as may be required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 is open to sophomore students only; 381 is open to juniors and seniors. May be repeated for credit.

- 305. Use of Therapeutic Modalities for the Management of Athletic Injuries. Cr. 3.
 The study of the use of therapeutic modalities for the treatment of specific injuries to the human body. The course is designed to teach the student the proper use of therapeutic modalities, physiological responses to thermal, electrical, and mechanical agents, indications and contraindications for use, and clinical application of various types of therapeutic modalities.
 101, 205 and 206, or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 306. Use of Therapeutic Exercise for the Management of Athletic Injuries. Cr. 3.
 The study of the use of therapeutic exercises for the treatment of specific injuries to the human body. The course is designed to teach the student the appropriate use of therapeutic exercises and rehabilitation techniques, physiological effects, criteria for selection, indications and contraindications, and clinical application of various types of therapeutic exercises.
 101, 205, 206, and Human Performance 408, or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 315. Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training III Cr. 1.
 Provides the athletic training student with clinical and practical experiences in the athletic training setting. During the semester the student will be assessed on athletic training competencies related to the use and application of therapeutic modalities. Recommended Athletic Training Majors take this course concurrently with 305.
 215 and 216, or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 316. Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training IV Cr. 1.
 Provides the athletic training student with clinical and practical experiences in the athletic training setting. During the semester the student will be assessed on athletic training competencies related to the use and application of therapeutic exercises. Recommended Athletic Training Majors take this course concurrently with 306.
 215, 216 and 315, or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Athletic Training. Cr. 1 - 3.
 The seminar will focus of specific topics appropriate for the athletic training student and assist the student in preparation for the NATA Board of Certification examination. Course to include lecture and laboratory sessions.
 101, or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 401. Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training V Cr. 1.
 Provides the athletic training student with clinical and practical experiences in the athletic training or clinical setting. Provides the student the opportunity to continue the development and refinement of cognitive, psychomotor, and affective skills associated with athletic training. May be repeated for credit.
 215, 216, 315, and 316, or permission of department chair prerequisite.
- 481. Internship in Athletic Training. Cr. 3.
 A clinical and field experience designed to provide a learning experience to the athletic training student under the direction of a clinical supervisor. The internship offers the student the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance the development of cognitive, psychomotor, and affective skills associated with athletic training. The student will be assessed on athletic training competencies established by the National Athletic Trainers' Association. The student will be required to accumulate a minimum of 200 hours of experience during the internship experience.
 101, 205, 206, 305, and 306, or permission of department chair prerequisite.

- 491. Honors in Athletic Training. Cr. 3.
Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs and interests of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit. Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, the and the Honors Committee prerequisite.
- 499. Senior Capstone in Athletic Training. Cr. 3.
A comprehensive senior project in the area of athletic training. The project is intended to demonstrate an ability to conduct independent research and present the results in writing of commendable quality. This course is exempt from the 42 hour limit in the discipline.
Senior standing prerequisite.

EDUCATION (EDUC)

- 201. Foundations of Education. Cr. 3.
The history and present status of education in America. Orientation toward teaching as a profession.
- 202. Education of Exceptional Children and Youth. Cr. 3.
Introduction to the field of exceptional children and youth including incidence, identification, educational placement, and educational intervention pertinent to each exceptionality.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 3.
The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, practicum or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate.
281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors.
May be repeated for credit.
- 321. High School Curriculum and Methods. Cr. 3.
Organizational patterns; instructional modes; interpretations of high school educational programs: selection, organization, and evaluation of instructional materials and methods with emphasis upon the learning characteristics of middle, junior high, and senior high school students. Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 325. Curriculum III—Social Studies. Cr. 3.
Significant content and processes in social studies, and examination of specific materials and techniques for teaching social studies in grades P through six.
Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 326. Curriculum IV—Science/Health. Cr. 3.
Objectives and subject matter content of contemporary school science. An introduction to health education in the elementary and secondary school setting. Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 331. Music for the Early Childhood and Elementary School Teacher. Cr. 3.
Musical materials and activities suitable for children in grades P through six. Applying basic music principles in an organized program of listening, singing, playing of instruments, and rhythm.
- 333. Curriculum I—Language Arts. Cr. 3.
Examination of materials and methods for developing skills in listening, speaking, reading, writing, and visual literacy. Among the materials and methods examined are those relating to the genres of children's literature. Field experience required.
Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.

- 334. Curriculum II—Mathematics. Cr. 3.
Techniques and procedures for making mathematics meaningful to early childhood and elementary school children; mathematics as an integral part of everyday life. Field experience required. Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 336. Practicum in Education. Cr. 3.
This practicum will include a field experience in an assigned school. The experience will include written assignments and teaching assignments.
Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 339. Reading in the Content Areas. Cr. 3.
Students will examine techniques for guiding reading/study skills in the content subjects. Techniques for assessing and meeting student needs in a diverse population are learned. Field experience required.
Admission to the Teacher Certification Program.
- 367. Methods of Teaching and Assessing Reading. Cr. 5.
Methods, strategies and skills in emergent literacy, narrative and expository reading, and study skills for early childhood and elementary education majors. Qualitative and/or quantitative evaluative procedures in each of these areas are presented for diagnosis/prescription. Admission to the Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Education. Cr. 1-3.
The seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to the participants. May be repeated for credit with each change in title.
- 391. Student Mentor—Education. Cr. 1.
Satisfactory evaluation in Student Mentor 291 for two semesters and attendance at a total of three training sessions (assisting with one) prerequisite.
May be taken two semesters for credit on a graded basis.
This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.
- 401. Human Growth, Development and Learning. Cr. 3.
A broad overview of theories of teaching and learning and their classroom application. Analyzing these theories and integrating them into an educational philosophy or perspective. Applying these perspectives to effective and successful teaching.
201 prerequisite.
- 412. Parent Education. Cr. 3.
Learning to work with parents on an individual and group basis. Emphasis placed upon parent advisory groups, family guidance, and parent education. Field experience required.
- 433. Measurement and Guidance. Cr. 3.
Selecting, administering, interpreting, and using tests as diagnostic and evaluation instruments, and the related fundamental statistical techniques. Experience in developing other effective methods of evaluating students' achievement and guiding learning.
- 440. Classroom Management. Cr. 3.
Designed to acquaint the student with techniques for effective classroom and behavioral management; planning instruction; and legal, professional, and organizational aspects of education. Includes pre-student teaching field experience in the classroom.
Admission to Teacher Certification Program prerequisite.
- 491. Honors in Education. Cr. 3.
Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs and interests of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit. Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, and the Honors Committee prerequisite.

- 493. Student Teaching in Early Childhood/Elementary Education Cr. 9-12.
 The student's supervising professor will assign a letter grade to reflect the quality of the student's work during the internship.

• CULTURAL AND RELIGIOUS STUDIES PROGRAM

The Program in Cultural and Religious Studies contributes to the purpose and mission of Huntingdon College by offering courses that examine the myriad of human creations that constitute culture and the depth dimension of those creations that constitutes religion. Beginning with the Jewish and Christian traditions, the Program provides a critical perspective on the enduring values and standards of all cultures in order to prepare students for living, thinking, and working responsibly in a diverse world. The Program builds upon the core curriculum of the College by offering further explorations in interdisciplinary understandings of the cultures and religions of the world. Course offerings include studies in the theory of culture and religion, of particular cultures and religions around the globe, and of contemporary American culture and change. The Program also contributes to the academic environment of the College by being an appropriate and useful complement to the College travel program and by sponsoring lectures, symposia, conferences, and service opportunities. Whenever possible, the Program seeks to cross-list and/or team-teach its courses with faculty members in other areas of the College in order to benefit from their expertise, generate interdisciplinary dialogue, and engage students and faculty in collaborative learning. By encouraging and challenging students to study how cultures all over the world and throughout history have created and derived meaning, especially the ultimate meaning of religion, the Program in Cultural and Religious Studies facilitates students' cultivation of a mature personal philosophy, fosters a broad-based critical environment conducive to the development of intellectual enthusiasm and critical thinking skills, and prepares them for graduate and professional study as well as employment opportunities in a variety of careers and contexts.

Major in Cultural and Religious Studies: The major requires the completion of 36 hours including 101, 150, 201, 499, and 24 hours of electives chosen from the Cultural and Religious Studies or Philosophy courses.

Students may also self-design their majors by following the guidelines for Self-Designed Interdisciplinary Majors set forth in the catalog. Self-Designed Majors germinating from within the Cultural and Religious Studies program must also be approved by the faculty of Cultural and Religious Studies. Self-Designed Majors should include courses outside the Program in Cultural and Religious Studies or courses cross-listed within the Program.

Minor in Cultural and Religious Studies: The minor requires the completion of 18 hours in Cultural and Religious Studies including 101, 150, and 201.

Minor in Philosophy: Students minoring in Philosophy must take four courses in philosophy (12 hours) and two courses in Cultural and Religious Studies (6 hours) for a total of 18 hours.

• HISTORY PROGRAM

The History Program examines the interaction and influence, over time, of individual, social, and cultural factors on human development. History examines the forces which have shaped and influenced the development of human institutions, thought and behavior as nations, and as social forces.

Through its offerings the History Program offers students the opportunity to investigate the past to gain a sense of human development, an understanding of fundamental and lasting social processes, and a perspective on the present.

Major in History: The major requires completion of 36 hours of history including 101, 102, 205, 206, and 215, 6 hours in upper-level courses in U.S. colonial or national history, 6 hours in European history; and 3 hours chosen from among 307, 308, 309, and 310; and 3 hours in Political Science 201. One 3-hour course from the following may be substituted for 3 hours in history; Art 303, 304; Theater 414; Economics 203, 303; Music 340, 341; Political Science 314. The total requirement for the major in history is 39 hours.

Minor in History: The minor requires completion of 18 hours in history including 101, 102, 205, and 206.

Teaching Field, History (grades 7-12): Reference should be made to the Teacher Certification Program, page 2.34, for specific requirements.

• MODERN LANGUAGES PROGRAM

The Modern Languages Program encompasses the French, German, Greek, Latin, and Spanish. The department offers a major Spanish and minors in French and Spanish.

Students with two or more years of French, German, Greek, Latin, or Spanish must take a language placement test to determine the appropriate level in which to enroll.

Minor in French: The minor in French requires completion of 18 hours, beyond the three semester elementary sequence (French 101, 102, 103), including 211 and 212. Completing one of the following sequences is recommended: 301, 302, 322, and 333-334; or 301, 302, 322, 371, and 372.

Major in Spanish: The major in Spanish requires completion of 30 hours beyond the two semester elementary sequence (Spanish 101, 102), including 211, 212, 308, 311 or 313, 321, 408 or 410, and 12 hours of Spanish electives numbered 300 or above.

Minor in Spanish: The minor in Spanish requires completion of 18 hours beyond the two semester elementary sequence (Spanish 101, 102), including 211, 212, 308, 311 or 313, 321 and 3 hours of Spanish electives numbered 300 or above.

Qualified students may petition the Department to be considered for award of a minor in a foreign language in which it is not currently offered.

Asks students to explore, question, and understand the world around us.
- 202. Introduction to Communication Studies Cr. 3.
 Examines how communication research can be used to explore theoretical communication questions in today's complex social, political, and technological climate. Focuses on communication concepts in three main areas of concentration: organizational communication, rhetorical communication, and media studies.
 201 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 220. Media in Society
 This course focuses on the impact of the mass media on society, including television, radio, print journalism, and the Internet. Emphasis on the development of television, radio, and print journalism in our society, the way our society uses them, and how the Internet has emerged as a powerful medium. Students will focus on elements such as news, entertainment, and other functions of the media.
- 233. Effective Public Communication. Cr. 3.
 An interpersonal approach to the study of verbal persuasive communication. Traditional study of rhetoric and public speaking with regard to organization, evidence, and delivery.
- 242. Interpersonal Communication. Cr. 3.
 The study of the aspects of interpersonal communication in personal and professional dyadic and group contexts. Specially designed to impart a general understanding of the dynamics involved in interpersonal relations in both structured and unstructured situations, and to improve communication skills in negotiating within those contexts. The course considers such topics as conflict management and resolution, nonverbal communication, conversational analysis, stages and phases of interpersonal relations, and responsive listening.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1-3.
 The course may consist of a systematic reading program, research, communication project, or field study. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lecture or recitations. Quizzes, tests, papers or examinations may be required. 281 open to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors.

- 305. Theories of Communication and Persuasion. Cr. 3.
An exploration of the evolution of persuasion theories including learning, consistency, information processing, and cognitive theories as well as structural, attitudinal, interpretive, cultural, and critical approaches to communication studies. Sites for investigation include interpersonal, mediated, campaign, and movement messages.
- 311. Rhetorical Criticism. Cr. 3.
A focus on the nature and function of rhetoric as a pragmatic tool that is used to influence receivers' perceptions of symbolic reality. Through a detailed exploration of how rhetorical strategies are used in attempts to overcome obstacles that stem from the rhetorical situation, students gain experience in critical analysis of persuasive texts and application of theory in the context of the communication process.
- 330. Video Production. Cr. 3.
Introduces basic uses and application of video. Course includes the analysis and application of story-telling techniques and film/video aesthetics as well as fundamental video editing, directing, camera, and sound. Offers hands-on experience producing short works from initial concept to final broadcast.
233 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 332. Business and Professional Communication. Cr. 3.
A focus on acquiring the communicative competencies necessary in business and professional careers. Focuses on communicative situations and skills in the workplace, such as team building, interacting in meetings, interviewing, written communications, superior-subordinate interactions, and effective listening.
233 or 242, or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 333. Oral Interpretation. Cr. 3.
Development of skills in prose, verse, and dramatic readings, through in-depth contextual character analysis. Incorporates the use of dialects and audition techniques.
- 334. Persuasion and Political Speech. Cr. 3.
Study, composition, and analysis of political campaigns, as well as techniques and situations intended to persuade.
- 335. Small Group Communication. Cr. 3.
Focuses on the dynamics of interaction in various small group situations. Subjects considered include group types, conflict, power, cooperation and competition, defective decision making/problem solving, gender and ethnicity issues, phases of group development, and roles and leadership.
242 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 351. Classical Rhetoric. Cr. 3.
A survey of the history of Greek and Latin rhetoric from its origin in the 5th century B.C. through Francis Bacon. Special attention given to Gorgias, Protagoras, Isocrates, Plato, Aristotle, Cicero, Quintilian, and Augustine.
233 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 370. The Analysis and Impact of Television on Society. Cr. 3.
An examination of the nature and function of television as a business, a source of entertainment and information, and a cultural tool is followed by an exploration of the various issues concerning the impact of television as an agent of cultural change. Critical analysis of television from multiple theoretical perspectives is used to tackle issues of debate and about the impact of the medium and its message. Topics include violence, cognitive processes, sexism and stereotyping, entertainment, news, music television, and political communication.
220 and 311 or permission of the department prerequisite.

- 371, 372. Seminar in Communication Studies. Cr. 3.
 This seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to the participants. May be repeated for credit with each change in title. The Schedule of Classes will list the specific title for the semester.
 233 or 242 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 375. Public Relations. Cr. 3.
 Introduces students to the principles, techniques, and types of public relations. Concentrates on exploring the role of public relations in our society, analyzing the public relations audience, and examining the mass media as public relations vehicles.
 201 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 401. Topics in American Public Address. Cr. 3.
 A topical consideration of individual case studies in American public address. Course topics may be presidential address, women's address, cold war rhetoric, Black Americans, Native Americans, and twentieth century public address. These topical studies will be considered against a background of social, political, and intellectual issues.
 May be repeated for credit with different course titles and specific titles will be listed in the Schedule of Classes.
 233 or permission of the department prerequisite; 311 recommended.
- 405. Argumentation and Debate. Cr. 3.
 The study and practice of techniques used in formal and informal argumentation and debate. Special emphasis on policy debate.
- 411. Contemporary Rhetorical Theory. Cr. 3.
 An exploration of contemporary theoretical descriptions and explanations of the role of communication in social and political symbolic activities. A survey of late and post-Enlightenment rhetorical theory ranging from Campbell and Whately to twentieth century rhetoricians such as Richards, Weaver, and Burke.
 351 prerequisite.
- 420. Organizational Communication. Cr. 3.
 A survey of communication in various types of organizations. Selected micro- and macro-level theories of organizational behavior. Includes such topics as information flow, climate and culture, leadership and motivation, groups, conflict, and contemporary issues of workplace diversity and ethics.
 335 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 430. Advanced Video Production. Cr. 3.
 Examines aspects of the pre-production, production, and post-production processes, explores options in story-telling and video aesthetics, and fosters critical thinking about the impact of artistic, visual, and context choices. Focuses on the completion of portfolio quality video works suitable for festival competition, graduate applications, or professional resumes.
 330 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 433. Advanced Presentational Speaking. Cr. 3.
 Advanced practicum on technical and presentational speaking. Focuses on the collection, arrangement, and presentation of informative and persuasive messages in the one to many situation.
 233, 311, or permission of the department prerequisite.

- 481. Internship in Communication. Cr. 1-3.
 A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the Department.
 Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of elective credits.
 Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application and permission of the department prerequisite.
- 491. Honors in Communication Studies. Cr. 3.
 Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs and interests of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit. Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, the and the Honors Committee prerequisite.
- 499. Senior Capstone in Communication Studies. Cr. 3.
 This seminar provides an environment for students to plan, develop, and execute an intensive scholarly project related to a student's individual concentration. The completion of a group project in which the students synthesize knowledge they have gained through the major is also required. Class time is spent revisiting theoretical arguments and methodology appropriate to the participant's projects, discussing problems and progress at various stages in the research and analysis process, and working on group and individual projects.
 Senior standing prerequisite.

ENGLISH (ENGL)

- 101. English for Foreign Students. Cr. 3.
 Required of foreign students who do not qualify for English 103. Emphasis on oral and written communication. Offered on pass/no credit basis only.
Note: All of the following English courses have Rhetoric 101 as a prerequisite. Any additional prerequisites are listed.
- 201. Fundamentals of Journalism. Cr. 3.
 An introduction to the various facets of journalism such as reporting, editing, advertising, layout, and legal liability. Supplemented by work on the student newspaper. May be repeated for credit with permission of the department.
- 202. Introduction to Literature. Cr. 3.
 The course is an introduction to the fundamentals of literary study, emphasizing critical compositions on the short story, poetry and drama, and film. It will include examination of critical methodology for analysis of literature, literary terminology, and research methods appropriate to the discipline.
- 211, 212. English Literature. Cr. 3, 3.
 Emphasis on major writers. First semester, from Beowulf to Pope, second semester, from Blake to Eliot.
- 213. Literature by Women. Cr. 3.
 An examination of works by women writers. Selections vary with each offering of the course.

281, 381. Individual Study.Cr. 1-3.

The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors. May be repeated for credit.

303. Principles of English Grammar.Cr. 3.

Designed primarily for English Majors and students in the English Language Arts program, this course provides an overview of the English language, concentrating on its grammar. Topics include linguistics and the history of the language.

301. Creative Writing.Cr. 3.

Practice in writing various forms of creative prose and verse.

May be repeated for credit with the permission of the department. There is a fee for reproducing materials.

302. Fiction.Cr. 3.

Introduction to the principles of writing fiction with an intensive focus on student generated work to prepare for participation in the workshop (English 405, 406) and subsequent publication.

Permission of the department prerequisite.

304. Poetry Writing.Cr. 3.

Introduction to the principles of writing poetry with an intensive focus on student generated work to prepare for participation in the workshop (English 405, 406) and subsequent publication.

Permission of the department prerequisite.

306. Creative Non-Fiction.Cr. 3.

Introduction to the principles of writing creative nonfiction with an intensive focus on student generated work to prepare for participation in the workshop (English 405, 406) and subsequent publication.

Permission of the department prerequisite.

308. Drama.Cr. 3.

Introduction to the principles of writing drama with an intensive focus on student generated work to prepare for participation in the workshop (English 405, 406) and subsequent publication.

Permission of the department prerequisite.

309. Children/Young Adult.Cr. 3.

Introduction to the principles of writing for children or young adults with an intensive focus on student generated work to prepare for participation in the workshop (English 405, 406) and subsequent publication.

Permission of the department prerequisite.

311. Medieval English Literature.Cr. 3.

This course will examine the literature of the Middle Ages. The works will be discussed in terms not only of their literary qualities but also the major ideas of the time in which they were created. Readings include religious drama, Arthurian material, drama, and hagiography.

315. Film Studies.Cr. 3.

This course will examine the artistic and cultural importance of film. The content of the course may vary, possibly focusing on such topics as the history of film, films of a specific style or period, the relationship between prose narrative and film, gender and film, or race and film. May be repeated once for credit with different topic and permission of department.

211 or above with the exceptions of 301, 303, 305 and 481.

- 316. Eighteenth Century Literature. Cr. 3.
Major writers of the classical period, with emphasis on Swift, Pope, and Doctor Johnson.
- 317. English Literature of the Early Nineteenth Century. Cr. 3.
A study of both romantic and non-romantic writers, such as Austen, Peacock, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley, and Keats.
- 318. English Literature of the Victorian Period. Cr. 3.
A study of poets, novelists, and essayists, such as Tennyson, the Brontes, the Brownings, Arnold, Eliot, and Hardy.
- 321, 322. American Literature. Cr. 3, 3.
A study of major figures and developmental trends in American literature. First semester covers the colonial and Romantic periods; second semester covers later nineteenth and twentieth century materials.
- 324. Literature of the American South. Cr. 3.
Representative writers, artistic and cultural characteristics, and developmental trends from a regional literary tradition.
- 331. Contemporary Literature. Cr. 3.
An examination and analysis of literature since World War II. In addition to European and American literature, students will interpret contemporary developments in literature and culture such as post-Colonial studies, ethnic literatures from around the world, postmodernism, and debates about "literature" itself.
- 334. Modern Drama. Cr. 3.
Representative plays from Ibsen to Albee.
- 335. The Novel. Cr. 3.
Critical reading of selected novels and historical survey of development and trends.
- 339, 340. World Literature. Cr. 3, 3.
Readings in translation of the literature of the world. First semester, the major writers of the ancient world, the Middle Ages, and the Renaissance; second semester, major writers after the Renaissance.
- 371, 372. Seminar in English: Cr. 3.
Seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to participants. May be repeated for credit with each change in title.
- 411. Chaucer. Cr. 3.
The Canterbury Tales, Troilus and Criseyde, and selected lesser works.
211 prerequisite.
- 413. Shakespeare's Comedies. Cr. 3.
The chief comedies from The Comedy of Errors to The Tempest.
211 prerequisite.
- 414. Shakespeare's Tragedies. Cr. 3.
Close study of eight plays.
211 prerequisite.
- 415. Milton. Cr. 3.
Paradise Lost, Paradise Regained, and Samson Agonistes.
211 prerequisite.
- 417. Literary Criticism. Cr. 3.
A study of the major figures and schools of literary criticism prior to the twentieth century including Aristotle's Poetics, Plato, Horace, Longinus, Renaissance and Neo-Classical authors, Romantic authors through Coleridge, and some nineteenth century authors.

- 418. Criticism and Theory in the Twentieth Century. Cr. 3.
This course will examine a range of theorists and theories and may include structuralism, post-structuralism, deconstruction, psychoanalysis, neo-colonialism, feminism, and reader-response. The course also may include several literary works.
- 422. Seminar in American Literature. Cr. 3.
Seminar will focus on a topics in American Literature appropriate to participants. May be repeated for credit with each change in title.
- 431. Creative Writing Practica: The Prelude. Cr. 1.
Credit will be granted for serving as editor or assistant editor of The Prelude for a semester. May be repeated for credit (maximum of 3 credits).
- 432. Creative Writing Practica: Writers in the Schools. Cr. 1.
Credit will be granted for working in high school creative writing workshops. May be repeated for credit (maximum of 3 credits).
- 433. Creative Writing Practica: Writers' Conference. Cr. 1.
Credit will be granted for working with the Huntingdon College Annual Creative Writing Conference. May be repeated for credit (maximum of 3 credits).
- 434. Creative Writing Practica: Writing Camp. Cr. 1.
Credit will be granted for working with the Huntingdon College Creative Writing Summer Camp. May be repeated for credit (maximum of 3 credits).
- 435. Creative Writing Practica: Writers' Retreat. Cr. 1.
Credit will be granted for participation in or working on a Writers' Retreat. May be repeated for credit (maximum of 3 credits).
- 436. Creative Writing Practica: Writing Contest. Cr. 1.
Credit will be granted for working on a high school writing contest for creative writers in Alabama schools. May be repeated for credit (maximum of 3 credits).
- 481. Internship in English. Cr. 1-3.
A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the Department.
Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 elective credits.
Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application and permission of the department prerequisite.
- 491. Honors in English. Cr. 3.
Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs and interests of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit. Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, and the Honors Committee prerequisite.
- 499. Senior Capstone in English. Cr. 3.
A comprehensive senior project in the area of English. The project is intended to demonstrate an ability to conduct independent research and present the results in writing of commendable quality. This course is exempt from the 42 hour limit in the discipline. Senior standing prerequisite.
- 499A. Senior Capstone in English: Creative Writing—Practicum. Cr. 3.
Introduction to the principles of writing fiction with an intensive focus on student generated work to prepare for participation in the workshop (ENGL 405, 406) and subsequent publication.
Permission of the department prerequisite.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

COMPUTER SCIENCE PROGRAM	2.76
Major: Computer Science
Minor: Computer Science
Disciplinary Courses
Computer Science (CMPS)	2.77
INTERDISCIPLINARY COURSES	2.79
Mathematics and Computers Science (MACS)
MATHEMATICS PROGRAM	2.76
Major: Mathematics
Minor: Mathematics
Teacher Certification: Mathematics (grades 7-12)
Disciplinary Courses
Mathematics (MATH)	2.79

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science uses problem solving as a vehicle for the development of clear, logical, and creative thought processes. The Mathematics major emphasizes the development of quantitative and analytic skills, mathematical thinking and the presentation of concise, logical arguments in both oral and written form. The Computer Science major seeks to provide a core curriculum which assures breadth and emphasizes the role of theory, abstraction, and design.

• COMPUTER SCIENCE PROGRAM

Major in Computer Science: The major requires completion of 45 hours including Mathematics and Computer Science (MACS) 001 (6 hours), 499, Computer Science 215, 235, 322, 331, 9 additional hours of Computer Science courses numbered 300 and above, and Mathematics 255, 256, 313, 320, and 462.

Minor in Computer Science: The minor requires completion of 21 hours including Computer Science 215, 235, Mathematics 255, 256, 313, and 6 hours of computer science courses numbered 300 and above. Mathematics 462 may be substituted for 3 hours of Computer Science elective credit.

• MATHEMATICS PROGRAM

Major in Mathematics: The major requires completion of 45 hours including Mathematics and Computer Science (MACS) 001 (6 hours), 499, Mathematics 255, 256, 313, 320, 355, 356, 366, 401, 411, an additional 6 hours in mathematics numbered 300 and above, and Computer Science 215.

Minor in Mathematics: The minor requires completion of 18 hours including Mathematics 255, 256, 313, 6 hours of mathematics courses numbered 300 and above, and Computer Science 215.

Teaching Field, Mathematics (grades 7-12): Reference should be made to the Teacher Certification Program, page 2.34, for specific requirements.

Entering freshmen should consult with their academic advisors and the Mathematics Program Coordinator concerning the level at which they begin their study of mathematics.

Students who intend a limited amount of study in this department are advised to include Mathematics 171 or 175 among their choices. The student planning to pursue graduate study in mathematics or computer science should complete more than the minimum requirements of the major, and should study either French or German, preferably both.

Students majoring in the department may be required to participate in local and/or national aptitude testing and/or program evaluation.

• PRE-ENGINEERING

Students pursuing the Engineering Dual-Degree program or planning on graduate studies in engineering should carefully plan their curriculum. Based on the model specified by the Auburn School of Engineering, all pre-engineering students are advised to take the following:

HIST 101-102, ECON 201, PSYC 201, MUS 210, PHIL 250,
MATH 255, 256, 355, 356, 360

Aerospace:	MATH 320, CHEM 105, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215, CMPS 230 (Programming in FORTRAN)
Biosystems:	CHEM 105-106, BIOL 101-102, BIOL 212, PHYS 251, CMPS 215
Chemical:	CHEM 105-106, PHYS 251, CMPS 215
Civil:	CHEM 105-106, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215, CMPS 230 (Programming in FORTRAN)
Electrical:	MATH 320, CHEM 105, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215
Industrial and Systems:	MATH 320, CHEM 105, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215
Materials:	MATH 320, CHEM 105-106, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215
Mechanical:	MATH 320, CHEM 105, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215
Software:	MATH 320, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215
Textile:	MATH 320, CHEM 105-106, PHYS 251-252, CMPS 215

- 112. Information Systems Concepts. Cr. 3.
Computer information systems within organizations; identify managerial/organizational information needs. Describe the role of IS (Information Systems) in management including current professional practices and methodologies, presentation of systems theory, decision theory, organizational models, types of IS, IS planning, and IS development.
- 211. Principles of Digital Imaging. Cr. 3.
This course investigates the major digital image types, methods of image creation, storage, and compression. Students will construct two- and three-dimensional electronic images. The course also examines problems specific to digital images, such as aliasing, color matching, and legal and ethical issues in digital image alteration. Electronic painting, digital devices, and printing issues are examined.
- 214. 2-D Digital Images, Effects, and Animation. Cr. 3.
Two-dimensional images. Raster and vector based drawings, image alteration, filters, masks. Simple animation and morphing. Emphasis on creative use of masks and filters for special effects and 2-D animation. CMPS 211 prerequisite.
- 215. Introduction to Computer Programming. Cr. 3.
An introduction to computers and computer programming. Material includes hardware and software organization and capabilities; social and ethical questions relating to computer technology; and programming fundamentals using the C language, including simple data types and structures, file handling, and recursion.
- 230, 231. Programming in ... Cr. 1.
Given by language. Various offerings each semester. May include the languages COBOL, FORTRAN, JAVA, LISP, Pascal, Perl, PHP, Prolog, and Unix scripting. May be repeated for credit with change of language, but no more than 3 hours of this course number may be counted for credit.
215 or permission of the department prerequisite.

- 235. Data and File Structures. Cr. 3.
 Basic data structures (stacks, queues, lists, trees, graphs) and algorithms for their implementation in primary and secondary storage. Techniques for design and analysis of efficient algorithms.
 215 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1-3.
 The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors.
 May be repeated for credit.
- 312. 3-D Modeling and Ray Tracing. Cr. 3.
 Constructing three-dimensional objects in image space, including color, texture, lighting, orientation and camera positioning, highlights, and wireframe and solid rendering, and 3-D animation.
 211 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 322. Computer Architecture. Cr. 3.
 Computer architecture and machine language, principles of assembly language programming, memory addressing and management.
 215 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 330. Selected Topics in Computer Science. Cr. 3.
 Designed to meet the current needs and interests of the students. May be repeated for credit with each change of title. Topics are selected and offered upon sufficient demand. The Schedule of Classes will list the specific title for the semester.
 Prerequisites depend on the topic offered.
- 331. Operating Systems. Cr. 3.
 An introduction to the concepts of operating systems and their relationship to computer architecture. Includes dynamic procedure activation, reentrant programs, systems structure, queuing, memory management, and recovery procedures.
 215 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 342. Organization of Programming Languages. Cr. 3.
 An introduction to the formal study of programming languages. Syntax and characteristics of grammars, Backus-Naur Form, control structures and data flow, lexical analysis and parsing.
 215 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Computer Science. Cr. 1-3.
 The seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to the participants. May be repeated for credit with a change in topic.
- 451. Algorithms. Cr. 3.
 Includes time-space analysis of a selection of algorithms from these areas: searching, sorting, graphs, matrix operations, text processing, and artificial intelligence.
 235 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 481. Internship in Computer Science. Cr. 1-3.
 A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the Department. Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of elective credits.
 Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application and permission of the department prerequisite.

- 491. Honors in Computer Science. Cr. 3.
Individual work designed to meet the particular needs of the student. Open to superior major by permission of the department chairperson and the Honors Committee. May be repeated for credit, but may not be counted twice for major credit.

MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE (MACS)

- 001. Departmental Seminar. Cr. 1.
Weekly seminar devoted to issues and presentations pertaining to mathematics and computer science. Must be taken each semester, freshman year through the junior year. Credit limited to a total of 6 hours.
- 499. Senior Capstone. Cr. 3.
Individual original research project or expository paper demonstrating mastery of the major. This course is exempt from the 42 hour limit in the discipline.
Senior standing prerequisite.

MATHEMATICS (MATH)

- 101. Basic Mathematics. Lb. 5; Cr. 3.
Basic mathematical skills needed for beginning work in the behavioral, biological, physical, and social sciences. Manipulation and applications which may include fractions, decimals, percentages, ratios, proportions, tables, linear interpolation, binomials, simple interest, compound interest, annuities, amortizations, sinking funds, bonds, mean, standard deviation, linear equations, graphs, and quadratic equations. Available on a pass/ no credit basis only.
- 155. Precalculus Mathematics. Cr. 3.
Topics in algebra, trigonometry, and coordinate geometry.
- 171. Introduction to Statistics. Cr. 3.
Basic concepts of statistical analysis, distribution and sample statistics, inference and hypotheses testing, and the use and application of statistical software.
- 175. Mathematical Concepts: An Intuitive and Historical Approach. Cr. 3.
To explore the nature and structure of mathematical thought and its progression from an historical and intuitive perspective. Topics include spatial relations, patterns, axiomatic systems, logic, computability, probability, statistics, chaos, and topology.
- 203. Finite Mathematics. Cr. 3.
Linear functions, matrices, systems of linear equations, linear programming, sets, and mathematics of finance.
171 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 255. Calculus I. Cr. 3.
Introduction to limits, continuity, and differentiation of algebraic and transcendental functions of a single variable. Applications of differentiation. Permission of the department prerequisite.
- 256. Calculus II. Cr. 3.
Continuation of 255. Introduction to the definite and indefinite integral. Techniques of integration, applications of the definite integral, numerical methods, and infinite series.
251 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1-3.
The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. 281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors. May be repeated for credit.

- 300. Statistics II. Cr. 3.
 Additional statistical distributions and hypotheses testing, index numbers, time series, and analysis of variance. 171 and 203, or permission of the department prerequisite.
Note: All of the following courses have Mathematics 255 and 256 prerequisite. Any additional prerequisites are listed.
- 313. Discrete Mathematics. Cr. 3.
 Sets, relations, and functions; introduction to logic; finite sequences and series; probability and descriptive statistics; elementary matrix operations and graph theory; proof by induction. The course also includes an introduction to computer algebra systems.
- 315. Geometry. Cr. 3.
 An introduction to Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries.
- 320. Linear Algebra. Cr. 3.
 Linear equations, matrices, vector spaces, linear mapping, determinants, and applications.
- 330. Selected Topics in Mathematics. Cr. 3.
 Designed to meet the current needs and interests of the students. Topics are selected and offered upon sufficient demand. May be repeated for credit with each change of title. The Schedule of Classes will list the specific title for the semester.
- 355. Calculus III. Cr. 3.
 Continuation of 256. Further techniques of integration, parametric equations, polar coordinates, vector functions, and infinite sequences and series.
- 356. Calculus IV. Cr. 3.
 Partial derivatives, multivariate and vector calculus. A brief introduction to first and second order differential equations.
 355 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 360. Ordinary Differential Equations. Cr. 3.
 Introduction of the theory of ordinary differential equations.
 355 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 366. Introduction to Abstract Mathematics. Cr. 3.
 Introduction to proof through basic set theory, abstract algebra, and analysis.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Mathematics. Cr. 1-3.
 The seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to the participants. May be repeated for credit with a change in topic. Course offered upon sufficient demand.
- 391. Student Mentor—Mathematics. Cr. 1.
 Satisfactory evaluation in Student Mentor 291 for two semesters and attendance at a total of three training sessions (assisting with one), prerequisite. May be taken two semesters for credit on a graded basis. This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.
- 401. Introduction to Analysis. Cr. 3.
 The real number system, functions, limits, continuity, integrals, and series.
- 411. Abstract Algebra. Cr. 3.
 Introduction to algebraic structures. Groups, rings, integral domains, and fields.
- 462. Finite Automata and Formal Languages. Cr. 3.
 An introduction to finite automata and formal languages, including regular expressions, Turing Machines, pushdown automata, formal grammars and languages, and undecidability.

481. Internship in Mathematics.

Cr. 1-3.

A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the Department. Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of elective credits. Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application and permission of the department prerequisite.

491. Honors in Mathematics.

Cr. 3.

Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs and interests of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit. Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the department chair and the Honors Committee prerequisite.

• ART PROGRAM

The Art Program offers courses of study in studio art, art history, digital art, and art theory leading to majors in Art and Digital Art.

Major in Art: The major requires completion of 39 hours, including 151 each semester of attendance up to a total of 8 semesters of satisfactory completion, 201, 202, 203, 207, 250, 303, 304, 401, 402, and 499.

Minor in Art: The minor requires completion of 18 hours.

Major in Digital Art: The major requires completion of 39 hours including 151 each semester of attendance up to a total of 8 semesters of satisfactory completion, 201, 202, 203, 241, 303, 304, 401, 402 or 491, and 499; Computer Science 211, 214, 312, and 6 hours chosen from art, or art and computer science.

Minor in Digital Art: The minor requires completion of 18 hours, including Art 201, 203; Computer Science 211, 214, and 6 hours chosen from art or art and computer science.

Teaching Field, Art (grades P-12): Reference should be made to the Teacher Certification Program, page 2.34, for specific requirements.

Students planning to pursue graduate study in art history should study two foreign languages.

• MUSIC PROGRAM

The Music Program endeavors to offer superior professional training in music performance and music education in the context of a liberal arts education. Consistent with the educational orientation of the College, music studies center upon the classical tradition of western music while recognizing the important contribution of musics from other cultures and traditions. In order to accomplish these goals we expect music graduates to possess skills in and an understanding of music theory and history as well as an appropriately high level of achievement in performance.

Performance Requirements for Admission as a Music Major:

Entering music students will be expected to demonstrate the following proficiencies by written examination and a hearing before the music faculty:

- A. An adequate performing ability in a major applied area (auditions will take place on published scholarship days or by special arrangement with the music office, but no later than the opening of the semester)
- B. An elementary knowledge of the structure of music
- C. A satisfactory aural ability
- D. An appropriate keyboard ability

Students who are judged to be deficient in one or more of the areas listed above will be assisted in removing the deficiencies. They may enroll in Music 105, 106, Music Fundamentals, and/or Applied Music for noncredit until proficiency is demonstrated to the music faculty as required.

Students who desire to pursue the concentration in performance must exhibit a higher level of proficiency in this primary performance area. Admission to the performance program is by formal audition and is based on a vote of the music faculty.

Additional Requirements for Graduation:

All music majors must pass a proficiency examination in theory, ear training, and sight-singing, as well as one in the major performance area by the end of the sophomore year, at which time the faculty will make recommendations for further study. These requirements are on file in the music office, and may be examined at any time.

Music majors in all concentrations, and minor in theory must take and pass a piano proficiency examination before graduation. In general, the student will be expected to complete this requirement by the end of the sophomore year.

Students who transfer to Huntingdon prior to the completion of the sophomore year will be expected to pass the above proficiency exams prior to graduation. Students who transfer following completion of the sophomore year must show evidence of passing comparable proficiencies, or will be expected to pass the above examinations.

The same restriction applies to attempts to pass the theory proficiency, the sophomore performance proficiency hearing, or the piano proficiency examination. Students who fail to earn at least a grade of C in any course required for a degree program in music that serves as a prerequisite for a more advanced course must repeat the lower level course before proceeding to the advanced course.

A maximum of 69 hours in music may be credited toward the 124-hour degree.

Core Curriculum for Music Majors: All music majors, except those whose concentration is Music and Liberal Arts, are required to complete a music core curriculum in music theory, music history and applied music as follows: music theory—Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 200, 201, 202, 205, 206, and 207 or 208; music literature (the appropriate course in the student's performance area)—Music 406, 407, 408, or 409; music history—Music 212, 340, 341; Applied Music-12 hours of studio instruction in the primary performance area, 149 in the primary performance area each semester that the student is taking studio instruction; 151 each semester of attendance up to a total of 8 semesters of satisfactory completion; 200 and 209.

Major in Music (Concentration in Performance): The primary emphasis is on the development of skills and concepts in the performance of music. Major requirements are 63-69 hours, including the music core curriculum, 41 hours as listed above.

Instrumental—Performance: Music 303, 308, 318; Applied Music - 4 additional hours of studio instruction in the primary performance area, 8 hours of ensemble in the major performance area, 300 and 499B.

Vocal—Performance: Music 211, 302, 308, 315; Applied Music - 4 additional hours of studio instruction in primary performance area, 4 hours of studio instruction in a secondary performance area, 8 hours of ensemble in the primary performance area, 300 and 499B. Vocal majors are also advised to take three semesters of either French or German to satisfy the College's language requirement.

Keyboard—Performance: Music 302 or 303, 308, 313, 314; Applied Music - 4 additional hours of studio instruction in the primary performance area, 3 hours of studio instruction in a secondary performance area, 148, 8 hours of ensemble, 300 and 499B.

Major in Music (Concentration in Theory): The program is designed for the student who wishes to concentrate in the area of music theory-composition and music literature. Major requirements are 69 hours, including: the music core curriculum, 41 hours, as listed above; Music 302, 303, 308, 309, 310, 412 (4 hours, one concurrently while enrolled in 499B); 6 hours in music literature (in addition to the hours required in the music core); Applied Music 117, 118, 119, 120 (each completed satisfactorily on noncredit basis), 3 hours of studio instruction in a secondary performance area, and 499B which will be a recital of the student's compositions.

Major in Music (Concentration in Music and Liberal Arts): This concentration is designed for the student who would like to further his or her background in music without complete preparation for a graduate degree in music, and for a student who wishes to consider pursuing two separate majors. Within this concentration, two options are available: (1) a general program which does not include a recital, but which does require the student to pass a performance proficiency examination in the primary performance area prior to graduation, and the successful completion of Applied Music 499A before the faculty in lieu of a public half recital, and (2) a performance-oriented option which includes the successful completion of Applied Music 499A or 499B. The student must continue taking applied instructions up to and including the time of the recital if the second option is chosen. The choice of option is made by the student in consultation with the music faculty.

Major requirements are 45 hours, including: Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 200, 201, 202, 205, 206, 207 (non-keyboard primary performance area) or 208 (keyboard primary performance area), 212, 340, 341; Applied Music - 8 hours of studio instruction in the primary performance area, 149 in the primary performance area each semester the student is taking studio instruction, 151 each semester of attendance up to 8 hours of satisfactory completion, music ensemble each semester of full-time enrollment with a minimum of 8 hours for credit (vocal and instrumental in the primary performance area) 200, 209, and 499A or 499B.

Major in Music Education (Vocal/Choral—P-12 Certification): The program is designed to prepare the student to teach in the areas of choral music and elementary music. Major requirements are Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 200, 201, 202, 205, 206, 207, 212, 221, 302, 303, 315, 321, 322, 340, 341, and 408; Applied Music - 115 (7 hours), 117, 118, 119, and 120 (each for credit or noncredit), 149 in the primary performance area each semester the student is in studio instruction, 151 each semester of attendance up to a total of 7 hours of satisfactory completion (enrollment the semester of internship is waived), 200, 209, and 499A; Studio Instruction 121, 122, 221, 222, 321, 322; Education 201, 202, 339, 401, 433, 440, 498. Total hours required for the major are 95-98 hours. Reference should be made to the Department of Education and Psychology, page 2.???, for additional information.

Minor in Music (Concentration in Performance): 19 hours, including Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 210; Applied Music - 8 hours of studio instruction in the primary performance area, 4 hours of ensembles for credit or non credit (minors in vocal and non-keyboard instrumental must participate in the ensemble relating to their primary performance area), and 151 (4 semesters of satisfactory completion).

Minor in Music (Concentration in Theory): 21 hours, including Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 201, 202, 205, 206, 210, and 2 hours chosen from 308, 309, 310, or 411; Applied Music 151 (4 hours of satisfactory completion), 4 hours of ensemble (taken for credit or noncredit), and 209.

Minor in Music (Concentration in Music Literature): 19 hours, including Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 210, one course selected from 311, 312, 316, 317; one course selected from 406, 407, 408, 409; Applied Music 151 (4 hours of satisfactory completion), 4 hours of ensemble (taken for credit or noncredit).

• THEATER PROGRAM

The Theater Program offers courses in acting and technical production for the general education of all students, as well as an in-depth study for those seeking a professionally-oriented training. The Theater presentations provide the opportunity for participation in every type of theatrical experience, from children's theater to the classics. Interdisciplinary internships with directors and designers from the Alabama Shakespeare Festival are available during the junior and senior years after students successfully complete preparatory courses. Internships with Alabama Shakespeare Festival are also available in the following areas: theater management, administration, publicity, and all of the technical theater design areas. Students who major or minor in the area are encouraged to seek membership in the Theater Honorary Society, Alpha Psi Omega, or the theater Players.

Major in Theater: 39 hours including Theater 150 or 350 (6 hours), 151 each semester of attendance up to a total of 8 semesters of satisfactory completion, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 301, 312 or 313, 316 or 415, 414, 499; 3 hours chosen from English 334, 413, 414. If no major role is performed each semester, a performance before a jury at the end of spring semester is required. Students are to audition for, participate in, build, support, and strike all productions, as well as experience all artistic, technical, and administrative aspects of the theatrical performance. Before graduating, each student will design, stage manage, direct at least one fully mounted production, as well as perform a senior recital. Students may produce, fully design, commit to directing a full length play, or accept a major role in one of their last semester's productions, in lieu of the senior recital.

Minor in Theater: 22 hours including Theater 150 (4 hours), 151 (4 semesters of satisfactory completion), 217, 218 and 316. Minors will also be required to participate in striking all productions, stage manage or direct at least one fully mounted production, as well as experiencing the various technical aspects of performances.

Major in Musical Theater: 56 hours including Theater 150 (6 hours), 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 312, 316, 499; 8 hours of Applied Dance which must include one hour each of Applied Dance 111, 114, 116, and 120 (111, 112, 114, 116 and 118 may be repeated for credit); Music 107, 108, 109, 110, 210; Applied Music (voice) 111, 112, 211, 212; Music Ensemble 115 or 150 (4 hours); Physical Activity 119, 123. Each student will be required to register for MUAP 149 for four semesters concurrent with applied music study and for four semesters of MUAP 151, recital attendance or Theater 151, theater attendance. A jury examination to include at least one minute of dialogue with song, performed before the performing arts faculty at the end of spring semester is required. Before graduating, each student will stage manage and direct at least one fully mounted production as well as performing a senior recital or committing to a major role in his/her last semester. Students are required to participate in supporting and striking all productions.

ART (ART)

- 151. Exhibition Attendance. Cr. 0.
Attendance at artist's talks, receptions, and exhibitions as specified by the Art Program.
- 201. Two Dimensional Design. Cr. 3.
Experimentation with the elements and principles of art in two dimensions; exercises in making intelligent and sensitive visual choices which help the student develop increasing sensibility, independent expression, and technical skill.
- 202. Three Dimensional Design. Cr. 3.
Experimentation with elements and principles of design in three dimensional form; a study in spatial concepts.
- 203. Drawing. Cr. 3.
An introduction to drawing with emphasis on line and form. Development of hand-eye coordination and observation emphasized. Based on the philosophy that previous drawing experience is not essential to success in the course.
- 207. Ceramics. Cr. 3.
Beginning handbuilding and glazing techniques. Development of personal approach for working the material emphasized.
- 210. Art Appreciation. Cr. 3.
A survey of various art theories and approaches to a wide variety of art forms. Previous training in art not required.
- 212. Elementary School Art. Cr. 3.
An investigation into the historical, philosophical, and aesthetic influences in art education in the public schools. Practical studio experiences in a variety of art materials.
Students must be admitted to the Teacher Certification Program, or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 213. Photography. Cr. 3.
Principles of the photographic process taught through theory and practical application. Darkroom processing, composition, and lighting techniques. Student must provide his or her own camera capable of making a black and white negative.
- 214. Printmaking. Cr. 3.
The principles and techniques of basic print process; monoprints, silk-screen, craftsmanship and expressive content emphasized.
203 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 241. Graphic Design. Cr. 3.
An introduction to commercial art and to the commercial printing medium.
- 250. Painting. Cr. 3.
Beginning painting with emphasis on basic principles of oil painting; color theory, composition, and techniques.
203 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 281, 381. Individual Study. Cr. 1- 3.
The course may involve a systematic reading program, library research, laboratory project, studio work, field study, or creative expression. Conferences or tutoring as required, but no formal lectures or recitations. Quizzes, tests, and examinations as may be appropriate. May be repeated for credit.
281 open only to sophomores; 381 open to juniors and seniors.

- 301. Watercolor Painting. Cr. 3.
Exploration of various water media techniques with emphasis on building personal attitude in the student's work. Projects will include object, landscape, figurative, and improvisational painting.
203 prerequisite.
- 302. Figure Drawing. Cr. 3.
Life drawing with emphasis on learning gesture and the structural anatomy of the figure.
203 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 303. History of Art. Cr. 3.
An historical survey of the visual arts from prehistoric times through the medieval, Gothic, Renaissance, and Baroque periods. Emphasis is on European art, but many cultures are included.
- 304. History of Art. Cr. 3.
A survey of major art movements and styles from Romanticism, Realism and Impressionism, through the twentieth century.
- 307. Intermediate Ceramics. Cr. 3.
Working knowledge of sculptural elements of ceramics. Emphasis on integrating three dimensional sculptural elements with the student's expressive vision.
207 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 313. Intermediate Photography. Cr. 3.
Photo work sessions on location, theory of color printing, black and white printing and enlarging, exhibition and salon finishing. Student must provide his or her own camera capable of making a black and white negative.
213 or permission of the department prerequisite.
- 314. Intermediate Printmaking. Cr. 3.
Experimentation with advanced techniques and printing processes; etching.
- 321. Secondary School Art. Cr. 3.
Approaches, theories, and methods of teaching art in the secondary school.
Admission to the Teacher Certification Program or permission of the instructor prerequisite.
- 330. Special Topics in Art. Cr. 3.
An introductory course to specific areas of the art world. The topics will range from specific media, historical styles, to contemporary issues. Rotating topics will include such areas as welding, art of the Italian Renaissance, and conceptual art. May be repeated for credit with each change in title. The Schedule of Classes will list the specific title for the semester.
- 350. Intermediate Painting. Cr. 3.
Exploration of advanced techniques in oil painting and various painting mediums.
250 or permission of department prerequisite.
- 371, 372. Seminar in Art. Cr. 1-3.
The seminar will focus on a topic appropriate to the participants. May be repeated for credit with each change of title.
- 391. Student Mentor—Art. Cr. 1.
Satisfactory evaluation in Student Mentor 291 for two semesters and attendance at a total of three training sessions (assisting with one), prerequisite.
May be taken two semesters for credit on a graded basis.
This course may not be used to fulfill major or minor requirements.

401, 402. Advanced Studio.Cr. 3.

This class is designed for the students to incorporate the vast amounts of accumulated knowledge of art techniques and ideologies prior to their senior year into the creation of their own art. Special problems are assigned and art is created in response. The semester culminates in having a body of work geared toward exhibition, graduate schools, and/or professional careers.

12 hours of art and senior standing or permission of department prerequisite.

404. Art in Religion.Cr. 3.

Art and its place in the Judeo-Christian culture. Biblical sources and influence emphasized. Previous training in art not required.

481. Internship in Art.Cr. 1-3.

A field experience designed to provide a learning experience under the supervision of both a professional in the field and a member of the faculty. The internship offers students the opportunity to augment classroom learning and to enhance intellectual development through the application of knowledge. Types and locations of internships are available through the department.

Graded on a pass/no credit basis only. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of elective credit.

Junior or senior standing, at least a 2.5 GPA in the major, completion of the internship application and permission of the department prerequisite.

491. Honors in Art.Cr. 3.

Individualized project designed to meet the particular needs of the student in relation to a particular major. May be repeated for credit.

Scholastic excellence, completed application, permission of the program coordinator, the department chair and the Honors Committee prerequisite.

499. Senior Capstone in Art: Art Series and Exhibition.Cr. 3.

This class will consist of the execution and exhibition of a series of artworks, related through theme and format, implemented in the student's medium of concentration. The exhibition will be accompanied by a written artist's statement and an oral presentation. Exempt from the 42 hour limit in the discipline.

Senior standing prerequisite.

MUSIC THEORY, LITERATURE, AND COMPOSITION (MUS)105-106. Music Fundamentals.*Cr. 2, 2.

Elements of basic music notation; major and minor scales and key signatures, elementary ear training. Open to all students. Credit not applicable toward the music major or minor.

107-108. Theory and Harmony.Cr. 2, 2.

Study of music notation, intervals, scales, key signatures, and other basic music materials, in addition to study of music through melodic, harmonic, and elementary formal analysis, elementary composition, and four-part writing.

105, 106 or equivalent or permission of the department prerequisite.

109-110. Sight Singing and Ear Training.Cr. 2, 2.

Exercises in singing, hearing, and writing scales, intervals, melodies, harmonic progressions and rhythm.

105, 106 or equivalent or permission of the department prerequisite.

200. Theory Proficiency.Cr. 0.

A comprehensive examination of theory, sight singing, and ear training skills. All music majors are required to pass this proficiency prior to graduation. Given upon completion of Music 202.

202 prerequisite.

- 201-202. Theory and Harmony. Cr. 2, 2.
Modulation, chromatic chords, twentieth century techniques. Emphasis on part-writing, analysis, and elementary composition.
107, 108 prerequisite.
- 205-206. Sight Singing and Ear Training. Cr. 2, 2.
Continuation of Music 110, including modulation, melodic and harmonic dictation to include all chromatic chords.
109, 110 prerequisite.
- 207, 208. Keyboard Harmony. Cr. 2.

Studio Instruction (Course designation is determined by instrument)

Studio instruction in one or more applied music areas is part of all music curricula and is given credit per semester hour on the following basis: one semester hour—one-half hour studio instruction or one hour class instruction per week; two semester hours—one hour studio instruction per week. A student majoring in music taking studio instruction in his/her primary performance area must also be enrolled in 149 in the primary performance area each semester as well.

Students majoring in music who need additional preparation before enrolling in Applied Music 111 or 121 for credit should take 111 or 121 for noncredit, perform before a faculty jury, and be approved for subsequent enrollment in 111 or 121 for credit.

Non-music majors are encouraged to begin or further their music backgrounds by enrolling for studio or class instruction in any instrument or voice. These lessons may be taken for credit or noncredit. The instructor will advise each individual to take the appropriate length of lesson. A student with extensive background may need an hour lesson weekly, but a student with less background may be advised to take a half-hour lesson weekly. Please see the following appropriate course numbers.

Students enrolled in studio instruction in applied music for credit must perform before a faculty jury at the end of each semester.

Although the course numbers are the same for all students, course requirements will vary for non-music majors, applied music majors, and other music major students.

111, 112 1 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

211, 212 1 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

311, 312 1 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

411, 412 1 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

121, 122 2 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

221, 222 2 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

321, 322 2 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

421, 422 2 hour credit each semester (may be taken for noncredit)

Permission of the chair of the department is required for enrollment in any studio instruction course.

INTERDISCIPLINARY PROGRAMS

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

The interdisciplinary studies seek to integrate various academic disciplines and provide a coherent approach to knowledge and learning. They are structured so that individuals see and appreciate relationships and connections among issues.

American Studies is the oldest and most-established of all interdisciplinary programs and continues to be a crucial forum for engaging the increasingly complex entity we call America. With a foundation in cultural studies, literature, and history, the American Studies major demands both depth and breadth as students understand and explore the many aspects of American culture from economics to music. American Studies provides students with the analytical tools and interpretive strategies to negotiate a world that is increasingly "American" and "global" and to bring critical skills to bear upon aspects of the American phenomenon.

The interdisciplinary majors in the area of public and international affairs embraces the arts, the humanities, the social sciences, and more. Each major is dedicated to the proposition that civic life is enhanced by studies that cross traditional subject boundaries and international borders. Responding to the increasing integration of global transport, communications, politics, economics and culture, the European Studies major is designed to show the student the network of intellectual connections among disciplines relevant to European studies. In this major the courses that are required generally explore connections among nations rather than within one nation, and tend to exclude studies of domestic issues in the United States. A major in International Studies is designed to provide the student with a basic understanding of the historical background of the contemporary international system, the economic and political forces which affect the relations of nations and other international factors. The major requires some courses in non-western history and selections from the global cluster. The Public Affairs Tri-Subject major is designed to provide a foundation for responsible participation in American and global public affairs and to illustrate the network of intellectual connections among disciplines relevant to public life. The major is composed of three central disciplines one of which must be Political Science.

The Women's Studies minor is an interdisciplinary, cross-cultural program of study about women and men in society with both historic and contemporary contexts and from multiracial and multicultural perspectives. The courses challenge students to question traditional knowledge about women and men and to examine differences among women.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

AMERICAN STUDIES (AMST)

499. Senior Capstone in American Studies Cr. 3.
 A comprehensive senior project in the area of American Studies. The project is intended to demonstrate an ability to conduct independent research and present the results in writing and a presentation of commendable quality. The project must be interdisciplinary and directed by a faculty member in the Department of History, Modern Languages, and Religious Studies. Senior standing prerequisite.

CONVOCATION ATTENDANCE (CONV)

002. Convocation Attendance Cr. 0.5.
 Students whose documented attendance, through the methods provided by the Office of Academic Affairs, at three or more of the published convocations will have a one-half hour of credit indicated on the transcript for the corresponding semester.

LIBERAL ARTS SYMPOSIA (LASM)

101, 102. Liberal Arts Symposia: Values, Inquiry, and Meaning. Cr. 3.
201, 202.
 The Liberal Arts Symposia introduce students to the liberal arts through the Bible and its influence in culture. The Symposia will trace various themes across cultures, historical periods, texts, and disciplines. Students will read texts drawn from the Bible, literature, philosophy, psychology, history, economics, and the sciences. In addition students will examine art, music, dance, film, drama and other expressions that help to illuminate the particular theme for that semester. Examples of themes include the following: knowledge, justice, origins, good and evil, nature and human nature, innocence and experience, and God and history.

LIBRARY RESEARCH METHODS (LIBR)

111. Library Research Methods. Cr. 3.
 This course will teach the student the basic knowledge necessary for success in performing library research. The course will emphasize development of critical thinking skills and their application to research in the library, as well as enhancing lifelong learning, through the use of traditional print resources, the Internet and other developing electronic information sources. Students who successfully complete the course should have a foundation in library research which will assist them in meeting other course requirements during the college years.

NATURAL SCIENCE (NSC)

103-104. Natural Science: An Interdisciplinary Approach

Cl. 3; Lb. 3; Cr. 4

This course will examine a variety of scientific issues both in lecture and laboratory with the goal of introducing students to important scientific principles, the manner in which science is conducted, and the historical development of scientific thought. Strong emphasis will be placed on the application of the scientific method, data collection and interpretation, and communication of scientific knowledge to others. Laboratories throughout will focus on the collection, analysis, and interpretation of data in both qualitative and quantitative systems.

RHETORIC (RHET)

101. Rhetoric Seminar.

Cr. 3.

The seminar focuses on reading, writing, and speaking, and includes critically interacting with a range of texts. In reading critically, students learn how to glean information as well as to discern assumptions, biases, and ideologies. The writing component of the seminar encourages students to respond critically to texts and includes instruction in building logical arguments and in the mechanics and style of effective writing for a spectrum of audiences. The speech component focuses on effective exposition and argument. The Rhetoric Seminar particularly lends itself to the exploration and effective use of research techniques and resources.

STUDENT MENTOR (MENT)

291. Student Mentor.

Cr. 1.

The student mentor provides academic help for any student having intermittent or continuing difficulty in course work. It requires attending two training sessions and involvement in scheduled mentoring activities. Students must be proficient in the subject in which they mentor and must be recommended by a professor in the subject area. May be taken two semesters only for credit on a pass/no credit basis.

WOMEN'S STUDIES (WST)

201. Critical Perspectives in Women's Studies.

Cr. 3.

This course introduces students to feminist scholarship and acquaints them with the intellectual, social, ethical, political, historical, and cultural forces constructing gender. This class is interdisciplinary and grounded in feminist pedagogy.

THE HORIZONS PROGRAM

The Huntingdon Horizons program, established in 1997, is responsible for the delivery of academic services and experiences to the adult learner in day classes and embodies Huntingdon's commitment to the ideal of "lifelong learning." Huntingdon has long been known for providing a superior liberal arts education and offers the Horizons student the advantages of our long-standing reputation, small classes, personal attention, respected faculty, and beautiful campus. A first year Horizons student automatically participates in the Huntingdon Plan or a transfer student can buy into the plan. The Huntingdon Plan includes a computer which the student keeps upon graduation, international travel opportunities, hands-on learning opportunities through internships and cooperative arrangements, and a unique, innovative core curriculum. Huntingdon recognizes that there is a difference between "taking classes" and "getting an education;" therefore, the academic atmosphere fosters inquiry and discussion about enduring and current topics, mastery of technological innovations, and experiential learning through travel and internship opportunities.

The programs of study, available through the Horizons Program, will lead to a bachelor of arts degree in all the majors and concentrations of the College.

THE HUNTINGDON INSTITUTE FOR LIFE-LONG LEARNING

"Learning is its Own Reward"

The Institute for Life-Long Learning is a program designed to offer noncredit, personal enrichment programs to the adult community at large. Incorporating all facets of noncredit education at the College, the Institute for Life-Long Learning also provides special courses open exclusively to its members. Each of these courses is designed to foster growth in the understanding and appreciation of the liberal arts and sciences as lifelong and enduring values. Space permitting, members of the Life-Long-Learning Institute may enroll as noncredit students in regularly scheduled courses offered by the College.

Structured seminars on topics of interest generated by the participants lie at the heart of the Institute for Life-Long Learning. A specific seminar can be offered to modules of 10-20 students who wish to study and grow together. Topics for seminars will be generated by a board of three academic advisors elected from the Institute in conjunction with the Dean of the College. The members of the Institute will function as a self-governing and self-regulating academic body responsible for charting the direction and development of the Institute. There will be an annual meeting of all members of the Institute to establish bylaws and academic regulations governing it.

Each member will be charged a $250.00 nonrefundable fee per semester ($500.00 per year) in annual dues to help defray the instructor's fees and overhead costs to run the program. The dues entitle the member to all the rights and privileges of membership in the Institute. Special events, speakers, and lecturers may also be sponsored as part of the Institute's program.

SCHOOL FOR BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

The School for Business and Professional Studies (SBPS) of Huntingdon College provides an accelerated bachelor's degree program for full or part-time working professionals, and those interested in re-entering the workplace. Through the SBPS program, a college degree can be completed by attending class one night a week. Individual courses are completed in five weeks, and three college-level courses can be completed during one traditional semester. This accelerated format allows students to finish their entire bachelor's degree in the traditional time frame, while continuing their personal and professional responsibilities. For further information please contact the SBPS Office at 334-833-4518 or sbps@huntingdon.edu.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING PROGRAMS

A Huntingdon student may apply a maximum of 12 semester hours in 300 and 400 level courses toward the minimum of 124 hours for a Bachelor of Arts degree. Credit hours in Reserve Officers Training Corp (ROTC) courses are included in the count of hours for a normal course load in a given semester.

Each year the Air Force and the Army offer a variety of scholarship programs to those individuals who have demonstrated outstanding academic scholarship and leadership potential. Scholarships cover tuition, laboratory and incidental fees, and provide an allowance for books. Scholarship cadets also receive a nontaxable allowance each month. Although a student takes the ROTC courses at Alabama State University or Auburn University Montgomery, that student is a full-time student at Huntingdon, and any financial assistance provided by the military services is based on tuition and fees at Huntingdon.

For additional information and detailed program requirements, students should contact the Air Force ROTC Detachment 019, Alabama State University, Room 113, Patterson Hall, (334) 229-4305 or the Department of Military Science, Auburn University Montgomery, Army ROTC Building, (334) 244-3528.

AEROSPACE STUDIES

The basic goal of the Air Force ROTC curriculum is to provide the military knowledge and skills which cadets will need when they become Air Force officers.

Minor in Aerospace Studies: For a minor in Aerospace Studies, the student must complete 24 hours of Aerospace Studies, a term paper on a military subject approved by the Professor of Aerospace Studies, and an approved business management course. The minor requires a total of 27 semester hours.

MILITARY SCIENCE

The Army ROTC curriculum prepares students to become effective leaders and managers in a variety of responsible and challenging commissioned officer fields, thus facilitating early middle management career development and progression.

Minor in Military Science: For a minor in Military Science, the student must complete 24 hours of Military Science.

HUNTINGDON COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Huntingdon College Alumni Association is to perpetuate the friendships formed in college days, to promote the welfare of Huntingdon College and of its alumni, and to foster the causes of education and citizenship generally.

All alumni, meaning persons who have been regular students at least one academic year or have earned thirty hours at the College or its predecessor institutions, whether or not these persons obtained degrees, are members of the Association.

The governing body of the Association is the National Alumni Association Board of Directors. It is comprised of sixty members who work to support the mission of the College by serving three year terms. There are three scheduled Alumni Board meetings during the year, plus a meeting of the entire Alumni Association during Homecoming weekend. Each Board Member serves on a committee including: Awards Committee, Alumni Giving, Founders Day, Homecoming, Nominating, Student Recruitment, and Student Relations.

Huntingdon alumni are representatives and spokespersons in their communities for Huntingdon College and the Alumni Association. They serve as ambassadors, publicists and advocates of the National Alumni Association and of Huntingdon College.
